AXIS TANK ARMY ENCIRCLED

U. S. WILL PAY ENGLAND'S FISH BILL IN ICELAND

Exports Put Under Lend-Lease.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—A lend-lease agreement with Iceland which Secretary of State Cordell Hull signed today will in effect bail out Great Britain from her financial obligations to the North Atlantic base, it was learned tonight.

Thor Thors.

In signing the agreement Hull merely declared it was similar to others which have been arranged with countries resisting aggression and said that details, which he declined to disclose, will be worked out later.

Yearly Total May Be 20 Million.

Those "details," which already have been agreed upon in principle, provide an interesting chapter in current American-British relations.

The agreement may mean that America will pay up to 20 million dollars annually to Iceland to meet British contractural obligations.

Under the agreement, negotiated with Thor Thors, first Icelandic minister to the United States, whose credentials were accepted today by President Roosevelt, the United States agrees to pay Iceland for her fish and fish oil exports to Britain.

U. S. Cash to Foot Bill.

These products will be shipped directly to the British, with American cash footing the bill as a lend-lease item. The amounts advanced for this purpose will be in addition to 1 billion dollars in lend-lease funds already allocated to Great Britain for commodities, according to Roy S. Henrickson of the Surplus Marketing administration.

In exchange for the fish and fish oil the Icelanders were obligated to buy cereals, coal, machinery, and other goods from the British, but the British no longer are in a position—because, they say, of manufacturing and shipping facilities—to provide these materials.

Therefore the agreements between the British and the Icelanders will be annulled.

Benefit to Britain Shown.

The British benefit by getting their usual imports of Icelandic fish and fish oil and writing the cost on Uncle Sam's cuff. The United States pays dollars to Iceland which, it is hoped, will be used to buy American products.

Last week the administration announced its intention of negotiating a reciprocal trade agreement with Iceland, but this hardly is necessary in view of the secret arrangements already made. Officials said, however that some new "fancy" types of fish might be entered under a trade agreement.

Hjalmar Bjornson, an official of the agriculture department, has been delegated to make final arrangements in Iceland for the new agreement.

U. S. ARMY'S AIR CHIEF TO HELP BRITISH IN CAIRO

LONDON, Nov. 21 (AP).—Maj. Gen. George H. Brett, chief of the United States army air corps, is preparing to leave immediately for Cairo, Egypt, to speed delivery of United States warplanes which he said must bear the brunt of fighting in any prolonged Libyan campaign.

Winding up nearly six weeks of inspections and conferences with the RAF, Brett said large scale middle east air warfare would be a proving ground for American built craft against the German airforce. He predicted "Americanization" of all aircraft in that area.

Giving his impressions of two and a half months' study of war in the air, Brett said "the time of the stratosphere fighters and bombers is at hand" and the United States must aim at producing planes for higher altitudes.

U. S. TAKES OVER OKLAHOMA DAM; STATE MAY BALK

Governor Calls Act 'Dictatorial.'

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 21 [Special].—The federal government today took from the state of Oklahoma control of the 25 million dollar Grand River dam in an unprecedented action which Gov. Leon C. Phillips, a Democrat, termed dictatorial and un-American.

Possession was taken by the Federal Works administration on the order of President Roosevelt "to prevent financial management difficulties of the Grand River Dam authority from interfering with full use of the power" for national defense.

This was the first time the President had exercised the emergency authority provided by the federal water power act of 1935, which permits the government to take such action when the President considers the safety of the nation demands it.

Gov. Phillips charged that the dam was seized "for the political jobs it will afford a bunch of broken down politicians."

"Mockery of Good Government."

"I have nothing but contempt," he said, "for this federal crowd which goes to such lengths for political patronage. It is a mockery of good government—a shocking violation of American principles.

"I never believed that such a thing as this could come to pass in this country. I think there are a lot of good people in our state and country who won't be happy under a dictator. We don't like dictators in Europe, in this country, or anywhere. However, the people of Oklahoma will go on paying taxes and practicing good government despite the Washington squandering for political purposes."

The governor said he doubted the President's authority to seize property under war powers when congress has not declared war, adding: "I may resist this un-American procedure at a later date."

Points to Coal Strikes.

"This federal crowd," Gov. Phillips added, "has seized Oklahoma's property in the name of national defense at a time when coal mines and other defense industries are shut down with strikes. The strikes continue because there is a sad shortage of courage in Washington to build this country's defenses."

The governor charged that the federal government appropriated Oklahoma's assets to offset the tremendous losses of the Tennessee Valley authority, a pet project of the President's, which Phillips termed "an extravagant failure."

The summary action shocked the five member state board of directors of the still-building project, coming as it did just after their board had been reorganized according to federal dictates. The dam authority was left without recourse, being precluded from issuing bonds to finance large outlays that may be needed for additional transmission and distribution lines.

Culmination of Long Battle.

The project, which is the longest multiple-arch dam in the world, was financed by loans and grants thru the Public Works administration to the state-created authority.

Almost since its inception in 1935, it has been beset by legal controversies. Among the difficulties cited by the Federal Works administration was the long argument between federal officials and Gov. Phillips over the flooding of highways. The governor called out state troops to take charge of the property at the height of this controversy in 1940.

Seizure of the project was recommended to President Roosevelt by John N. Edy, acting FWA administrator, with the federal power commission and the war department concurring in the recommendation.

The FWA announcement said the project's power will be used for making aluminum, magnesium, smokeless powder, TNT, and DNT; for airplane assembly lines, and bomb and shell loading plants, as well as for 50 army camps and other defense activities.

Demand Every Congressman Vote on Issues

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 21 (AP).—With the slogan "Army discipline for congress! No tricky pairings! No deserters!" southern California members of the America First committee demanded today that every member of congress be required to vote on important defense legislation.

Mrs. Lillian Pascal Day, legislative chairman of the Lincoln Heights chapter of Los Angeles, released a resolution addressed to Sen. Harry F. Byrd and Rep. Adolph Sabath as chairmen of the rules committees of the two branches of congress.

The resolution stated in part:

"If one of our beardless high school $21 a month draftees goes AWOL [absent without leave], he also goes to jail. If in war he deserts, he is stood up against a wall and shot.

"Draw Salaries for Desertion."

"But our $10,000 a year representatives in Washington may desert their post of duty without voting to decide the most calamitous crisis in the history of our nation, when a single vote may turn the tide to death and ruin for millions—and not even be called to account. They even draw salaries for desertion!

"In the neutrality [repeal] count a scant majority of 18 carried us toward war. Yet 26 of the house membership . . . did not vote. [The letter also said nine senators did not.]

"Our unfaithful public servants should be forced under army penalties to stay on the job and vote! . . .

Point Out They're Exempt.

"Surely our agents in Washington, themselves safely exempt from fighting the wars they make, can stand the strain of a public 'yes' or 'no' when our dear sons and our beloved America face rescue or ruin by the decisions of our last line of defense, the congress. . . ."

Mrs. Day said several clubs and other America First chapters in southern California had formed army-discipline-for-congress committees.

High Fascist Gets Prison Term for Hoarding Food

ROME, Nov. 21.—Giuseppe Montagano, an official of the ministry of corporations and a former member of the Fascist hierarchy, was found guilty today of hoarding foodstuffs, including 80 gallons of olive oil. He was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment and a 5,000 lire fine. The prosecutor called Montagano's deed "a dangerous attempt at the economic resistance of the nation."

MOVIE UNION STUCK FOR $50,000 EXPENSE OF BIOFF'S DEFENSE

New York, Nov. 21 [Special].—The International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employés will pay the costs of the legal defense of George Browne and Willie Bioff, ATASE officers who were convicted of extorting almost $1,000,000 from the film industry, it became known today.

Richard F. Walsh, newly appointed president of the union, said it would be required to meet Browne's and Bioff's lawyers' bill in compliance with a by-law adopted by the AFL convention.

The union's responsibilities will cover the defense up to the two men's conviction, when they resigned as officers, he said. These defense costs were estimated at $50,000 to $75,000. Asked if this by-law had not been rushed thru the June, 1940, convention by Browne while Bioff was serving a sentence in Chicago for pandering and was awaiting trial on income tax evasion charges, Walsh said he did not know.

British Re-enforce African Port Near Dakar, Say Nazis

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—A German radio broadcast heard here today said strong British reënforcements were arriving steadily at Sierra Leone on the west coast of Africa south of the French port of Dakar. Hostage Ducks Police Bullets; Bandit Caught

There were 10 customers at the bar in the tavern at 1126 Wilson avenue at 9 o'clock last night. Leo Harris, behind the counter, was serving drinks. A stranger entered, displayed a pistol by way of introduction, fired once into the wall, and ordered every one into the back room. There he took their money.

Henry Schram.

At that moment Patrolman Walter Widdholm walked past, glanced in the window, and observed that despite the hour there was no one in sight. He entered, gun in hand, just as the holdup man and Harris emerged from the back room.

Grabs Customer as Shield.

The robber and Widdholm saw each other at the same time. Widdholm fired at the gunman, who fled back thru the customers, hastily grabbing Henry Schram, 47 years old, to shield him, and ran out the back door. Widdholm, his progress slowed by the excited patrons, struggled out the door into Clifton street in time to see the bandit and the frightened Schram climb into the robber's car.

Going south in Clifton street was a squad car containing Policemen Erwin Smith and Jerry Cortopassi. They saw the excited crowd and the robber's getaway. They tried to force the bandit's car to the curb, but it bounced off a parked car and got by.

Cortopassi turned around. The two cars raced up Clifton to Broadway, north in Broadway to Leland, swerved into Leland, and sped west in Leland to Dover street, where Smith fired.

Crashes Into Building.

The bandit swerved the machine and continued north in Dover to Sunnyside, Smith and Cortopassi firing. At Sunnyside the car jumped another curb, crashed into a building and halted. Smith and Cortopassi slid to a stop, leaped out and grabbed the driver. Crouched on the back floor, where the gunman had shoved him, was Schram, whose home is at 4424 Sheridan road, tightly clutching his hat and keeping his head down.

The robber gave his name as Leroy Pender, 23 years old. He was taken to the American hospital for treatment of a bullet wound in one finger. Five bullet marks were found in the car, one of them in a tire.

BRITISH REPULSE 3 NAZI EFFORTS TO ESCAPE TRAP

Fight Rages Below Tobruk; Expect to Lift Siege Soon.

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 22 (Saturday) (AP).—The British imperial army has encircled large units of the German motorized forces in the Libyan desert below Tobruk, a general headquarters spokesman announced early today, and its lines are holding fast against repeated counterattacks intended to break the trap.

Three times the Germans, smashing with waning power in an effort to get thru the circle, were reported beaten back.

By last night, the British military spokesman estimated, Nazi Gen. Erwin Rommel had lost half the tanks he had put into action.

130 Tanks Lost Previously.

In two battles Thursday—the forerunners of the encirclement—the Germans lost 130 tanks. Now, it was stated authoritatively, their losses are approximately three times those of the British.

All this was definitely a major collision between the principal forces of the axis and British desert armies. The main battle was joined some 45 miles west of Fort Capuzzo, on the Egyptian-Libyan border, it was stated. The British said dispatches sent from the front as late as yesterday afternoon reported it was going "very well" for the British.

Battle Near Tobruk.

Size of the encircled German force was not disclosed, but the Nazis were believed to have had at least two armored divisions in the Tobruk-Capuzzo area.

They were trapped by a force which struck from Sidi Omar toward the northwest, roaring along the high desert plateau to by-pass the besieged port of Tobruk. (A BBC broadcast said the fighting had swept to within two miles of Tobruk.)

This drive cut the main German armored forces in two. The larger part of the German force was isolated to the north and east of the British column. Its counterattacks were made in an effort to break thru westward to the main supply bases and join the smaller part of the armored force and Italian tank units. But the British column held fast.

Seize Rezegh Airport.

The military spokesman said units of this column had taken the Rezegh airdrome, which is 20 odd miles southeast of Tobruk, and were less than a day's march from the "vast Libyan airdrome of El Adem."

[Since El Adem, 20 miles south of Tobruk, is only about 15 miles from Rezegh, the spokesman apparently was referring to infantry rather than motor forces when he mentioned a day's march.]

Fifty axis pilots and their ground staffs were still on the air field when the British arrived. They were rounded up before they knew what was going on, it was stated.

Bent grimly on utter annihilation of the axis armored weapons, the 8th army of Gen. Sir Alan Gordon Cunningham swept Thursday into action against parts of two German divisions—both in the sands near Rezegh and at a point eastward toward the Egyptian border town of Sidi Omar. In both cases, the British command declared, the Germans fell back, their armored striking power battered and shredded.

Claim 57 Italian Tanks.

Added to the 57 tanks which the Italian Ariete division now is said to have lost in another and preliminary engagement Tuesday and Wednesday, the total of axis tanks specifically reported smashed in three days of fighting has reached 187. In addition, the Germans were said to have lost 33 armored cars yesterday.

[According to the best available information, an axis armored desert division has about 350 tanks. Thus the two German and one Italian divisions on the scene appear to have taken about an 18 per cent loss.]

"The battle in Cirenaica was joined in earnest Thursday afternoon," said yesterday's communique. In brief, this was the story it told:

The hot fight at Rezegh resulted in the loss of 70 German tanks and the 33 armored cars, and the Germans left several hundred pris-

'TITANIC BATTLE' WRACKING LIBYA, ITALIANS ADMIT

ROME, Nov. 21—A titanic battle—"the duration of which is not to be foreseen"—has burst in full fury in the Libyan desert with the British hurling everything in their arsenal by land, air, and sea at axis forces, Fascist war correspondents reported from the North African front tonight.

This account received by Stefani came after dispatches to this official Italian news agency had asserted an Italian armored division had fought the British to a standstill. It stressed that the axis forces were up against opposition superior to anything yet encountered in North Africa. No results of today's fighting were given.

"Turned Tables" on British.

In a recapitulation of operations, Stefani said the British, after intense preparation, began "a march to draw near" the Sidi Omar zone, on the Egyptian-Libyan border south of Sollum, last Tuesday with motorized and armored forces but were held in check by Italian artillery.

On Wednesday afternoon it said the real battle began with the British forces contacting the Fascist Ariete division. The news agency said this operation was aimed at surrounding the Italians but that the latter, by a daring counterattack, surrounded and destroyed part of the British forces and put the rest to flight. A renewal of the British attack yesterday was reported "promptly broken up."

[The British dispatches claimed 57 tanks of the Ariete division had been destroyed.]

The news agency accounts added local detail to Italian and German communiques which reported, in general, that the axis armies were counterattacking with success.

Claim Many Tanks Destroyed.

Rome reported that "Italian and German motorized and armored troops, after having firmly sustained new attacks by the enemy, passed to the counterattack and repelled armored formations, destroying numerous tanks and capturing prisoners." It added there were "violent artillery duels" at Tobruk, holdout British garrison behind the axis lines.

The German communique was even more terse as to land action, saying: "The counterattack by German and Italian troops is continuing. German destroyer and dive bomber planes dispersed British tank and motor vehicle concentrations on the Libyan-Egyptian border."

Bomb British Behind Lines.

Air operations, it added, were carried behind the British lines to Matruh, which was declared bombed heavily.

The Italian communique acknowledged RAF raids on Tripoli and Bengazi, as well as others on Naples, Brindisi, and Messina, in the homeland.

In Ethiopia, the Italians reported increased British pressure on tattered Fascist garrisons making a last stand in the northwestern Gondar zone.

oners in British hands as they withdrew.

Describe Two-Day Battle.

Between this sector and Sidi Omar, another British armored force clashed with German motorized units coming from the coast near Bardia and Gambut. Here the Germans on the first day of the battle, Wednesday, lost 26 tanks and the British lost 20; Thursday morning action again was closed and the Germans fled back toward the northeast after losing 34 more tanks.

Dispatches from the field indicated that this German force consisted originally of at least 100 tanks which tried to drive a wedge between two British armored forces, one of which is composed largely of American tanks. That the American machines in their first test came up to all expectations was attested by the official story of the battle.

The Italians first encountered by British cruiser tanks at Bir El Gobi, south of Rezegh and about 50 miles inside Libya, appeared to have fallen well back.

Report Tightening of Trap.

In the stretch between the coast at Halfaya (Hellfire) pass and Sidi Omar, along the Egyptian border, entrenched axis forces again were being pressed frontally while a British tank column behind the Germans' backs was reported making steady progress northward, drawing the lines of a trap.

Elsewhere on the 140-mile front, last night's announcement said there were deep penetrations by British armored and mechanized forces in a number of directions—every one of them a menace to the main axis communication lines.

The communique gave British bombers particular credit for support of the armored units in the Rezegh battle and reported "great success" in a raid on a German dive bomber base.

The main central force of the British offensive into Libya was driving on last night past Tobruk over the high plateau just to the south, military headquarters announced, and a lethal arm thus apparently was stretching out to envelop all the axis forces between there and the Egyptian frontier.

Juncture with Tobruk Near.

Lesser imperial columns swinging off to the north from the main line of the advance were at the same time reported making or about to make a junction with Tobruk itself, which since April had been under axis siege, to complete a second and local entrapment of the German and Italian troops which so long had kept the garrison at bay.

Still farther to the south, Sir Alan's left, which had sprung initially from the far southern end of the British line around Giarabub, was beating forward thru the desert silences, swinging out in vast loops across the wastelands.

From his right, which had sprung at Halfaya pass not far from the Mediterranean shore, there was little news and in view of the advance approaching 90 miles made at his center beyond Tobruk it was believed that the bulk of the right wing might skirt the Sollum-Halfaya zone and then drive in behind it.

Ahead of the British ground forces, the RAF loosed its bomb loads all the way to the extreme west of Libya. Hit among other axis points were Derna, Bardia, Bengai, and Tripoli.

OIL COMPANIES REJECT MEXICAN PAYMENT OFFER

New York, Nov. 21 [Special].—After a lengthy meeting held here today, the oil companies whose properties in Mexico were seized in March, 1938, announced thru W. S. Farish, president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, that they could not accept the Mexican government's oil settlement proposal which the state department in Washington had approved on Nov. 19.

In two letters to Secretary of State Cordell Hull, the oil companies previously had rejected the proposed settlement, which was first given to them for consideration on Oct. 2.

In these letters, sent Oct. 8 and Nov. 13, Farish said today, the companies explained in detail why they could not accept the proposal. The action today, it was explained, was merely a reaffirmation of the position.

5 CONGRESSMEN GO TO SCOTLAND ON WAR JUNKET

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The five Republican American congressmen who are visiting Britain, left for Scotland tonight after a day touring war damaged areas of the city and suburbs under the guidance of Sir Edward Evans, London civil defense commissioner. They saw a movie of the London fire blitz and a demonstration by firefighters.

The congressmen said they were "astonished" at the damage and Rep. Melvin Mass [Minn.] was quoted as saying that he "hadn't the slightest idea that London had been thru what I have seen today."

In Scotland the congressmen will tour shipyards and arms factories and inspect units of the Polish army before returning to London Sunday night.

PANAMA DENIES JAPS MADE 2D TRADE PROTEST

PANAMA CITY, Panama, Nov. 21.—The report yesterday from Tokio concerning a strong note of protest to the government of Panama demanding indemnity for Japanese merchants whose shops have been closed may have been made for home consumption, it was reported today. The foreign office here announced that it has not received a second note of protest from Japan.

A foreign office communique says that only one communication has been received in which the Japanese government insisted on demands that were made earlier concerning the application to Japanese subjects of the law nationalizing certain businesses. This evidently refers to the protest the government of Panama refused to consider because of the violence of its language, as the communique adds, "the latest communication is not a note of protest nor is it couched in terms offensive to the government of Panama but, on the contrary, is a respectful and courteous message."

King George of Greece Postpones Visit to U. S.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—The state department announced today King George of Greece had postponed his proposed visit to the United States. No new date for the king's visit has been set, but the announcement said details would be announced later. The king originally planned to visit this country in December.

57 ITALIAN TANKS ARE BRUSHED BY U. S. MACHINES

Writer Says American 'Tools' Aid Libya War.

BY EDWARD KENNEDY.

WITH THE 8TH BRITISH ARMY IN LIBYA, Nov. 20 [Delayed]—(AP)—Speedy American and British tanks manned by imperial gunners crushed 57 Italian tanks of the Ariete division Tuesday and Wednesday at Bir El Gobi, 50 miles inside Libya, while a major battle with German motorized units was getting under way northwest of there.

The collision with the Italian units was the first big test of American equipment, but it still was impossible to determine exactly how the United States tanks stood up in the fight. American observers were accompanying the British drive.

Tomahawk Planes Prove Effective.

A 45 to 5 aerial score was chalked up in favor of American and British planes fighting over the barren Libyan stretches up to last midnight. The swift Curtiss planes, renamed Tomahawks by the British, especially were effective, it was said.

The Germans were reported having difficulty in sending reënforcements to Libya from Crete and southern Italy because of torrential rains which washed out landing fields, and also because of steady British bombings.

The thunder of the conflict can be heard from this desert post where I am writing this dispatch. Black columns of smoke shoot up on the horizon where the British artillery is putting down a heavy barrage.

British aerial supremacy is manifest here, but Nazi pursuit planes also have appeared in the last hour in hurried ground strafing operations.

British Air Supremacy Seen.

Long lines of American and British bombers roar overhead nursed by fighter escorts. They have been pounding the axis forces in the path of the British ground troops.

Here, apparently, is the air supremacy which the British have so long desired and never had. It is the Greek campaign in reverse this time.

I visited Air Vice Marshal Arthur Coningham in his mobile desert headquarters and found the Australian well satisfied with the results thus far. One of his big problems is moving his ground establishments and equipment ahead fast enough to keep up with the land forces.

Tons of bombs have been dumped on Derna, Bardia, Sollum, and all axis held points east of Tobruk since the offensive began Tuesday morning, and the RAF also is reported to have ranged far to the west on the Libyan "hump" to attack Bengazi and the road leading to El Agheila, where axis reënforcements are on the move.

Many Nationalities in Fight.

British, South African, New Zealand, Australian, and "Free French" pilots participated in these attacks.

A famous Scottish regiment was given the job of tackling the firmly entrenched Nazis in the Sollum and "Hellfire pass" area on the coast at the junction of the Libyan-Egyptian borders.

British and Indian troops were reported drawing a noose around an Italian infantry concentration near Sidi Omar, 25 miles to the south. It was below Sidi Omar that the central British spearhead broke thru en route to Tobruk.

Normal weather now has returned to the desert with temperatures exceeding 80 degrees at midday, and below 40 during the night.

Michigan Trusty Strolls Away from Reformatory

Ionia, Mich., Nov. 21 [Special].—Carl Kirk, 20 years old, escaped from Michigan reformatory today by walking away from the prison dairy barn, where he worked as a trusty. Kirk, who was serving a one to five year sentence from Pontiac for auto threft, was paroled last March but was returned in July for parole violation.

RETIRED FEDERAL JUDGE J. W. DAVIS QUITS UNDER FIRE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 [Special].—J. Warren Davis, 74 years old, retired federal judge of the 3d Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia, has resigned, and impeachment proceedings against him will be dropped, it was said tonight in informed administration circles. The resignation, said to be on President Roosevelt's desk, will be accepted, it was added.

Judge Davis twice had been tried before federal juries which disagreed and declined to convict him on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice in connection with alleged loans made by William Fox, the former movie magnate. Because of this, Attorney General Francis Biddle announced that the indictments would be nolle prossed, but he asked the house judiciary committee to institute impeachment proceedings against the jurist, who received $12,000 a year salary.

Charges against Judge Davis alleged he had accepted $27,500 in two unsecured loans from William Fox in return for favorable decisions in connection with the Fox bankruptcy litigation. Fox pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve a year and a day in a federal penitentiary and paid a $3,000 fine on a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice and defraud the government.

COURT FREES CHALLENGER OF 3 POLICEMEN

A $100 fine against Andrew Tiedemann, 3124 Southport avenue, was suspended yesterday by Judge Edward Luczak in Town Hall court after Dr. David B. Rotman, head of the Municipal court behavior clinic, reported that there is nothing wrong with Tiedemann that abstinence from liquor won't cure. Tiedemann, a stationary engineer, was arrested in his home Nov. 2 after holding three policemen at bay for half an hour with a rifle while he lectured them on the thesis that a man's home is his castle. Police, who had been called on a report of a disturbance, said he had been drinking.

TIME TO SEND YANKS SMOKES FOR CHRISTMAS

Deposit Boxes Scattered Thruout Chicago.

"Smokes for Yanks!"

They were rolling in yesterday from Chicagoans who responded to the call to make their gifts in time that they may reach the boys of the nation's armed services before Christmas.

There still is time to send your check or your Christmas present to the boys on patrol duty in the Atlantic and on guard at the American bases from Iceland to the Caribbean area. But don't delay. If you're going to give, why not today?

The seven Chicago department stores of Sears, Roebuck & Co. announced yesterday that they are cooperating in the movement, with "Smokes for Yanks!" boxes ready to receive gifts.

Tobacco Firm Makes Gift.

Members of the "Wings of Destiny" radio cast and their sponsor, the Brown & Williamson Tobacco corporation, contributed one of the largest gifts of the campaign yesterday, Wings cigarets enough to make many a lonely soldier and sailor happy at Christmas time.

Illinois Central post, American Legion, made a cash gift, and Commander Sam E. Naffer promised cooperation of the members in collecting cigarets.

A boy 19 years old, the son of an AEF veteran who died recently from the effects of a gas attack in France, pledged a carton of cigarets and said that he would enlist his friends in the movement because he knew so well the pleasure that gifts of cigarets had brought to his father.

Ald. Bernard J. O'Halloran [18th] asked for a "Smokes for Yanks!" box to place in his office at 1533 West 79th street so his visitors may have an opportunity to share in the giving.

Merchants thruout the Chicago metropolitan district telephoned requests for the "Smokes for Yanks!" boxes with their red, white, and blue posters. Bowling alley proprietors, informed by bowlers that they wish to celebrate victories with "Smokes for Yanks!" contributions, installed receiving stations.

Many Gifts in Cash.

Many of the cash gifts received were $1—in the spirit of the campaign, for it is hoped that the gifts will come from every Chicagoan. Many givers are dropping a package of cigarets, tobacco, or cigars in the boxes each time they buy one for themselves. Others have taken up the slogan—"A package a week."

The smallest gift is as welcome as the largest, and every one of them will make a faraway soldier or sailor happy at Christmas time.

Checks should be sent to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., Tribune Tower, Chicago. Cash or gifts of cigarets, cigars, and tobacco may be brought to The Tribune public service bureaus in Tribune Tower or in the loop at 1 South Dearborn street. Packages of cigarets and tobacco may be dropped into the hundreds of collection boxes to be found everywhere in Chicagoland.

"Smokes for Yanks!"

DOUBT CONFESSION BY LABORER THAT HE WRECKED TRAIN

Susanville, Cal., Nov. 21 (AP).—A railroad section hand's purported assertion that he wrecked the streamline train City of San Francisco more than two years ago left Sheriff Olin S. Johnson dubious tonight that a solution was near in the derailment which killed 24 persons and injured 108 others.

Scene of action in train wreck and subsequent arrest.

Sheriff Johnson said C. Alexander, 24, told him he wrecked the Southern Pacific passenger with robbery in mind, but fled in fright at hearing the screams of the injured and dying.

"He still sticks to his story after 18 hours of questioning, but I'm beginning to have my doubts," the sheriff said.

Alexander was arrested last night on charges of being drunk and disorderly. He was being questioned in routine fashion about his previous activities when, the sheriff said, he told a story of wrecking the train.

The $2,000,000 City of San Francisco was derailed on a westbound trip near Harney, Nev., Aug. 12, 1939. Railroad and official boards of inquiry held later that a deliberate plot, in which a segment of rail was disconnected from the track, caused the wreck.

HALT WAR DRIVE IN UNPREPARED NATION: MUNDT

Congressman Karl E. Mundt [R., S. D.] addressed an audience last evening in Kimball hall, declaring that the time has come for agitators to stop rocking the boat in this country and to stop trying to promote an AEF headed for foreign battle fields.

"The President," Mundt continued, "now has obtained from congress every decision he has demanded and every dollar he has asked for. The President and the country now should follow a short of war program.

"It is time for propaganda groups to quit trying to stampede the President and the congress into a war we are not prepared to fight."

NEW ARMS ORDER LIST GIVES CITY COLD SHOULDER

Ten Other Districts Get Twice as Much.

BY HAL FOUST.

The Chicago metropolitan area continues to lag far behind other industrial districts in the award of contracts for armament production. Figures made public in Washington yesterday, covering the period from June, 1940, to Oct. 1, 1941, reported 10 other manufacturing areas as having from twice to nearly 17 times as much munitions business per industrial worker as Chicago received.

Chicago's Motto.

The adverse news spurred a campaign by THE TRIBUNE to get more contracts and new industries from the defense and lend-lease program to ease "priority unemployment" that is a threat against 70,000 workers and 3,500 small plants in the six county industrial area here.

Chicago Listed at Bottom.

From the report released by the Office of Production Management, the table below was prepared. The cities listed identify industrial districts as outlined by the United States department of commerce. The "total contracts" column shows thousands of dollars [three ciphers omitted]. The "per worker" column was calculated from the latest authentic census of industrial wage earners [1939]. The "per cent" column indicates the advantage over Chicago of the various industrial districts in the volume of their armament contracts per industrial wage earner.

Area—	*Total contracts.	Per worker.	% comparison.
Seattle	715,462	19,413	1,693
Los Angeles	1,403,313	11,103	968
Baltimore	627,048	5,980	517
Buffalo	540,208	5,696	497
San Francisco	410,035	5,389	468
Indianapolis	163,999	4,223	368
Detroit	945,052	3,158	275
St. Louis	392,153	3,092	270
Boston	784,416	3,050	266
Cleveland	328,198	2,333	204
Philadelphia	611,944	1,902	166
Milwaukee	137,716	1,390	122
Chicago	544,401	1,146	100

*Total contracts in thousands of dollars.]

Chicago, according to its industrial leaders, is capable of handling a larger portion of the administration's multi-billion dollar munitions business, which has only begun. As a potential national armament center, its advantages include its inland location, its world's greatest network of railroads, highways, and waterways, its accessibility to raw materials and to fuel, and its largest reservoir of skilled labor in America with an envied record of employer-employe relations.

Fear Small Plant Closings.

Chicago, according to these same industrial leaders, must fight for more war contracts and new war industries to halt a migration of its resident artisans, to keep its numerous and varied small plants from closing their doors, and to equip the city for competition with other cities during a world economic slump that is expected to succeed the war.

"At present," said Whipple Jacobs, president of the Belden Manufacturing company and a member of Mayor Kelly's committee on defense production, "there is not sufficient armament business in Chicago to absorb its available production facilities. This volume must be increased.

"The present policy of the OPM is creating the very shortages which the office is attempting to eliminate. In a struggle for self-preservation, users of material are accumulating as much as possible because of the constant changing of priority orders and the continual propaganda of increasing shortages.

Asks Honest Statement.

"A free market would create both increased supply and decreased demand without the pressure and confusion of rules, regulations, and complicated reports. The government must trust private industry and at regular intervals give it a simple and honest statement of the exact status of 'scarce' materials."

RUBBER STAMPS REPEAT STORY OF ARMS BOOM

There's a minor boom in rubber stamps these days as a result of the preparedness program.

Officials of Horder's, Inc., reported hundreds of orders have come from contractors who want stamps reading "Due to increased cost of materials we are obliged to make slight advances . . ." or "We conditionally accept your order subject to government regulations . . ." and many other types. Most of the stamps are made on special order, officials explained, but some are produced in quantity.

An ironic touch is that the rubber for the stamps is rationed. So far, say the Horder representatives, there has been enough to fill demands but there's no telling how long the present supply will last.

France to Grant 15 Year Monopoly on News Reels

VICHY, France, Nov. 21.—Authorization for the government to grant a 15 year monopoly on news reels for France and countries under French sovereignty was decreed today. The monopoly will exclude American and other foreign and French film companies from competing with the company which receives the concession.

2 Bombs Hurled at German Library in Paris, Berlin Says

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—Two young men threw two bombs today at the German library on Boulevard St. Michael in the "Left Bank" quarter of Paris, the German raidio said. French policemen fired at the men, the report said.

MORE ARMAMENT ORDERS AWARDED TO CHICAGO FIRMS

United Specialties company, Chicago, has been awarded a contract for manufacture of $291,133 of hose clamps for military use, the war department announced yesterday. Other Chicago companies receiving orders included:

Roseman Tractor Mower company, Evanston, lawn mowers, $949,300; Witsil Manufacturing company, hose clamps, $75,801; American Automatic Electric Sales company, telephones, $94,300, and central office equipment, $89,308; Teletype corporation (for manufacture at Detroit), teletype sets, $19,632, and Zenith Radio corporation, frequency meter sets, $85,984.

Other companies in Illinois receiving war department contracts included:

Belleville Shoe Manufacturing company, 20,000 pairs of leather soled service shoes, $75,800; Elgin National Watch company, navigation watches, $146,169; Lyon Metal Products, Inc., Aurora, furnishing and installing steel shelving at Fairfax Aircraft Assembly plant, Kansas City, $65,899; Woodward Governor company, Rockford, turbine governors, $61,935; Liech Electric company, Genoa, switchboards, $68,895.

The war department awarded contracts totaling $11,338,800 for serge cloth and flannel shirting for troops.

Willys-Overland Motors announced it had received an order from Canada for 2,000 light reconnaissance cars, known as "jeeps," to cost $2,260,965.

The American government ordered 20 steam locomotives from American Locomotive company under the lend-lease program. The engines will be used on the Yunnan-Burma railway and are to be delivered in 1942. The government also placed with the same company an order for 10 steam locomotives to be delivered to an unannounced destination.

THOUSANDS JAM STORES IN FIRST CHRISTMAS RUSH

Shopping Season Gets Off to a Flying Start.

Chicago's shopping centers were crowded yesterday by persons participating in the annual opening of the Christmas gift-buying season.

Marked by the arrival of Santa Claus at Chicago airport, the season was ushered in amid a hubbub of voices, children's shrill excitement, and the festive air of the best holiday of the year.

A children's chorus greeted Santa as he stepped from an American Airlines flagship. Leverett S. Lyon of the Association of Commerce, Pirie Carson of the Cook County Retail council, and Hughston McBain of the State Street council accompanied him to the loop. There and in other business districts Christmas toylands lured thousands of children on school holiday yesterday.

Million Persons in Loop.

More than one million persons were in the loop. The normal pedestrian traffic of 800,000 persons was augmented by approximately 200,000 shoppers, according to an Association of Commerce estimate.

Merchants predicted that retail buying in the next five weeks will be the heaviest for the Christmas season since the late 1920's.

Department store executives asserted that Christmas buying this year may run about 10 per cent ahead of 1940 volume, which was the best since 1928. Merchandise executives already had anticipated the heavy trade by early buying of goods. Counters and storerooms are laden with merchandise, much of which may not be obtainable next year because of the arms program.

Transit Systems Taxed.

The throngs which descended on the business districts jammed the transit systems. Motor coach company officials said they had added extra buses, and additional service was provided also by the street car and elevated lines.

Automobile traffic, of which a large portion came from nearby towns and suburbs, congested business streets.

Statistically minded store managers observed that the weekly department store sales report of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago indicated that Chicago store trade in the first two weeks of November was 7 per cent ahead of that in the corresponding 1940 period. And last year's season was the best since 1929.

Three Factors Back of Buying.

Higher retail sales this Christmas season were predicted on the basis of the following factors:

1. The tendency of consumer buying to expand with larger purchasing power.

2. The apprehension of scarcity and rising prices, which has induced the conversion of cash into tangible goods.

3. The presence in army camps of thousands of young men who will receive gifts.

Chicago store sales in the week ended Nov. 15, according to the federal reserve bank report, were 10 per cent larger than in the preceding week and 3 per cent ahead of those in the 1940 week. For the seventh federal reserve district, of which Chicago is the economic heart, sales rose 8 per cent from the preceding week and 9 per cent from the 1940 week. Nationally sales rose 14 per cent above the preceding week.

BIDS RECEIVED ON LAST MAJOR SUBWAY ITEM

Bids were received yesterday by Philip Harrington, subway commissioner, for signal and switching equipment, the last major item to be ordered for the four and one-half mile State street subway. Harrington said that unless unforeseen difficulties in getting equipment now on order develop, the State street subway should be ready for operation with the present elevated cars by next fall.

The low bidder yesterday was the Union Switch and Signal company of Swissvale, Pa., with a price of $912,110. The only other bid, $989,570, was made by the General Railway Signal company of Chicago.

Harrington said steel rails recently ordered for the State street tunnel are being delivered. Station turnstiles have not been ordered. The completion date for the four and one-quarter mile Dearborn street subway is up in the air because of a delay in starting the section under Congress street between Dearborn street and the river.

U. S. APOLOGIZES FOR TIME'S SLUR ON CHILE'S CHIEF

Envoy Calls Attack on the President 'Malicious.'

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 21 (AP).—United States Ambassador Claude Bowers expressed the regret of his government today over an article in the Nov. 17 Latin American issue of Time magazine referring to circumstances under which President Pedro Aguirre Cerda retired temporarily from office early this month to recover from ill health.

Ambassador Bowers.

In a statement after his message to Chile's minister of foreign relations, Bowers declared that "I repudiated in the name of every decent American the malicious attack made on the sick president of a friendly republic."

Suffers Lung Ailment.

The newspaper El Mercurio said in an editorial that "the people of Chile without exception" join in the regrets expressed by the United States ambassador because "the person of leaders of foreign nations with which cordial relations are maintained is sacred."

Circles close to the president said he was suffering from a lung ailment and planned to go to his house in the suburbs of Santiago to recuperate as soon as he was able to leave his bed at the presidential palace.

MAGAZINE MAY EXPLAIN.

In New York, editors of Time said they might make a statement later in regard to the article.

The United States edition of the magazine said, in part, that Aguirre Cerda had spent "more and more time with the red wine he cultivates. Fortnight ago he was reported ill. This week his journalistic enemy, El Imparcial, called for a medical bulletin to allay 'public anxiety.'"

Time added that a "political bulletin" was issued, announcing the Chilean president was in temporary retirement "on account of bronchitis and grippe."

Paid $20,000 to Dall.

Only a short time ago it was revealed that Time paid damages of $20,000 to Curtis B. Dall, former son in law of President Roosevelt, in settlement of a libel suit. The payment was made in the form of a check signed by one of Time's attorneys to a legal representative of Dall.

Dall sued to recover after the magazine printed a fake story to the effect that he had committed suicide in the White House in the presence of his former wife, Anna, who is now Mrs. John Boettiger. This false story caused Dall great embarrassment, he said, and he sued for $250,000.

The suit dragged on for years, but Dall was victorious and settled the case on a compromise amount. The magazine claimed that the false article was published only to direct attention to a real suicide. Dall called the statements about him a "flagrant, un-American violation of the freedom of the press."

ARMY AND NAVY INDORSE LAW TO SMASH STRIKES

President Hesitates on Taking Action.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington. D. C., Nov. 21.—Legislation authorizing the President to seize and operate mines and other facilities in order to break strikes was indorsed by the war and navy departments today as Mr. Roosevelt still hesitated about taking whatever action he is considering to end the increasingly violent shutdowns of captive and commercial coal mines.

Sen. Wall Doxey.

At his press conference the President said there would be no further government action in the coal strike until after John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, meets here tomorrow with the policy committee of the UMW to consider proposals made by the President on Wednesday.

Lewis personally has rejected Mr. Roosevelt's demand that the question of a closed shop for the captive mines owned by the steel companies be submitted to arbitration, or else postponed for consideration after the war in Europe ends.

Demands for Action Grow.

The spreading of the strike of some 53,000 captive miners to approximately 150,000 workers in the commercial mines and the wounding of 10 men in Fayette county, Pennsylvania, brought an increase of demands in congress for drastic action to put an end to all strikes in industries affecting the armament program.

There were indications, however, that much of the sound and fury in congress was inspired by the hope that Lewis could be intimidated by threats and Mr. Roosevelt thus would be spared the necessity of action to restrain his labor union protége and former political ally. A southern congressman expressed the conviction of many of his colleagues when he remarked that Mr. Roosevelt is not afraid to challenge Hitler, across 3,000 miles of water, but is afraid of Lewis here at home.

At a senate judiciary subcommittee hearing on the anti-strike legislation indorsed by the war and navy departments, Sen. Wall Doxey [D., Miss.] propounded a practical question to which he received no answer. Calling attention to the current talk of using federal troops to take over the mines, Sen. Doxey asked how that would solve the production problem.

Can't Run Mines with Soldiers.

"You can't mine coal with soldiers," he said. He wanted to know whether there should be legislation forbidding interference with production, that is, outlawing strikes.

Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson, who was testifying in support of a bill introduced by Sen. Tom Connally [D., Tex.] said he had some views on the questions suggested by Sen. Doxey but had not "digested them."

Both Patterson and Undersecretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal, who indorsed the Connally bill on behalf of the navy, emphasized that they were speaking only for their respective departments. They scrupulously refrained from committing the President or his administration to the legislation.

What Bill Provides.

The Connally bill would empower the President to take over and operate mines, plants, and other facilities in the event of strikes or other labor disturbances interfering with production. A three man Presidential board would be empowered to make wage adjustments, but all other employer-employé relationships would be "frozen" during government operation of the plants, mines, or other facilities.

Connally Assails Agitators.

Sen. Connally, who presided as chairman of the subcommittee, attributed strikes in industries affecting the armament program to "a few selfish labor agitators."

"I think the attitude of most laboring men is that they stand for defense and not defiance," he said. "It seems to me that in this crisis there are a number of fronts: the Italian front, the Russian front, the Nazi front, and the Lewis front."

In the house Rep. Howard W. Smith [D., Va.] announced that "11 men have been shot today on the western front of Pennsylvania." He said he made the announcement to keep the house as well advised on the "battle" in the United States as it is concerning the battles raging in Europe, Africa, and Asia.

100,000th French Laborer on Way to Germany: Berlin

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—The Berlin radio broadcast heard here today said that "the 100,000th French laborer has just left Paris to work in Germany." It added that the departure of the latest group of workers was made an occasion for a ceremony "with speeches describing the possibilities awaiting French workers in Germany."

THE QUESTION.

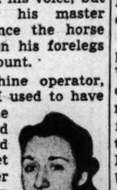
What is the most human thing you have ever seen done by an animal?

WHERE ASKED.

Union station.

THE ANSWERS.

D. J. Daly, policeman, 147 South Kildare avenue—I don't know how he did it, but I knew a horse that could sense immediately when his master was drunk. I don't know if the horse smelled his breath or noticed his stagger or a change in his voice, but whenever his master was under the influence the horse would lower himself on his forelegs so his master could mount.



Carmel Gouin, machine operator, 2500 Flournoy street—I used to have a little kitten that the neighbor kids dressed up in long sleeved gowns and a bonnet with a ribbon under her chin. They'd put her in a doll's bed and she'd lie flat on her back for hours with her head on a pillow and her two paws curled over the edge of the blanket. I know it must've been uncomfortable.

Harry Westerberg, clerk, 1940 Fletcher street—This little pup of mine acted like a spoiled child. He wouldn't settle for anything less than a piece of cake when we'd toss him a bit to catch. If it was a piece of bread he'd spit it out quicker than you'd think he could taste the difference, while the cake would go down whole.

Lester Kaufhold, railroad clerk, 4980 North Major avenue—My curly haired black poodle used to go thru an awful lot just to get a little praise. Just like a human, isn't it? He'd sit up on his haunches for hours with a little cap or his head and a pair of dark sun glasses over his eyes. As long as people took notice of him, he'd keep it up. Afterward he'd go around begging for a pat on the head for his great accomplishment.

Marie Mirabile, machine operator, 2333 Superior street—I knew a dog whose expressions of sympathy were very human. When the family decided to sell the dog the little 6 year old master really put up a fuss. Tears and all. The dog licked the tears from his face, one by one as they came rolling down, and whimpered right along with him. The dog wasn't sold.

Sidney Neisner, clerk, 1415 South Spaulding avenue — The seeing eye dog has done some of the most human things I've ever seen. I followed one once that did an expert jot of maneuvering his blind master thru a crowd. He crossed streets and went up and down curbs without making one blunder.

British Bring Captured French Ship to U. S. Port

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—Capture of the French freighter Ville De Tamatave, 6,275 tons, was revealed today when the ship arrived here under the British flag with 22 passengers after a 22 day trip from England. Officers said British warships seized the vessel off the African coast as she headed for Marseilles with a cargo of beef, coffee, tea, hides, and chocolate.

11 ARE WOUNDED IN GUN BATTLES AT PENNA. MINES

Strike Violence Flares in Fayette County.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 21 (AP).—Blazing guns felled 10 pickets today in a battle between nonstrikers and pickets in the Fayette coal fields, turbulent center of the five day old United Mine Workers' strike against the steel company owned captive mines.

The men, all identified as strike pickets by the CIO United Mine Workers, were wounded in a fresh outburst of shooting at the Edenborn mine of the H. C. Frick company, 18 miles west of Uniontown, where three were wounded yesterday. The Frick company is a subsidiary of United States Steel corporation.

An 11th picket was slightly wounded by gunfire as he drove past the Republic corporation's Clyde mine near Fredericktown, Washington county, across the Monongahela river from the Edenborn mine.

Fayette County Sheriff Charles T. Frock, who had expressed fear the situation was "going to get worse," late in the day appealed to Gov. Arthur H. James for assistance of state police. James earlier had told the police to intercede in the strike disorders only when highways were blocked, unless a written request for aid was made by peace officers in a particular community.

Developments of Day.

Other developments on the strike front included:

1—Carnegie-Illinois docked 10 of its fleet of 11 river boats, which tow coal barges from coal fields to the mills, claiming members of the CIO National Maritime union in sympathy with the CIO miners had refused to man the boats.

2—Sympathy walkouts in commercial mines—which sell coal on the open market—extended to 86 Pennsylvania pits, employing 50,000 and producing upward of 250,000 tons of coal daily.

3—As coal supplies dwindled, Carnegie-Illinois shut down 20 per cent of its 1,482 coke ovens at its Clairton, Pa., by-products plant, which supplies gas and coke to Pittsburgh district mills. This curtailment forced the closing of five additional blast furnaces, making a total of 11 idle and trimming the company's ingot production by 20 per cent. With the flow of by-product gas reduced, the corporation's Irwin works, employing 4,400 on rolling operations, and open hearth furnaces at the Clairton steel works were slated to close by Sunday.

Hundreds of Shots Fired.

Hundreds of shots were fired in the predawn darkness as UMW pickets, enforcing the strike for a union shop in the captive mines, massed along a road leading to the Edenborn mine.

The three pickets, who claimed they were shot by snipers hiding on slag piles and on hillsides along the valley road, were felled as they stood in front of the brightly lighted company store.

John Stepanik, 26, of Coal Center, one of the three, related:

"We were ambushed near the company store and shot down without warning."

One bullet shattered a window in the store and another which company officials said was fired from the road where the pickets were stationed, smashed a window in the company's office near the mine opening.

Newsmen Routed by Fire.

Newsmen and photographers, caught by the intermittent barrages that broke out for more than an hour, took to cover.

As Marben Graham, Associated Press staff man, drove toward the mine he was stopped by an automobile whose driver warned:

"Hell's breaking loose. Well—if your going, douse your lights. They set up a target."

Graham related that he drove on to the picket line where 200 men were huddled about their cars.

"Suddenly," he said, "guns blazed from two of three hills overlooking the road. . . . Bullets whistled above."

All drivers were flagged down by pickets who ordered them to shut off their automobile lights. In the confusion, one driver turned on the lights brighter. Shots rattled from the slag piles and hillsides.

One driver related: "With lights out we headed up a road away from the mine and as we looked out I saw two men in front of the company office building firing with what looked like pistols. Guns also were blazing from the slag pile to the left of us and behind."

CHARGES FIRMS OF $1 YEAR MEN GET FAT ORDERS

Murray, CIO Head, Likens Some of Them to Bioff.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 21.—Federal defense agencies "virtually infested" with dollar a year men acting on the inside to get "fat, juicy, profitable contracts" for their companies and thereby sabotaging the national armament program—this was part of a verbal picture of official Washington painted by Philip Murray today in a speech accepting reëlection as president of the stormy Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Murray declared that some of the acts of one dollar men were as dishonest, reprehensible, and vicious as the extortions that sent the racketeers George Browne and William Bioff to prison. Browne and Bioff, officials of the International Stage Employés' union [AFL], were convicted of extortion against motion picture executives.

Fight on Every Picket Line.

He asserted that labor would fight on "every picket line" against laws intended to freeze wages or limit the right to strike, and appealed to industry to "stop profiteering at the expense of American workers."

The noisy choice of Murray for another term left the forces of John L. Lewis, the former CIO czar, on the defensive. The Lewis delegates, who had opposed Murray early in the week, amid violent scenes, cast their votes for him and made it unanimous.

Another slugging was added early this morning to the series which caused Tracy Doll, the Detroit CIO president, to assail the "reign of terror" at the convention. Ray Thomason, organizer for district 50 of Lewis' United Mine Workers, was beaten outside the Hotel Statler at 3 a. m.

Aside from the presence of seven city policemen, the ensuing quiet was credited to a notice served on A. D. Lewis, John's brother and president of the CIO Construction Workers' union, which has been grabbing members from other unions.

Warning on Union Reported.

R. J. Thomas, president of the auto workers, is reported to have warned "Denny" Lewis that Lewis would be driven from Detroit if more sluggings occurred. He also is said to have told Lewis the construction workers' union would not be permitted to continue operations in Michigan unless the violence ceased. Murray took his first public cognizance of the sluggings in the speech accepting his reëlection.

"A few unfortunate things have transpired," Murray said. "It is regrettable. At this late hour the chair states that these must be stopped. Labor unions were never built upon the premise of thuggery or the use of knuckles. To me the practice is reprehensible."

Loud applause was taken as a rebuke to the sluggers. Murray went on to declare he will not encourage jurisdictional raids within CIO unions, a statement which also was regarded as a slap at the Lewis forces. On the other hand, he promised not to work against Lewis.

"I'm going to kick out any of you who come to me for conversation behind closed doors about how to take advantage of any one," Murray continued. "There will be no conspiracies, no deviltry, no effort of the president to do a single, solitary leader any harm."

Murray emerged during the convention from the Lewis shadow to the status of leader of the CIO in his own right. Altho less colorful than Lewis, he has a strong personality, a flare for oratory, and generalship which he repeatedly demonstrated during the week. He impressed upon CIO delegates that he, too, knows his way into the White House.

Murray was renominated for the presidency by Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers. Thoughtful persons had provided thousands of horns, whistles, and rattles for the occasion. For 34 minutes the hall resounded with the racket of these devices and drum and bagpipe music and chants.

"We are asking the President, today, in recognition of what we have done in this convention, to come just a little closer to labor, to have faith in labor," Murray said in his slow accent, referring to the CIO's indorsement of President Roosevelt's war program. "Our liberties are bound to be jeopardized. The promotion of any kind of war economy might easily lead to programs to destroy labor's rights. Congressmen who try it are nonsensical if not crazy men. Labor is not in any mood to stand for it."

It was learned today that Donald L. Miller, 32 years old, of Detroit, a former publicity agent for the construction workers, has been missing since Oct. 28. Shortly before that he had told federal agents that he received telephone threats against his life. Friends said they saw him in an automobile with another man the day he disappeared.

BURGLARS STEAL PERFUME.

Two large bottles of perfume, a radio, and 150 cartons of cigarets were taken by burglars who broke into a drug store at 1000 West 59th street last night. The burglars forced the basement door and chopped open the door leading to the shop.

FCC CHAIRMAN FLY DENIES DIES CHARGE DR. WATSON IS A RED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—James L. Fly, chairman of the Federal Communications commission, today denied an allegation that an FCC employé, Dr. Goodwin Watson, is a communist.

In a letter to Rep. Martin Dies [D., Tex.], who had made the charge that Watson was a "propagandist for communism and the soviet union," Fly declared that he shares Dies' feelings towards ridding the government of subversive influences but said investigation by him showed Watson not to be a member of the communist party and no evidence of his indorsing its system.

Of 13 organizations listed by Dies as communist party affiliates and in which he charged Watson with membership, Fly said that Watson was affiliated with only one, the Consumers union, and this, he said, is a well known research agency.

He said that Watson, who holds a $5,600 a year position as chief broadcast analyst in the FCC, is an ordained minister in the Methodist church, is of 10th generation American ancestry, and since 1925 has been on the teaching staff of Columbia university, New York City.

WELLES URGES U. S. TAKE HAND IN RULING WORLD

Blames Present War on Defeat of League.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Blaming the present war upon America's refusal to enter the league of nations, Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles today hailed the so-called Atlantic Charter as offering the United States an opportunity to reverse its course and embrace internationalism.

Sumner Welles.

The Atlantic Charter is the name President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain have given the declaration of war and peace aims which they drew up at their secret Atlantic conference last summer. It committed the United States and Great Britain to the destruction, and disarming of the totalitarian régime [except soviet Russia] and to the policing of the world thereafter, pending erection of an international structure to preserve peace.

Reviews Aggressors' Threats.

"Beyond the Atlantic, a sinister and pitiless conqueror has reduced more than half of Europe to abject serfdom; it is his boast that his system shall prevail even unto the ends of the earth," said Welles in the Foreign Commerce Weekly.

"In the far east the same forces of conquest under a different guise are menacing the safety of all nations that border upon the Pacific.

"Were these forces to prevail, what place in such a world would there be for the freedoms which we cherish, and which we are passionately determined to maintain?"

To defeat the overseas aggressors, we are pouring out billions of dollars, continued Welles, "and in so doing we necessarily are diverting the greater part of our tremendous productive capacity into channels of destruction—not those of construction—and we are piling up a debt burden which inevitably will affect the manner of life, and diminish the opportunity for progressive advancement of our children and of our children's children."

Challenges Wilson's Foes.

From the viewpoint of American self interest, Welles asked who was the more practical 20 years ago—Woodrow Wilson and his supporters or the isolationists "who loudly proclaimed that our very system of government would be destroyed if we raised our voice in the determination of world affairs, and who refused to admit that our security could be even remotely jeopardized if the whole of the rest of the earth was plunged into the chaos of world anarchy?"

America, said Welles, now must decide again whether it is to "stand aloof from all effective and practical forms of international concert, wherein our participation could in all human probability insure the maintenance of a peaceful world in which we can safely live."

"Can we afford again," he continued, "to refrain from lifting a finger until gigantic forces of destruction threaten all of modern civilization, and the raucous voice of a criminal paranoiac—speaking as the spokesman for these forces, from the cellar of a Munich beer hall—proclaims as his set purpose the destruction of our own security and the annihilation of religious liberty, of political liberty, and of economic liberty thruout the earth?"

U. S.-JAPANESE FAR EAST TALK AT STANDSTILL

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Japanese-American negotiations for a far eastern settlement were at a standstill tonight.

Tokio's special emissary, Saburo Kurusu, and Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura were not among callers at the state department during the day.

At his noon press coference Secretary of State Cordell Hull reiterated that the conversations of the past four days had been purely exploratory, without reaching the stage of establishing a basis for negotiations.

Sees Failure of Mission.

TOKIO, Nov. 22 [Saturday] (AP).—Failure of the mission of Saburo Kurusu, special Japanese envoy to the United States, was foreseen by the Tokio newspaper Nichi Nichi today in a front-page interview telephoned by its Washington correspondent.

BRITAIN TO TAKE 600 NATIONALS OUT OF SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI, Nov. 21 (AP).—The British China coast steamer Anhwei will arrive here next Friday from Hongkong to remove between 500 and 600 Britons, the British embassy announced today. More than 1,000 Britons have signified their desire to quit Shanghai.

Japs Return Home.

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—A Domei news agency broadcast said today the Japanese liners, Hiye Maru and Hakone Maru, had reached Kobe with 1,125 Japanese nationals coming home from the Near East, Africa, Burma, South sea islands and the Philippines.

Brig. Gen. Fleming Named to Federal Works Post

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Brig. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, wage-hour administrator, was nominated today by President Roosevelt to be federal works administrator. Fleming is to succeed John M. Carmody, who has been nominated to membership on the maritime commission. Carmody had asked to be relieved as works administrator because his physician had recommended that he give it up.

Learns Welding

Ethel Mae Holley of Lake Geneva, Wis., in training as electric arc welder.

She bakes juicy apple pies and is an excellent cook, but these days you'll find Miss Ethel Mae Holley, 25 years old, of Lake Geneva, Wis., at the Greer Shop Training school, 2024 South Wabash avenue, learning how to be a welder.

"I have three brothers who are welders," she said yesterday as she completed her third week of the course, "and they make a lot more than I did as a stenographer. So here I am. I figure I can get a job."

Erwin Greer says Ethel Mae is the only woman welder he's ever heard of in his 39 years as head of the school.

LAUNCH INDIANA, 3D BATTLESHIP OF 1941 FOR U.S.

Construction 6 Months Ahead of Schedule.

Newport News, Va., Nov. 21 (AP).—Down ways made icy-slick with 45 tons of grease glided the 35,000-ton Indiana today, splashing into the James river at high tide six months ahead of schedule as the third United States battleship launched this year.

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox said no one could predict when "actions of our avowed enemies may drag us into complete belligerency," but should that day come the Indiana would be a "tower of strength in our battle line."

Christened by Governor's Daughter.

Mrs. Lewis C. Robbins of Wichita Falls, Tex., daughter of Gov. Henry F. Schricker of Indiana, smashed a beribboned bottle of champagne against the prow with the words "I christen thee Indiana" to start the mighty dreadnaught on its glide into the water.

Some 600 Hoosiers, headed by Gov. Schricker, came here by special train for the launching ceremonies.

Carries Nine 16-Inch Guns.

The Indiana, carrying nine 16-inch guns and the latest type of anti-aircraft and secondary broadside weapons, will join the fleet next year. The 70 million dollar vessel is a sister ship of the South Dakota and Massachusetts, launched earlier this year, and of the Alabama, under construction.

The third ship to bear the name, the Indiana is 680 feet long, has a beam of 108 feet 2 inches and a draft of 34 feet. Her designed speed is "in excess of 27 knots." The keel was laid Nov. 20, 1939.

Over 20 Foreign Ships Repaired.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 21 (AP).—Rear Adm. William G. Dubose, U. S. N., retired, disclosed today at the launching of the navy repair vessel YR-31 that Cramps shipyards has repaired "more than 20 ships that belong to our gallant friends across the sea" since the yard was reopened less than a year ago.

LEOPOLD GROWS THIN AS CAPTIVE, PICTURE REVEALS

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 13 [Delayed] (AP).—An almanac cover picture of King Leopold of the Belgians showed today that the 40 year old prisoner monarch had grown noticeably thin since he last was seen with his troops. The almanac was put on sale on behalf of charitable institutions.

The photograph, showing Leopold and his three children in the gardens of the Laeken royal palace, near Brussels, was taken last June on Princess Josephine Charlotte's confirmation day. The king was in dark mufti.

Since the king retired to the solitude of the palace as a war prisoner, there has been only scant news about his health and activities. There were no public ceremonies on Leopold's birthday anniversary on Nov. 3, altho mass was sung and prayers said for him in all the churches of Belgium.

GREEK PUPPET RULER BEATS 3 FOOD SWINDLERS

BERLIN, Nov. 21 (AP).—Three food bootleggers in Athens were beaten and a wholesale food profiteer had his ears boxed by the head of occupied Greece's régime, Gen. Tsolakoglu, the Berliner Lokalanzeiger said today.

The newspaper said the incidents occurred when the general supervised a raid on Athens' black [illegal] market.

The food profiteer was the first to arouse the general's ire, the newspaper said, and had his ears boxed after an immense quantity of concealed merchandise had been found.

WARNS CANADA'S PRICE CONTROL WILL BE STERN

Regulations Take Effect on Dec. 1.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 21.—There will be no compromise and no "pussyfooting half measures" in Canada's price fixing, Donald Gordon, chairman of the wartime prices and trade board, announced tonight.

"No further increase in prices can be permitted," he said. "Starting Dec. 1 the level of prices must be returned and maintained at the level which prevailed in the period from Sept. 15 to Oct. 11.

Points to Past Experience.

"We are resolved to stop price increases, we are going to hew to that line without deviation. We are convinced that Canada's battle lines against inflation are drawn and that any inch of ground lost would be lost beyond recovery.

"Failures to control runaway inflation in the past in other countries have been due to unwillingness to accept this fundamental truth—you cannot compromise with inflation. If you try to you are lost.

Must Halt Retail Increases.

"Retail prices cannot be allowed to rise. They must be held at the level which prevailed during the basic period which has been selected. Such adjustments as may prove necessary must be made back from that point, thru the stages of distribution and manufacturing. Rather than allow retail prices to rise the prices of wholesalers and manufacturers must be reduced.

"In any unbalanced structure of prices and costs, present or future, adjustments must be financed primarily by the business groups concerned, not by the consumer, and not by labor. That is our policy."

Canada's price board was set up by an order-in-council which fixed the base period for the price ceiling, set up wage controls, and listed a wide variety of services, from public utilities to hairdressing, to be brought under the regulations. The board also was empowered to police consumer credit restrictions and advertising.

LOW BIDDER ON WATER PLANT.

Paschen Contractors, Inc., were low bidders yesterday on the construction of the superstructure for the 23 million dollar water filtration plant being built at 79th street and the lake. The Paschen company bid $2,091,763.

"NOT ONCE BUT MANY TIMES"

In an address broadcast to the nation and the world on Sept. 3, 1939—the day that Great Britain and France declared war on Germany—President Roosevelt declared:

"I have said not once but many times that I have seen war, and that I hate war. I say that again and again.

"I hope the United States will keep out of this war. I believe that it will. And I give you assurances that every effort of your government will be directed toward that end.

"As long as it remains within my power to prevent, there will be no blackout of peace in the United States."

NAZI FLYER WHO FLED CANADA IS KILLED IN ACTION

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—The German radio today announced that Capt. Baron Franz von Werra, young German ace, who escaped from a British prison camp in Canada and later jumped a deportation appearance bond in the United States, had been killed in action at the head of his pursuit squadron.

Von Werra, who was 27, and then a sublieutenant, escaped from a Canadian prison train in the Laurentian region last Jan. 23, hitchhiked to the St. Lawrence river and rowed across to the vicinity of Ogdensburg, N. Y. He was captured by American authorities for illegal entry.

While deportation proceedings were under way Von Werra jumped the $5,000 bail given by the German consulate and went to South America. He returned to Germany by plane last spring. He was promoted to captain and given command of a pursuit squadron. Reports from Berlin last Oct. 28 said the airman had been fatally injured somewhere in Germany. The new announcement told neither when nor where von Werra was killed.

M. P. to Ask: Did Britain O.K. Windsor Trip to U.S.?

LONDON, Nov. 21 (AP).—Alexander Sloan, Laborite member of Parliament, wants to know whether the duke of Windsor had the British government's consent for his visit to the United States. Sloan announced today he would ask Prime Minister Churchill this question in the house of commons.

BRITAIN, RUSSIA PLEDGE FULL AID EVEN AFTER WAR

New Group Now Ironing Out Differences.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 21.—With the full endorsement of Prime Minister Winston Churchill and the Russian government, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky today pledged their countries to the closest and friendliest relations during the war "and after," at an Anglo-Soviet relations committee luncheon.

Anthony Eden [top] and Ivan Maisky.

Lord Horder, the king's physician, who presided, said the purpose of the committee was to prepare the ground for the fullest postwar collaboration and that subcommittees now were active in reconciling all differences which might exist.

He read a telegram from Prime Minister Churchill containing his "greetings and cordial wishes for the success of the work of the committee," and adding: "The aims you have set for yourselves and the work you are doing toward their achievement have my warmest support." He said he thought that the "weight of opinion represented by the committee, drawn as it is from so many and various walks of life, will be an encouragement to our Russian allies in the heroic struggle."

Reds Welcome Movement.

Maisky read the "instructions" which he had just received from his government, saying

"Fully appreciating the great importance of the closest possible friendship and collaboration between Great Britain and the U.S.S.R during and after the war, the soviet government welcomes every effort to bring the common struggle to a victorious end and wishes your function today every success."

Maisky said he "warmly welcomed Eden's announcement" and declared that Russia reciprocated the desire for postwar collaboration but emphasized that "it will be futile to gainsay that certain difficulties" are in the way of accomplishment.

Eden emphasized the importance of the Anglo-soviet communique which followed the recent Moscow conversations and asserted that "there is no conflict of interests between Britain and the U.S.S.R., nothing to prevent collaboration in the cause of peace."

Calls Hitler Wrong Again.

Eden suggested that Adolf Hitler had tried to divide public opinion "here, in the occupied countries, and in the United States by raising once again the spectre of the bolshevik bogey," but declared, "Here again Hitler is completely wrong. For us in this room there is only one cause and such conditions of mutual help mean that our resources are Russia's and Russia's resources are our resources."

Even after the war, Eden said he saw no reason for rivalry between the two countries, asserting that the raw materials and industrial products of the British empire and the U.S.S.R. really supplement each other.

Maisky reviewed the war situation in Russia, claimed the Russian armies had retreated intact, and admitted the loss of 1,750,000 soldiers dead, wounded, and missing.

He expressed confidence that the Russian winter would hurt the Germans much more than the Russians, but warned, with all respect to sea and air power, that Germany can only be beaten on the land. To do this, he said, would require a common front, on which all the fighting forces of the allies could be mustered, even those of the United States.

DEMANDS BRITAIN PUNISH LEADER OF PEACE GROUP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 21.—A. P. Herbert, author and Independent member of parliament, introduced a motion in the house of commons today asking Herbert Morrison, minister of home security, to take action against Dr. Frank Buchman "and any organization or company which he still directs" under the defense regulations.

Herbert referred to Buchman, an American of Allentown, Pa., as "the acknowledged leader of the British youth movement and the principal director of a British company receiving special privileges and exemptions from the state." The motion expressed belief that Buchman and some of his followers "have dangerous sympathies with the government and the system with which his majesty is at war." Herbert asked that the Buchmanites be disbanded.

Buchman is the founder and leader of the Oxford group, a religious and peace movement which has been accused of Fascist leanings. Herbert, on March 9, asked parliament to ban the Oxford group.

Charge Banned Nazi Group Still Active in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Nov. 21 (AP).—The congressional committee investigating anti-Argentine activities charged tonight that the German labor front, which was suppressed by executive decree in 1939, was continuing to operate as the "German union guilds." The committee report said the organization had 10,908 members, mostly in the Buenos Aires area and including members of the German embassy staff, school teachers, professional men, salesmen, clergymen, and government employés.

OPM TURNS OUT LIGHTS IN FACE OF SANTA CLAUS

Carnival Paraders Are Forced to Use Flares.

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 21 [Special].—Santa Claus was extended shadowy invitations tonight in two Dixieland cities where celebrants in pre-Christmas carnival parades were compelled to march thru semidarkened streets as a result of the power rationing blackout imposed by the Office of Production Management.

The two cities—Memphis and Birmingham—are in the supposedly fortunate area which the Tennessee Valley authority was to have transformed into an electrified Utopia.

The Birmingham parade was to have been held under the full illumination of brightly lighted store windows, decorated for Christmas, and outdoor electric signs which the OPM had ordered blacked out on Oct. 28 to save electricity needed for rearmament purposes.

Safety Edict Overruled.

Safety Commissioner Eugene Connor of Birmingham had granted permission for the store and sign lights to be turned on, terming his action "a plain safety measure."

But with plans for the parade completed, a Birmingham electric company official received a telephone call from OPM power division officials in Atlanta warning that the blackout ruling must not be violated, even for a Christmas parade.

Birmingham held the parade as best it could, as did Memphis. Residents of the latter city, upon learning of Birmingham's plight, changed their plans. They had intended to light their annual Christmas parade with 18 floats, running on trolley tracks and lighted by 5,000 electric bulbs supplied from the trolley wires.

Memphis Uses Flares.

Denied electricity, Memphis paraders used flares to illuminate their floats so that 20,000 spectators would not be completely disappointed, E. H. Crump, political "boss" of Memphis, termed the blackout "idiotic and very unbusinesslike."

"The parade actually meant a saving of electricity," he declared, "because while the thousands of persons are uptown looking at it, they are not burning electricity at home."

Knoxville was forced to cancel its plans for lighting its downtown streets with carnival trimmings to create the city's annual "Santa Claus Village."

PROCLAIMS RIGHT OF AUSTRALIANS TO URGE DRAFT

CANBERRA, Australia, Nov. 21.—Asked if he would restrain advocates of conscription on the ground they were raising an issue that would divide Australia, Prime Minister John Curtin today told the house of representatives that the government would not interfere in any expression of opinion except when it would aid the axis, impede prosecution of the war, or prompt subversion. He said the public had a right to criticize the government and advocate other policies.

Nevertheless, he said, no issue could be so ill timed and detrimental to the unity of Australia in prosecution of the war. He asked the people to give their maximum support to the recruiting policy. He also asked them to give due weight to Australia's "unfortunate experience" in the World war and do nothing to weaken instead of strengthen the war effort.

A controversy over conscription now, he went on, would not add one man to the fighting forces and would "comfort the enemy." Voluntary enlistment has produced an increasing war effort, and at no stage of the war was the commonwealth so well prepared as now, Curtin said.

Coal Boat Hits Shoal; Sinks in St. Lawrence

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Nov. 21 (AP).—The collier Henry C. Daryaw, carrying 1,200 tons of coal, struck a shoal and sank today in the St. Lawrence river six miles west of here. One man was believed to have drowned, trapped in the boiler room. The remainder of the crew reached the Canadian shore.

Unusual Reunion

It was a joyous reunion at the North Western railroad station yesterday for Joseph Staudenraus, 40 years old, of Oshkosh, Wis., and his mother, Mrs. Charles Campbell of Moscow, Idaho, and a brother, Leon Campbell of Portland, Ore. It was the first time he had been with his mother and brother for 38 years.

Staudenraus explained that his parents separated at that time and that he went with his father and his brother remained with his mother. "I was adopted by an aunt, Mrs. Mary Staudenraus," he said. "For many years I believed she was my mother until she told me about my family."

Staudenraus said that when his aunt died several years ago he began to try to locate his mother and brother and finally found them thru a family friend. They corresponded and arranged for the reunion here yesterday. "It wasn't such a shock meeting," Studenraus said, "It was as if we had known each other for many years but had not seen each other."

TWIN CITIES AIR ROUTE VIA EAU CLAIRE OPPOSED

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—An examiner for the civil aeronautics board recommended today denial of an application by Northwest Airlines, Inc., for a certificate for a new route between Chicago and Minneapolis-St. Paul, via Milwaukee, Green Bay, Wausau, and Eau Claire, Wis.

Since Northwest already has a route between Chicago and Minneapolis-St. Paul, via Milwaukee, Madison, and Rochester, the primary purpose of the proposed new route was to make air transportation available to Green Bay, Wausau, and Eau Claire.

The route would total 449 miles, compared with the present route of 350 miles. The examiner held the new service would not be justified in view of its cost.

RUSH PARALYSIS SERUM EAST TO NAVAL OFFICER

A special shipment of 150 cubic centimeters of poliomyelitis [infantile paralysis serum] left Chicago at 11:55 p. m. last night by plane for New York under consignment to Commander Kirby at the New York naval air station. The shipment was brought by train from Milwaukee to Chicago, taken to the airport by express truck, and delivered into the hands of the pilots of the American Airlines plane on which it left.

Airlines officials said they had been requested to make sure the shipment went aboard the plane. Commander Kirby told them in a phone conversation, they said, that the serum is to be sent south. Columbia hospital authorities in Milwaukee, where the shipment originated, said the serum is of the type given to patients recovering from infantile paralysis.

QUITS AS DRAFT BOARD DOCTOR; HITS J. L. LEWIS

Edwardsville, Ill., Nov. 21 (AP).—Dr. Eugene F. Wahl today said he had submitted his resignation as an examining physician for Madison county selective service board No. 1 in protest against the strike of CIO coal miners.

In a letter to the local draft board Dr. Wahl wrote:

"I do not desire to have any further part in removing our boys from gainful occupations and home environment and drafting them into the army at $21 per month while Mr. John L. Lewis is permitted to dictate the labor policy of our government and deliberately delay and obstruct the output of necessary equipment so badly needed by our boys in the army."

PREDICT FRANCE MAY JOIN AXIS AS A FULL PARTNER

Vichy Mum on Hint of New Hitler-Petain Parley.

New York, Nov. 21 (AP). — French and German leaders will meet soon, possibly to decide upon a new form of collaboration or even French capitulation and full membership in the axis, reliable advices from Europe said tonight.

The informants said Marshal Petain and Adolf Hitler might confer. When and where the meeting might be held was cloaked in secrecy. Vichy said that "official circles know nothing about it."

Berlin declined to discuss a Hitler-Petain meeting, but collaboration has been under intensive discussion recently and Berlin observers thought it might be pushed harder with Gen. Maxime Weygand, French pro-consul in North Africa, in retirement.

Reports of an imminent French shift to a collaboration were given support by the replacement of Weygand, who was said to have opposed such action. One late report was that Petain would retire when the collaboration policy is effected and be succeeded by Vice Premier Adm. Darlan, who is strongly pro-axis.

Commentary Accuses U. S.

It was regarded as significant that German official comment on Weygand's retirement avoided confirming the impression that he was removed at Hitler's request. Berlin said his removal was purely an affair of the Vichy government and did not call for comment by Nazi officials.

But the commentary Deutsche Diplomatisch Politische Korrespondenz, which has foreign office connections, in commenting on American reaction to Weygand's retirement accused President Roosevelt of working "hand in hand with England in order to increase the difficulties of France," adding:

"The United States acts as tho it were an American affair."

Support of an impending change of French policy was seen in a "Free French" news agency dispatch last night that a German military, economic, and consular mission is expected to go to French North Africa soon. The question of what would become of French West Africa figured in speculation regarding French policy in view of America's attitude that it is considered vital to American defense.

Air Chief Visits North Africa.

VICHY, France, Nov. 21 (AP).—Gen. Jean Bergeret, aviation secretary, tonight flew to French North Africa to inspect new defenses. His visit was preceded by inspections by Colonial Secretary Rene Platon and Gen. Alfonse Juin, who succeeded the retired Gen. Maxime Weygand, as military commander of the region.

Beneficiary of Will

MRS. JOSEPHINE HAEUSLER.

An inquiry into validity of the will of Rudolph [Greasy Dick] Thomas, stamp and coin dealer, whose death last Aug. 16 revealed that he had practiced frauds and forgeries in selling canceled stamps, was continued yesterday until Nov. 27 by Probate Judge John F. O'Connell.

The discovery of the fraud in Thomas' business was made recently by Jack Rubens, investigator for the public administrator. Rubens found 179 wood cut reproductions of old stamp cancellations and perforating machines in Thomas' workshop and home at 1418 Mohawk street.

The public administrator filed a petition before Judge O'Connell asking that an investigation be made into circumstances surrounding the execution of the will in the Grant hospital last July 25. The will left Thomas' estate, estimated at more than $100,000, to his former housekeeper, Mrs. Josephine Haeusler, and ignored a niece and nephew in Austria.

CHARGES BRITAIN PROFITS ON U. S. PLANES TO REDS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Rep. Robert F. Jones [R., O.] contended today that Britain was profiting by transferring to Russia some war material received under the lend-lease program from the United States.

"We give England bombers," said Jones in a house speech, "and material made with our toil and sweat. England delivers them to Russia via the dollar-value agreement. The British treasury gets the dollars. The United States treasury is gutted in a two way split to Russia and England."

COL. M'CORMICK CALLS KEMSLEY STATEMENT FAIR

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, yesterday cabled Lord Kemsley, chairman of the London Daily Sketch, that a letter from the English publisher, which appeared in yesterday's TRIBUNE, was an entirely "fair and courteous presentation of the British viewpoint."

In his letter to Col. McCormick Lord Kemsley called for 100 per cent American coöperation in the British war effort. Previously the Daily Sketch had published a letter from Col. McCormick, written at the request of Lord Kemsley. In this communication Col. McCormick stressed that there is little American support for a military expedition to keep the British in possession of colonial territory.

"It was my pleasure to publish your communication on the front page of today's TRIBUNE and to offer it to all newspapers taking our service," Col. McCormick said in his cable. "I consider it an entirely fair and courteous presentation of the British viewpoint. I agree with you that continued argumentative correspondence is more apt to lead to differences than to an agreement. Therefore since each has presented his viewpoint I will not reply to your letter publicly. With best wishes, McCormick."

U. S. SENDS ENVOY TO INDIA; CALLED A COMMISSIONER

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 21 (AP).—For the first time in history a representative of the United States government presented his credentials to the government of India in a colorful ceremony at the viceroy's house.

Viceroy Lord Linlithgow, standing in front of the throne in resplendent Durbar hall, received Thomas Murray Wilson of Memphis, Tenn., commissioner to India with the rank of minister. An honor guard of lancers in brilliant red uniforms stood at attention during the ceremony as Wilson was formally presented to the viceroy by the secretary of external affairs.

Wilson then presented his staff. Members of the viceroy's executive council, including Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, attended.

GERMANS BREAK THRU DEFENSES OF REDS AT TULA

But Nazis Are Being Driven Back Again—Russia.

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Nov. 21 (AP).—German forces have broken thru soviet defenses at Tula, munitions city 100 miles south of Moscow, but are being pushed back again, S. A. Lozovsky, vice commissar of foreign affairs, said late today.

Lozovsky said the Germans were struggling to expand the break, but he contended that it was not serious.

Despite a new German offensive against Moscow, with fierce battles now raging around Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of the capital, and Volokolamsk, 65 miles northwest of Moscow, the vice commissar said Red troops were holding the initiative at many points.

Struggle to Avoid Trap.

LONDON, Nov. 21 (AP).—The Russians tonight acknowledged that a "serious situation" had arisen in the Tula area of the Moscow front. They declared the Red army was "mobilizing all forces" to meet a German encirclement threat there. Intense fighting raged in bitter cold on all key roads to Moscow.

The Moscow radio told of the fighting southwest and southeast of Tula, 100 miles south of Moscow. It said the Russians had destroyed 50 German tanks and large numbers of infantry in a three day battle.

In their attempt to encircle Tula the Germans brought up reënforcements and pressed the attack.

Germans Use 50,000 Men.

The Germans were said to be using two tank divisions and two infantry divisions in the assault. This would mean a force of at least 700 armored vehicles and about 50,000 men.

Altho the pressure still was on along the 200 mile arc from Kalinin to Tula, the Russians asserted that the forward drive of massed German tank and motorized divisions had been stopped within the first 48 hours.

Nazi losses in men and equipment were described by the Moscow radio as "tremendous sacrifices."

Situation Summarized.

The radio gave this summary of the situation along the Moscow defense arc:

On the northern flank the situation still is "especially tense" after the Germans were repulsed in a powerful attempt to break thru, presumably near Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of Moscow. There a Red army counterattack, hurling Russian tanks against those of the invaders, recaptured two villages.

In the central sector the Germans hurled four infantry and four tank divisions [100,000 men] into the fight in the Volokolamsk area, 65 miles northwest of Moscow, but were dislodged from their gains and hurled back by soviet counterattacks. The Germans drove a wedge into Russian defenses at Mozhaisk, 57 miles west of the capital where "fierce fighting is now in progress" and "several villages are changing hands continuously."

The Moscow radio also reported that a massive column of British tanks, several miles long, had been driven into action by soviet tankmen.

CONVOYS OF 100 SHIPS FOIL SUBS, SAYS AN ADMIRAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The percentage of convoys reaching British ports without U-boat interference is increasing and convoys of up to 100 ships are arriving, now that the "worst of the battle of the Atlantic is past," Rear Adm. Burges Watson, convoy commodore, said today.

He mentioned a new convoy system in which each ship keeps its own station, despite bad visibility, which, he said, is rather welcomed since it shields the ships from observation.

Naval Patrols Battle.

LONDON, Nov. 21 (AP).—One enemy torpedo boat was sunk and two others probably were sent down during an engagement between German and English naval patrols Wednesday night off the east coast of England, the admiralty said today.

Two Ships Sunk, Say Nazis.

BERLIN, Nov. 21 (AP).—Two vessels, including a 4,000 ton tanker, were sunk by German speedboats from a convoy at an undesignated spot, a military spokesman said today.

ESTIMATE NAZIS AND RUSSIA LOST 15,000,000 TROOPS

Germany and Russia yesterday estimated each other's casualties in five months of war. The claims totaled 15,000,000 troops. The dispatches:

BERLIN, Nov. 21 (AP).—Authorized German quarters today estimated that 10,000,000 Red troops had been killed, captured, or wounded to date. They made these additional claims: The capture of 3,792,060 Russian prisoners, capture or destruction of 15,877 planes, or a rate of 100 a day; 27,452 tanks, and 27,121 guns; 52 Russian war vessels destroyed, 59 damaged; 138 merchant vessels sunk, and 137 damaged.

'Five Million Nazi Casualties.'

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Nov. 21 (AP).—S. A. Lozovsky, vice commissar of foreign affairs, said today that Germany has suffered more than 5,000,000 casualties in the war.

"Despite successes, the German situation is worse now than at the beginning," he declared. "Hopelessness of the war for Hitler is clearer than ever before."

22 Below in Russia; Italian Fighting Planes Hampered

ROME, Nov. 21 (AP).—Twenty-two below zero Fahrenheit cold is hampering the Italian air force on the Russian front, correspondents with the troops reported today. One said that the cold was so intense that even the transport planes on which the axis depends largely for food and munition shipments were sometimes unable to get off the ground.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The first convoy of Russian ships reached a Scottish port today. Captains and members of the crew were given a rousing welcome by the regional port commissioner, Lord Rosebery, Col. J. J. Llewellin, parliamentary secretary for the ministry of war transport, was on hand to meet them.

The ships were loaded with what were described as "valuable cargoes." Huge bulks of timber could be seen piled high on the decks of the ships, which flew the crossed hammer and sickle flag of Russia.

Exchange Greetings.

"We are truly pleased to see you and your ships, not because of what your ships bring, but because now we can fill them with what you most require for you to keep up your gallant struggle," Lord Rosebery told the men.? A captain replied:

"Friends and allies, in the name of my ship and my country, I thank you for the reception. We will do our utmost to execute the business we have come here for."

It was revealed that there were women sailors among the crews. The work of unloading and reloading the ships will continue day and night.

Clenched Fists Salute Reds.

Col. Llewellin referred to Lord Rosebery as the "commissar for Scotland" at a luncheon. The banquet hall was decorated for the occasion and behind the speaker's table were portraits of British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, without his cigar; Russian Premier Josef Stalin, with his pipe; the soviet merchant flag, the union jack and the red ensign of British merchantmen. Scottish pipers in full dress entertained.

On the streets many Britons greeted the Russian seamen with the soviet salute, the raised, clenched fist. Among the guests at the luncheon were representatives of labor unions.

NAZI 'HEROES' OF A NEW SCHOOL AMUSE TURKEY

ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 21.—A news picture circulated by German press sources thruout Turkey occasioned much amusement in foreign press and diplomatic circles here today.

The picture appeared in the Ismir journal Anadolu. It portrayed two German soldiers holding aloft a soviet banner inscribed with pictures of Lenin and Stalin and several lines of writing stenciled upon the flag in Russian characters.

The German caption reads: "After bitter fighting in the Szhmorsky sector these German heroes captured this flag from the bolshevist forces."

The inscription read in Russian: "Prize awarded for excellence to the best primary school in the Szhmorsky region."

SERB FIGHTING GROWS; CALLED A 'CIVIL WAR'

ZAGREB, Croatia, Nov. 21 (AP).—Fighting described as "civil war" gradually is assuming greater proportions in the Serbian part of dismembered Jugo-Slavia, reports from the turbulent area said tonight.

Clashes yesterday and Wednesday between government troops and dissidents, referred to as "communists," resulted in 371 rebels killed and hundreds taken prisoner and executed, these reports said.

The worst trouble spots were reported in the central part of the former kingdom and along the borders of Italian occupied Montenegro and Herzegovina.

Germans in Portugal Leave to Join Army

LISBON, Portugal, Nov. 21 (AP).—A number of Germans under 31 years of age—some born in Portugal of Portugese mothers—left for Germany yesterday to join the army upon orders from Berlin.

ICELANDIC GIRLS SPURN ADMIRAL FOR LIEUT. 'DOUG'

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Nov. 20 [Delayed]—(AP).—An admiral and a lieutenant came ashore today—but it was the lieutenant who signed the autograph books. Admirals are virtually a dime a dozen in Reykjavik, but Douglas Fairbanks is something else in a town which knows its Hollywood heroes and heroines as well as any American community.

Fairbanks is serving as public relations officer aboard an American warship for three months' service. He is a lieutenant [junior grade].

He came ashore with other officers to see the sights of Reykjavik—but it was the other way around, for Fairbanks became one of the sights of Reykjavik. After Fairbanks had left town there still was a goodly number of Icelandic girls in the Bork hotel lobby waiting with their autograph books for him to return. An admiral came out as they waited, resplendent in his gold braid, medals and ribbons. But they didn't give him a tumble.

TELLS HOW RAF TESTS WEED OUT MENTALLY UNFIT

Extreme care in the selection of members of the royal air force has resulted in remarkably few cases of psychoneurosis in the force, Dr. Robert Dick Gillespie, psychiatric specialist of the force, told an audience last night in Thorne hall on the Chicago campus of Northwestern university.

In this country to lecture for the Salmon Committee on Psychiatry and Mental Hygiene, the British psychiatrist declared that only mentally and emotionally stable men get past the process which precedes entrance into the RAF.

"One reason why there are fewer neurotics in this war than in the last," Dr. Gillespie said, "is the greater importance which is attached to the individual. Even among the infantry today, a man tends to be more a technician and less of a 'foot-slogger.'"

Finland Ousts Six Pro-Red Members of Parliament

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 21 (AP).—The state prosecutor today filed a formal indictment in the Turko [Abo] Court of Appeals against six pro-soviet members of parliament held on charges of treason. The six thereby automatically lost their seats in parliament.

GERMANY CLAIMS NEW ADVANCE IN MOSCOW BATTLE

Nazis Fight 'Whole Chain of Crucial Actions.'

BERLIN, Nov. 21 (AP).—German armies fed by blizzard bucking supply planes tonight were reported to be fighting "a whole chain of crucial actions" in Russia. Desperate Red army resistance was acknowledged. War dispatches said the Germans still were trying to encircle Leningrad in heavy fighting in the snowy wilderness south of Lake Ladoga after a three month siege of that city.

The high command claimed undetailed gains on the central front before Moscow and in the Donetz river bend to the south where it was reported more Russian industrial prizes fell to axis arms.

Russians Counterattack.

One commentator acknowledged bitter Russian counterattacks in the Tula and Kalinin sectors rimming Moscow where the Germans began another big push three days ago. Tula is 100 miles south of Moscow and Kalinin 95 miles northwest of the capital.

In the Arctic another German army was driving toward Kandalasksha on the White sea in an effort to cut the Murmansk-Leningrad railway at that point, but a spokesman gave no details of this operation.

In the Crimea the Germans said they had overrun nearly the entire peninsula. The big soviet naval base and fortress of Sevastopol in the southwest still was uncaptured, however. German artillery and bombers steadily pounded the Red arc of defenses and the city itself.

[The German radio said a heavy soviet cruiser and a destroyer had been sunk in the harbor of Sevastopol by German air bombs.]

Try to Seize Narrow Strip.

In the northern sector a decisive action was said to be unfolding south of Lake Ladoga where the Germans were attempting to drive 50 miles northward from Tikhvin, the railway junction which is about 100 miles southeast of Leningrad.

A spokesman claimed that the Russians no longer had a rail or adequate highway connection with the soviet interior. He said the Germans now were trying to capture a narrow strip of land south of the lake to seal up Leningrad's communications.

The continued Russian defense of Leningrad, this spokesman declared, "was the greatest and saddest tragedy" of the war because he said German airmen and artillerymen were pounding the city with devastating effect.

The subsidiary but vital rôle played by German airmen in the snowy stretches of Russia was illustrated by statistics which said that transport planes had carried 83,000,000 pounds of supplies to the front up to Nov. 1 in about 30,000 flights, or a distance of 550 times around the globe.

MRS. MARJORIE DECKER.

Judge Thomas J. Lynch yesterday ordered Melvin Decker, 30 years old, a printer, to turn over to his former wife all the clothing belonging to their two children, Melvin Jr., 7, and William, 3.

Mrs. Marjorie Decker, 27, of 4208 5th avenue, was granted custody of the children a week ago. Decker had had them since the couple was divorced in March, 1939. Yesterday Attorney Norman Becker, representing Mrs. Decker, told Judge Lynch that Decker was holding the children's clothing out of spite.

Pope Opens New Institute as Religious Vocation Aid

ROME, Nov. 21.—A new institution called the pontifical work for religious vocation has been created by Pope Pius XII, it was announced today. It will have the task of "intensifying the desire of the faithful to aid ecclesiastical vocations and to divulge the right knowledge and dignity as well as the necessity of the Catholic priesthood," the communique said.

FINLAND CLAIMS DESTRUCTION OF SOVIET DIVISION

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 21 (AP).—Finnish army correspondents tonight reported the destruction of a Russian division in a fierce battle in the difficult Arctic terrain of northern Karelia.

The Finnish troops were said to have smashed 1,300 log bunkers [forts], killed 3,000 Russian troops, and captured 1,600. Booty included 30 cannon, 30 trench mortars, 700 rifles, 400 horses, four disabled tanks, and 10,000 rounds of ammunition.

Dispatches from the front said the Russians were surrounded, but put up a suicide resistance, forcing the Finns to capture each bunker separately.

MOLOTOV'S SON TAKEN PRISONER, BERLIN REPORTS

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—The German radio reported today that a Russian soldier, identified by competent quarters as the son of Russian Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov had been taken prisoner on the eastern front.

The German broadcast said he was Molotov's son by his first marriage and was known under the name of R. Skrjabin.

He was identified as being 22 years old and a student of agriculture before he joined the Red army two years ago.

The radio said he was an infantryman and reported he told his captors he was "not very fond of a soldier's life."

ARMORED FORCE FAILS TO REPEL MANEUVER FOES

Unable to Break Thru in Five Day Battle.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chester, S. C., Nov. 21.—The five day "battle of the Carolinas," in which 300,000 men participated, ended today and the training forces prepared to move over the week-end into new areas for the final phase of the two weeks' maneuver. A critique on the first phase will be held at Wingate on Monday.

The end of the practice battle found the Red army, comprised of the 4th corps which included the 1st and 2d armored divisions, inside a huge horseshoe welded by the enemy it had been instructed to "drive from our homeland."

The Blue forces, made up of the 1st army with special anti-tank troops, were reported advancing from the north, east and south when the armistice was announced. The Red mechanized force had launched a final attack, but previously had been stopped, partly by its own mismaneuvering, in attempts to break thru the encirclement.

Disagree on Benefits Gained.

Many divergent opinions were expressed by general officers relative to what was learned and what was accomplished in the exercises. Some believed that the problem was too prolonged for a peacetime exercise and that little benefit resulted from the last two days' efforts because of the weariness of both officers and men.

From a military viewpoint, however, the outcome was not conclusive of what would have happened under actual war conditions because of the impossibility of umpiring accurately clashes between simulated wooden guns and other weapons that lack even sufficient blank ammunition.

During the last hours of the battle the Red 4th motorized division ran into so much difficulty and the Red armored divisions had maneuvered in so many directions that their troops were seemingly in a jigsaw puzzle formation at armistice time.

In Trouble All Day.

The 1st armored division had been in trouble all of yesterday in the vicinity of Albemarle, Oakboro, and Norwood. Early last night, the 2d armored division was sent toward Wadesboro to relieve pressure on its armored companions.

When the 1st division finally extricated its main strength, that force sped south to join another of its element which had reached Ansonville. After gathering up its scattered units, it headed west toward Monroe. However, its progress was stopped during the night by umpires who feared the machines would inflict real damage to troops sleeping on the ground during the blackout. It was permitted to resume its westward advance at daylight.

Much Confusion Results.

Meantime, the 2d armored division, after helping out the 1st, was moved back for another flank thrust eastward at the enemy. This movement was intended to cover the 1st division's westbound withdrawal. However, the crisscrossing movement created the disorganization that reigned at the time of the armistice.

While the Red armored divisions were involved in this mixup, the Red motorized infantry was advancing eastward on parallel lines and meeting further trouble.

Taking advantage of this situation, the Blue forces exerted so much pressure on the central front that the 43d square division, a part of the Red army, had to withdraw. The Red defense line then became so short that the 43d was completely withdrawn and placed in reserve west of Monroe.

SURPRISES WOULD-BE THIEF.

Meyer Lipschultz returned to his men's store at 3213½ North Cicero avenue late Thursday night to turn out the lights and surprised a burglar who fled empty-handed after piling up clothing valued at $2,876.

Executed Slayer

[Acme Photo.]

Evileta Juanita Spinelli, gang leader, who died in California gas chamber yesterday for killing one of her followers.

San Quentin, Cal., Nov. 21 (AP).—A grim woman who headed a holdup gang and held its purse strings went to her death in a gas execution chamber today with a prayer on her lips.

She was Evileta Juanita Spinelli. The gang she led called her "The Duchess." Fifty-two and a grandmother, she could hit a poker chip at 15 paces with a stiletto. She said she once planned another murder — by sticking a hatpin in the ear of her intended victim.

Never before in California's history had the law exacted the life of a woman. The "Duchess" died because she and her hoodlums killed one of the gang, Robert Sherrard, 19.

The brutal murder of a San Francisco man during a holdup frightened Sherrard so badly they were afraid he would talk. They gave him drugged whisky, pulled a swimming suit on him, knocked him on the head, and threw him into the Sacramento river.

BELGIUM'S FOOD OUTLOOK BRIGHT, PRESS REVEALS

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 13 [Delayed] (AP).—Food prospects for Belgium's 8,000,000 persons look brighter this winter than in the last, newspapers said today.

It was said every one now was assured of getting at least "the minimum amount of food to which he is entitled."

Authorities said they hoped to keep rations at the present level thru the winter. The potato supply was noticeably improved altho the crop yield is low. Many Belgians cultivated their own patches.

The wheat picture is the blackest but authorities said the country's supply would carry it thru until March.

FILIPINOS HAVE FIRST BLACKOUT AS DEFENSE TEST

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 21 (AP).—The Philippines experienced their first all-night total blackout last night as authorities prepared for any eventuality in the tense far eastern situation.

Reports indicated the blackout was highly effective. Traffic in downtown Manila was snarled. Some residents were hours groping their way home.

Army observers flying over the Manila area reported many violations at the outset but air raid wardens went into action and all lights were doused quickly.

Russia Denies Violating Jap Border in Manchukuo

MOSCOW, Nov. 21 (AP).—Tass carried an official soviet denial today of a Domei report that soviet soldiers on Nov. 16 had violated the frontier of Manchukuo. "No group of soviet soldiers violated the Manchukuo frontier," it said. Domei had reported that one soviet soldier was killed and two were captured.

BURY UDET, WHO GAVE GERMANY DREADED STUKAS

Goering Marches 2 Miles to Airman's Grave.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—Three salvos delivered by a guard of honor and 16 guns—the shots were fired by a nearby anti-aircraft battery—resounded today as the body of Col. Gen. Ernst Udet, technical chief of the air force and Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's right hand man, was lowered into a grave.

A few yards away stands the monument to Manfred von Richthofen, Germany's greatest World war ace. He was the only man to surpass Udet, who was credited with 62 aerial victories and who was killed on Monday while testing a "new weapon" for the German air force.

Croat Flyers Send Tribute.

Udet's grave was covered with a mountain of floral tributes. Conspicuous among them are wreaths from Germany's leading industrialists with whom Udet had maintained close connections. Even neutral countries, such as Sweden and Switzerland, were represented. The "Croatian air force" paid a modest tribute to a man whose death meant an irreparable loss to the German air force.

Portly, stern faced Goering walked slowly behind the gun carriage bearing the casket from the Berlin air ministry to the war cemetery—a distance of over two miles—following a state funeral service which was attended by Adolf Hitler.

Developed Dive Bombers.

Udet, a former stunt flyer, personally had tested practically every plane used by the German air force.

Not satisfied with the "old fashioned" methods of bombing, Udet sold the idea of dive bombing to his executives—and developed the plane to do it. Hence, the tactics of Stuka [dive] bombing employed so widely by Germany in this war.

MOROS STORM POLICE IN PHILIPPINE DRAFT PROTEST; 17 KILLED

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 21 (AP).—Seventeen Moros were killed today by the constabulary after an attack on soldiers at Camp Romandier in Sulu province. No soldiers were injured. Five Moros were killed last week in a similar raid.

One reason given for the attacks, termed suicidal by constabulary officers, was that the Moros were incensed that draftees among the tribesmen had been sent to military camps outside the Sulu district after having been told they could serve in their home province.

Officers said another attack might be forthcoming. In warlike mood, relatives and friends of the dead Moros gathered in the jungles about the camp.

SOVIET COSSACKS RE-ENACT CHARGE OF LIGHT BRIGADE

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—A modern charge of the light brigade—a suicidal assault by three regiments of soviet cossacks in the Donetz region—was described by the German radio today in terms that recalled the disastrous British action 78 years ago in the Crimea.

Four hundred miles north of Balaklava, where the heroes of Tennyson's poem charged Russian artillery batteries with "cannon to right of them, cannon to the left of them, cannon in front of them," the cossacks with drawn swords attempted to storm a German infantry battalion armed with machine guns and mortars.

Supported by infantry and artillery, the horsemen broke thru parts of the German outpost line and reached the edge of a village where German guns mowed down the attacking men and horses, according to the radio account.

"Only one squadron, tearing thru the fire, succeeded in approaching our line," the radio said. "Concentric fire from all available weapons annihilated this squadron to the last man. The entire engagement lasted four hours."

[Tennyson's "Six Hundred" were actually 670 men, who charged a Russian battery with other batteries at each flank. The action lasted 20 minutes. When it ended 300 men including 24 officers were killed, wounded, or missing. Only 195 were left mounted.]

MINER CRUSHED BY CRANE.

Robinson, Ill., Nov. 21 [Special].—Earl Garrard, 23 years old, of Palestine was crushed fatally today at the strip coal mine seven miles east of here. His body was caught between the revolving cab on the mining crane and the eight foot wall behind the crane. There were no witnesses to the accident.

FLEMING AMONG 80 FACING TRIAL UNDER HATCH ACT

Highway Chief Accused of Political Activity.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 21 (AP).—Matthew J. Fleming, acting chief engineer of the Illinois division of highways, is among 80 state highway officials and employés who have been charged with violation of the Hatch anti-politics law, it was disclosed today.

The disclosure was made as the first group of 19 defendants was summoned for trials before James W. Irwin, examiner for the United States civil service commission.

Fleming, who became acting chief engineer following the resignation of Ernst Lieberman on Oct. 1, has filed with the civil service commission an answer in which he denied that the position he holds is covered by the federal statute.

Penalty Is Removal.

The Hatch act prohibits political activity by state employés whose salary is paid in part with federal funds, or who are engaged in activities financed wholly or in part by federal money. The penalty is possible removal from office.

Cases taken up today involved employés of the Springfield division of the highway division. Between 45 and 50 additional cases, involving Fleming and other employés of the central office of the division, will not be set until the present cases are concluded.

Lawrence V. Meloy, attorney prosecuting the cases, said charges in all the cases included allegations that the employés engaged actively in the 1940 state election campaign, and that in the case of executive officers they collected or caused to be collected political campaign funds from other employés.

The first case to be heard was that of J. L. Todd, Springfield district maintenance engineer for the highway division. Other defendants in the first group to be tried are Charles M. Slaymaker, district engineer; C. B. Cunningham, H. B. Emery, H. C. Bright, Don F. Asey, O. R. Adair, W. R. Berry, A. A. Booth, Robert E. Ferguson, James W. Garrity, Paul R. Pearson, E. J. Raich, H. O. Scheer, C. L. Shively, E. R. Clemmons, L. J. Collamore, R. S. Cooke, and T. H. F. Norris.

'Request' Means 'Order.'

The first witness was James W. Garrity of Chatsworth, a former employé of the highway division and one of those in the first group of 19 defendants. He testified he was requested to help prior to the 1940 election and that in the highway division "request is equivalent to an order."

Garrity, who was employed in the audits section of the maintenance department until September, said he was called into Todd's office in August last year.

"Mr. Todd told us he had a job to do and needed a little help," Garrity related. He added that the "job" was to contact other men and ask if they would make a donation for a campaign fund.

Asked what campaign it was, Garrity answered: "I suppose for the Democratic party in the campaign of 1940."

He said the contribution was supposed to the 2 per cent of the employé's salary for six months.

Garrity said Todd handed him a list of five or six names he was to contact.

RECONCILES PAIR, BARS 5 CHILDREN FROM THEIR FARM

Judge Joseph Sabath brought about a reconciliation yesterday between Joseph Kelley, 82 years old, and Mrs. Elizabeth Kelley, 67, who live on a small farm near Tinley Park. The Kelleys' marital troubles reached court in August, 1939, when Mrs. Kelley filed suit for separate maintenance.

Yesterday they were in court because Kelley is in arrears $106 in his payments. Attorney Harry X. Cole, representing Kelley, told Judge Sabath that Kelley already has had to sell four cows and six horses to pay the separate maintenance and that he favored a reconciliation. However, Cole explained, something would have to be done about the Kelleys' children by former marriages who, he asserted, insist on interfering in their parents' lives.

Finding Mrs. Kelley agreeable to the reconciliation, Judge Sabath issued an injunction restraining Mrs. Kelley's two children and Kelley's three children from visiting the farm.

CRUELTY ADDED TO MISCONDUCT IN ORTON SUIT

Philo A. Orton, wealthy crane and shovel manufacturer, appeared before Judge Cornelius J. Harrington yesterday to add a charge of cruelty to charges of misconduct contained in his divorce complaint against Mrs. Annabelle Adams Orton, 35 years old. Mrs. Orton completely ruined his Thanksgiving holiday, Orton said.

"Mrs. Orton came to my client's apartment at 215 East Chestnut street Wednesday, demanding two vases which she said belonged to her," explained Attorney Daniel A. Covelli, representing Orton. "He gave them to her, but in the argument which followed she struck him, hurting him severely. Then, on Thanksgiving day, she appeared again to demand a statuette, and again she struck Mr. Orton."

Judge Harrington gave Orton leave to add a supplement to his amended divorce bill to cover the cruelty charge. The amended complaint charges Mrs. Orton with misconduct with a mysterious trio, Messrs. R., F. and P.

HURT IN ELEVATOR MISHAP.

ASK MORATORIUM ON EXPENDITURES FOR PUBLIC JOBS

Civic Groups Urged to Join Drive.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 21 (AP).—The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois today called on local civic groups to coöperate in urging government officials to declare "a moratorium on all nondefense public spending."

Thomas E. Donnelley of Chicago, board chairman of the taxpayers' federation, said thousands of letters had been mailed to enlist the support of local taxpayers' clubs and municipal and state officials.

Urging postponement of nonpreparedness construction, Donnelley said: "Any public construction project undertaken at this time will be in competition with defense industries for men and materials, making the cost to the taxpayers exorbitantly high."

Part of National Drive.

Donnelley said the federation's drive in Illinois was similar to campaigns by organizations in 19 other state to support the Citizens' Emergency Committee on Nondefense Expenditures, which is headed by Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Brown university.

"The federation is urging public officials to study the debt situation in each Illinois community and to make efforts to relieve it so that government finances may be conditioned to stand the shock of declining industrial production after the armament boom passes," Donnelley said.

Groups Join Campaign.

The federation listed as co-sponsors of its drive the following local organizations:

Alton Taxpayers' league, Barrington Countryside association, Adams County Taxpayers' committee, Carroll County Taxpayers' association, Clinton County Taxpayers' association, De Kalb County Taxpayers' association, Effingham County Taxpayers' association, Franklin County Taxpayers' association, Madison County Taxpayers' league, McHenry County Taxpayers' association, Morgan County taxpayers' association, St. Clair County Economy committee, Stark County Economy club, Stites Taxpayers' league, Lovejoy; the Tax Survey committee of Stephenson county, Illinois Manufacturers' association, Chicago; Better Government association of Illinois, Chicago; Illinois Federation of Retail Associations, Chicago; Illinois Petroleum Marketers' association, Springfield, and East Side Associated Industries, East St. Louis.

ENGINEER FOUND HANGED.

William Maloney, 52 years old, 5731 South Christiana avenue, a railroad engineer, was found hanged yesterday in a garage behind his home.

Parking Mixup Sequel

Three witnesses whose testimony is expected to clear up the mystery of who smeared lipstick on the door handles of Mrs. Gloria Greer Anderson's car appeared yesterday at the office of Sergt. William Calderwood, Evanston's lie detector expert.

Calderwood would not divulge the results, nor say whether all the witnesses took tests. They are Mrs. Anderson, 20 years old, and Miss Mary Frances Anderson, 19, both of Deerfield, and Miss Virginia Herely, 42, of 1100 North Dearborn street. Mrs. Anderson charged Miss Herely with damaging her car fender and leaving the scene of an accident. A little later she found her car doors smeared.

Miss Herely denied any part in the accident or the smearing, and Judge James M. Corcoran is to pass on the case next Thursday.

MORIARITY ASKS SUPREME COURT REVIEW OF CASE

Daniel Moriarity, suspended policeman on the staff of State's Attorney Courtney, appealed yesterday to the Illinois Supreme court to review his conviction and sentence to life imprisonment for murder.

Moriarity is in Joliet penitentiary. He was sent there by a jury which found him guilty of the murder of Miss Ada Jane Martin, 24 years old, daughter of Mrs. Ada Martin, accused by the state as the head of a loop abortion ring.

Moriarity confessed that he planned to kill Mrs. Martin, fearing she would expose him as a paid employé of the ring. He went to her home at 4637 Lake Park avenue on April 29 and shot the young woman, believing she was Mrs. Martin. The defense contended he was insane at the time.

2 BOYS SET OFF DYNAMITE CAP; SERIOUSLY HURT

Two boys of school age were injured critically yesterday by the explosion of a dynamite cap into which one of them had shot an air-gun pellet. The accident occurred in the Federal quarry, 47th street and Plainfield road, McCook.

The lads are Robert Fisher, 14 years old, 522 South 9th avenue, La Grange, and Robert Murray, 11, of 9436 West 47th street, Brookfield. The Murray boy was stripped of his clothing by the explosion and was injured about the head. The boys had found the caps in a rain soaked box some days before.

TWO DIE AS TRAIN HITS CAR.

Benton, Ill., Nov. 21 [Special].—Floyd Lamastus, 45, Valier, and his son, Floyd Jr., 10, were killed last night at Buckner when a freight train struck their car.

MOST OF EUROPE OPENED TO YULE GIFT PACKAGES

Send Them Early, Postal Officials Warn.

For the first time since the start of the war Christmas gift packages may be sent to most of the countries in Europe, Postmaster Ernest J. Kreutgen said yesterday. He said the ban on parcel post bundles of varying weights is still in effect for all except five countries but that to the others gifts can be transmitted in the small packet class which sets a limit of two pounds three ounces for each package.

"Whether sending to belligerents or nonbelligerents," he advised, "you should send as soon as possible. There's little use setting deadlines because it is difficult to estimate the time it will take these days to make the trip across the ocean."

Weight Limit on Parcels.

The countries to which parcel post gifts, at 14 cents per pound, may still be sent each have definite maximum weight specifications for each package. They are Great Britain, with a top of five pounds per package [no more than two portions of a single food article]; Ireland, 11 pounds; Spain, 44 pounds; Portugal, 22 pounds for Lisbon, 11 for other ports; Switzerland, 44 pounds.

Bulgaria, Finland, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, and soviet Russia are the only European countries which expressed an unwillingness to handle small packets, according to the Postal Guide.

Types of gifts which may be sent vary with each country's postal prohibitions. However, various articles are prohibited in parcel post packages in all foreign countries—safety matches, explosive materials, liquor, subversive printed matter, firearms or ammunition. Similar articles, in addition to jewelry, coins bank notes, or precious metals, are barred from small packets.

Special Food Ship to Sweden.

Parcel post and small packets will be transmitted in American ships to Lisbon, thence to the respective destinations. One exception is food gifts to Sweden, which will go by Swedish freighters.

Food packets to that country, Oldenburg announced yesterday, will be sent thru the cargo clearance committee, a Swedish government agency in New York. The packages, made up in New York, range in price from $3.25 to $7.75, and senders have a choice of twelve standard types containing coffee, tea, dried fruit, meat, fats, soap, and other products.

By agreement, both the British and Germans permit passage of the Swedish boats.

Two Matson Liners to Drop Runs; Turned Over to U. S.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 21 (AP).—The Matson Navigation company notified prospective passengers today its liners Matsonia and Monterey would be taken from their Hawaiian and Australian runs during December and January and turned over to the government. Sailings of the Matsonia for Dec. 19, Jan. 2, and Jan. 15 to Honolulu were cancelled, as was that of the Monterey, Dec. 10 for Australia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 21 [Special].—Vera Corey Henderson, 19 year old girl recently dubbed "the most photographed debutante of the year," was married yesterday to Lieut. Francis C. Parran of the United States marine corps. He is stationed at Parris Island, S. C.

MURDER CLEWS WILL BE SOUGHT IN DEPOSIT BOX

Authorities will open a safety deposit box rented by Samuel Rothaiser, alias Roth, in the Liberty National Bank of Chicago, 3159 Roosevelt road, this morning, in a search for clews that might lead to his killers.

Rothaiser, 55 years old, an ex-convict, former pugilist and fight manager, was shot thru the head Thursday night as he strolled, hands in pocket, in Kedzie avenue near Arthington street. The gunmen escaped in a dark sedan.

Altho Rothaiser is said to have worked in handbooks at one time, Capt. Louis Klatzco of the Fillmore station said yesterday he did not think the killing was part of any gambling feud. Rothaiser, he said, lived in an inexpensive room in the Sears YMCA, 3210 Arthington street, and was known as a man of frugal habits. Capt. Klatzco said Rothaiser was reputed to have been a bootlegger during prohibition.

BANDITS TURN ON HEAT IN TAVERN, THEN SHUT IT OFF

Two youthful customers bought three beers each in a tavern at 5900 Broadway last night, then stood up, produced a revolver and a sawed off shotgun, and announced to Bartender Harold Furlong and 20 startled patrons:

"Here it is, boys!"

They then took an unknown amount of cash from the customers, rifled the cash register of $95, and while one fired his pistol twice into the air, the other loosed a blast from the shotgun into the rear bar. The blast set fire to some whisky, and the gunmen waited patiently while Furlong extinguished the blaze.

"Okay," they said. "Time to cool off now."

And they herded every one into the icebox and left. The victims freed themselves in a few moments by forcing the door, but the playful gunmen were gone.

$3,666,929 BANK EMBEZZLER IS UP FOR PAROLE

Walter F. Wolf, who has served ten years in Joliet penitentiary for embezzling $3,666,929 from the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, where he managed the coupon department, will be among 331 prisoners whose cases are to be considered next month by the state division of corrections for possible parole.

Others whose cases will be heard include William Bartz, burglar, who first went to Joliet in 1930, was paroled, but sent back in 1934 after being caught carrying a pistol. The following year he was released, only to be caught within two weeks while looting a drug store.

Melvin Tresize, sentenced in 1933 for robbery and manslaughter, also will be given a hearing since he has earned good time on his two sentences of from one to fourteen years and one year to life. Tresize killed his common law wife during a scuffle in their home after the robbery of a delicatessen. Cornelius Johnson, veteran parolee and holdup man, and Emerald Blair, former employé of an armored car company who led the holdup of a company truck in 1940, also are eligible for parole.

Entertainers Charged with Disorderly Conduct Freed

Disorderly conduct charges against Miss Colleen Hamilton, 24 years old, a dancer, and Miss Sally Bennett, 31, of 4951 North Wolcott avenue, a singer, were dismissed yesterday by Judge J. M. Braude in Women's court. The charges were filed Nov. 2 after Miss Hamilton fell out of a moving taxi in which both were riding.

OLD GRAVEL PIT CAVE-IN BURIES 3 CHILDREN; ALL DIE

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 21 (AP).—An abandoned gravel pit near Loveland caved in late today, burying and killing three children at play. The victims were identified by Deputy Sheriffs as: Alberta Smith, 10, daughter of Mrs. Mary Smith of Branch Hill; Leroy Bandy Jr., 11, and Betty Seward, 11, both of near Twightwee.

Firemen worked for half an hour with an inhalator in a vain effort to resuscitate the children.

The only witness to the cave-in was Adabelle Perry, 10, who ran screaming to her mother when her playmates disappeared in a rumble of dirt and stone from the edge of a gravel bank as she approached.

TRIBUNE AWARDS NINE 'WHEEL O' FORTUNE' PRIZES

Telephone Operator Wins $1,000 Check.

Today THE TRIBUNE publishes the names of the nine grand prize winners in the $10,000 "Wheel o' Fortune" competition. The entrant whose zodiacal reading was found most interesting by Doris Blake receives a cash prize of $1,000. Second prize is $500 and awards of $100 each are made to seven other persons, whose readings and photographs also appear today.

For six consecutive weeks, beginning Sept. 22, the readings and photographs of 726 persons were published in the daily TRIBUNE, each receiving a cash award.

The grand prize of $1,000 goes to Miss Lorraine Cameron, 8642 Euclid avenue, Chicago. Miss Cameron is a telephone operator. Second prize of $500 is awarded by Miss Blake to Mrs. Virginia Kaftan, a young housewife of 1619 West Juneau avenue, Milwaukee, Wis.

Soldier Gets $100.

The seven entrants who receive $100 in this final distribution of cash prizes for interesting zodiacal readings are:

Private Chester F. Martin, 5647 South Campbell avenue, Chicago.

Alice Coppersmith, R. F. D. No. 1, West Olive, Mich., 12 years old.

Virginia L. Baxter, 303 North Virginia street, McLeansboro, Ill.

William F. Robinson, 1014 Eaton street, Hammond, Ind.

Etta Thompson, Oakland, Ill., a housewife and mother of seven.

Roger F. Shanahan, 10 years old, 5347 Melrose street, Chicago, a pupil at St. Bartholomew grammar school.

Kathryn Paarman, 405 East Rushholme, Davenport, Ia., a private secretary.

Photographs and readings are as follows:

WINNER OF $1,000

Lorraine Cameron, Chicago—June 29: Your sign of the zodiac is Cancer; your planetary ruler is the moon. You are a complex and impressionable person, inclined to be conservative and conventional. Altho you endeavor to avoid betraying emotion, you are sensitive to an extreme. It is possible that you lack self-assurance, but if you can cultivate poise and aggressiveness, your keen mind and versatile interests can be utilized successfully. Natural abilities include an excellent memory and a talent for dealing with the general public, but you can also be happy and capable as a homemaker. You must learn to guard against a tendency to be restless and introspective and to attribute too much importance to trivial matters. Monday should be your best day for advancement.

WINNER OF $500

Virginia K. Kaftan, Milwaukee, Wis.—Feb. 11: You were born under the sign of Aquarius; your birth star, or planetary ruler, is Uranus. Altho not always a follower of the conventions, since you have an independent turn of mind, you are innately refined. You possess abilities for social success and are an excellent mixer, able to converse easily and fluently on a wide variety of subjects. Your mental processes are swift and sure, and you are not easily swerved, once you have decided upon an objective. As a friend, you can be most unselfish and kindly, but are not easily imposed upon and can be outspoken and critical at times. Guard a tendency to be too set in your opinions; learn to compromise in dealing with others.

WINNERS OF $100

Private Chester F. Martin, Chicago—May 12: Your sign of the Zodiac is Taurus, your birth star or ruler, Venus. You are a self-reliant, determined person, endowed with persistence and practicality. As a rule, your disposition is affable and pleasant, but on sufficient provocation, your temper is likely to flare explosively, and in anger, you can be most obstinate and imprudent. Ordinarily, you are generous and kind hearted with a constructive point of view and latent reserves of both physical and mental energy. Outdoor activity is beneficial and enjoyable to you. Essentially a stable person, you can excel in a directorial or executive capacity. Pleasant environment and the acquisition of material things are essential in your scheme of life. Nine is your key number.

Alice Coppersmith, West Olive, Mich.—March 25: Aries is your sign, ruled by Mars. You are a highly social, magnetic person, with strong affections and tender sensibilities. You must learn to think things out straight and true and not to be swayed by your emotions. You will have to guard also against inactivity, and train yourself to finish every task you undertake.

Virginia L. Baxter, McLeansboro, Ill.—June 19: Gemini is your sign of the zodiac; your birth star, or ruler, is Mercury. You are well-fitted to adapt to almost any circumstance, and are equally fortunate in possessing an agile mind which helps you to act quickly and sensibly in any emergency. Self-expression is easy and natural for you, since your metal processes are direct and effortless, and you have an active imagination. With your ability to be charming in your contacts with others, a vocation embodying opportunities for handling the general public might be best for you. Interested in everything, you are an entertaining and amenable companion, but must be on guard against an urge to waste your talents thru lack of definite purpose and concentration.

William F. Robinson, Hammond, Ind.—Feb. 10: You were born under the sign of Aquarius; your ruling planet is Uranus. You are a complex person, independent in thought and not inclined to be closely bound by convention. You have great abilities for work and good powers of concentration, but you are at your best when given a free hand to do your own planning. Gifted with much latent energy, you probably have a pleasant personality, but are inclined to be rather positive in your opinions, and it is extremely difficult for you to reach a compromise. Social and generous, you are kindly and unselfish, but must guard against a tendency to dominate and make decisions for those you love. Wednesday should be your best day for personal advancement.

Etta Thompson, Oakland, Ill.—Jan. 14: Your sign of the zodiac is Capricorn; your ruling planet is Saturn. A practical mind and a persevering nature have helped you to be self-reliant and worthy of the trust people instinctively place in you. You can be calm in any emergency. You can organize well, and occasionally slip into the habit of dominating others. For greater enjoyment of life, you should guard against being overly serious.

Roger F. Shanahan, Chicago—Sept. 14: Born under the sign of Virgo, your ruling planet is Mercury. Mentally, you have the ability to be intelligently curious and progressive and, properly trained, you can learn to reason well. Cultivate your keen sense of discrimination, curb your impulsiveness and guard against a tendency to find fault with others. You are gifted with a likeable personality and have latent powers of leadership.

Kathryn Paarman, Davenport, Ia.—July 25: Your sign of the zodiac is Leo, symbolized by the lion. Your ruling planet is the Sun. Loyalty and leadership are natural qualities in your make-up. Those who have your friendship are fortunate indeed, since you have a genuine ability for unfailing, concrete generosity. Your pride and dignity are notable, but you enjoy and appreciate affection and approval. Natural decisiveness and independence, however, cannot be allowed to overrule. Work in a supervisory capacity is well suited to your capabilities.

FBI WILL OPEN POLICE TRAINING COURSE MONDAY

Albert H. Johnson, special agent in charge of the federal bureau of investigation in Chicago, yesterday announced plans for a six day school for the training of police officers. Instruction will begin next Monday in the United States Customs house, 610 South Canal street.

Problems related to military emergencies will be emphasized in the instruction. Among them are espionage investigations, traffic control during troop movements, air raid precautions, and prevention of looting.

Policemen from cities and towns of 18 northeastern Illinois counties will be invited to attend. The same course of instruction will be offered later in Sterling, Rockford, and Ottawa.

ALLMAN KEEPS HIS 41ST YEAR AS POLICEMAN

Police Commissioner Allman, who has headed the department for more than 10 years, yesterday observed his 41st anniversary as a member of the force. Commissioner Allman spent the day in his office, but explained that he will have a belated celebration today when he goes to South Bend, Ind., for the Notre Dame-Southern California football game. Allman has held the post of commissioner longer than any of his predecessors. The previous record was held by Capt. Francis O'Neill, who was appointed in 1901 and served a little over four years.

Petitions Federal Court to End Citizenship of Five

Petitions to revoke the citizenship of five naturalized citizens were filed yesterday in federal District court. J. Albert Woll, United States attorney, said revocation of their citizenship is being asked because they established permanent residences in their native countries. Those named are: Dr. Albert Knapp, formerly living at 31 North State street; Max Fahr, 3647 Fremont street; Irma Prasse, 1616 North Menard avenue; Paul Kuerzdaufer, 5440 North Clark street, and Raimondo Frettiglia. The latter is now living in Italy and the others in Germany.

JUSTICE MILL GRINDS ALMOST TO STANDSTILL

Laundry Union Suit Is Continued Month.

BY GEORGE HARTMANN.

Rebellious members of local 46, AFL Laundry Workers' union, who filed a suit Sept. 5 demanding the ouster of the union president, William J. Donovan, and an accounting of funds amounting to $1,000,000, are finding that the mill of justice grinds slowly.

On Sept. 9 Judge Peter H. Schwaba of the Superior court issued an injunction to prevent the eight rebel members from interfering with union officials or the union officials from interfering with the discontented members. He ordered the books of the local opened for inspection.

Books in Union's Hands.

A full hearing has been delayed because government agents took the books for an income tax examination. Attorneys in Judge Schwaba's court, agreed to a continuance until Dec. 22 on the ground that the government still was in possession of the records.

Inquiry yesterday disclosed that the books had been sent back to the union "several days ago."

Judge Schwaba has indicated he wants to put auditors chosen by himself to work on the records, which covers dues and initiation payments by 12,000 workers; that he is not interested in the tax angle, but is interested in whether the workers are being served properly.

The judge said last night that he was ready to order a forthwith examination at any time and that it was up to the attorneys to name a date. He said the present agreed continuance was the last he would grant.

Quizzed About Slaying.

Donovan, who was questioned in 1938 about the ball bat slaying of Lloyd Rourke, an independent laundry driver, is a comparative newcomer in labor circles. In the prohibition era he was a small time bootlegger and later was a gambler. About 1937 friends put him in control of the laundry workers.

Whatever the influence back of him, it was strong enough to make him also president of the Laundry Workers International union, which is reported to have $100,000 in its treasury.

One of the charges in the local union's suit is that the members who pay in 40 cents a week dues never have had a chance to vote on their officers and have not had any financial accounting. Another was that Donovan wasted the union's money in expensive trips for personal pleasure.

LAWYER REPORTS HE WAS ROBBED OF $5,000 IN COUNTY BUILDING

Police are investigating the report of Attorney Howard Kerr, who said he was slugged unconscious and robbed of $5,000 in $100 bills in the county building shortly before noon yesterday. Kerr said a man stopped him when he was leaving the building at the Clark street entrance.

Howard Kerr.

Kerr said the man prodded him with what he believed was a gun and marched him to a stairway landing between the first and second floors. Kerr said the bandit slugged him and he fell unconscious to the floor. When he regained consciousness an envelope containing the money was gone.

Kerr staggered to the lobby information booth. He was treated by Dr. David Jones for a face cut. Dr. Jones said Kerr had received a mild brain concussion. Kerr, 36 years old, said he had cashed a check for $5,950 earlier in the day. He has offices at 38 South Dearborn street and lives at 2402 Elmwood avenue, Wilmette.

DIES OF HEART ATTACK.

Joseph Gesicicki, 71 years old, 4021 South Wood street, died of a heart attack last night while visiting at the home of his brother, Thomas, 5124 South Marshfield avenue.

20 Hurt When Bus Tips as Driver Averts Collision

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 21 (AP).—An interurban bus overturned today, injuring 20 persons, two of them seriously. The driver, William H. Robinson, 26 years old, of Ashley, Ill., said he lost control of the bus as he swerved to avoid a collision. Mrs. Laura Eddie, 61, suffered a fracture of the pelvis and Leonard Stone a possible skull fracture. Both live in St. Louis. The bus, carrying 31 passengers, was en route from Peoria to St. Louis.

WARN OFFICIALS GRAND JURY HAS GAMBLING DATA

Call for Suppression of Known Places.

The grand jurors investigating gambling in Cook county told several officials called before them yesterday that they had specific information about places where gambling is still in evidence. Warnings that the officials would be held personally responsible for suppressing these places were reiterated, it was reported.

Among the witnesses was Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien. He was quizzed on the disappearance of Lieut. Fred Hager of the Willow Springs county police station. Hager's information on allegedly phony raids which he conducted against gambling resorts in Cicero is much wanted by the jurors.

Denies Knowledge of Hager.

O'Brien was reported to have denied knowing anything about Hager's whereabouts and to have assured his questioners he would like to find the lieutenant and bring him in.

The sheriff professed also to know nothing about where his former police chief, Lester Laird, was hiding, nor where the heads of the biggest gambling syndicate — Jack Guzik, Frank [the Enforcer] Nitti, Murray Humphreys, and Edward Vogel—could be found.

It was rumored that one of the grand jurors remarked that the sheriff was insulting the intelligence of the grand jurors and added that slot machines had better not be put in operation.

Mulhausen Is Questioned.

Lieut. Fred Mulhausen, who has taken over the Willow Springs district in the place of Hager, was asked a sharp question: "Why is a certain café in Blue Island operating now as a gambling house?" Mulhausen said it was news to him and he would raid the place right away.

Lieut. Henry Andel, commanding the Morton Grove highway police station, was told to bring in all his records of raids for a year, it was reported.

The jurors have been looking into the peculiar case of a handbook at 27 South Wabash avenue, which was raided twice by Chicago policemen in one afternoon—and found running full tilt the second time.

How Place was Raided.

It was indicated by witnesses that the first raid on this place, made by policemen of the morals division, was cursory; that the raiders simply walked in and asked for two men who would like to be arrested, took them away, and left the place running.

Police Commissioner Allman already has stated that he would take summary action against any of his men found "not acting like policemen."

Two men were arrested and charged with being keepers of handbooks as the result of raids by Central police yesterday. They are Harry Daniels, arrested at 229 West Washington street, and Al Pearson, at 637 South Wells street.

On Tuesday the grand jury is to interview a number of professional bondsmen who customarily bail out men arrested in gambling raids. The jurors want to know who pays the fees for this ever ready service.

Kills Daughters

Mrs. Annella Bergeron, who shot young daughters to death yesterday then seriously wounded herself.

A young mother who had been in poor health for more than a year yesterday shot and killed her two infant daughters in their Riverside home, then turned the weapon on herself, inflicting a wound that doctors said will be fatal.

The victims are Mrs. Annella Bergeron, 30 years old, 508 Kent road, Riverside; Brenda, 2½, and Annella, 16 months. The tragedy was discovered by Mrs. Bergeron's husband, Walter, 43, an X-ray technician, when he returned from work at Hines Veterans' hospital. Both children were dead in their cribs. Mrs. Bergeron was unconscious on a studio couch in a nearby den.

Bergeron told Chief Clarence Neuschaefer of the Riverside police that his wife had been highly nervous since Annella was born, and that she had been under treatment at various institutions until about six months ago. He said he had partially dismantled the gun, a hunting weapon, and hidden the shells.

At the Berwyn hospital, where an emergency operation was performed on Mrs. Bergeron, she was not expected to recover.

TRAINING SCHOOL HEAD VOWS TO WEED OUT THUGS

4 Who Overpowered Guard Are Indicted.

A sincere effort to weed out the young thugs and criminals from the merely misguided inmates of the Illinois State Training School for Boys, near St. Charles, was promised yesterday by Russell W. Ballard, new superintendent of the institution.

Ballard and two of his aids toured the unfinished Sheridan branch of the school—a penitentiary in everything but name—near Sheridan, in La Salle county.

It will be at least four months before the Sheridan branch is equipped with machine and woodworking shops to keep its 62 inmates busy, according to the superintendent.

No Dumping Ground for Thugs.

Ballard, however, emphasized that his promise did not mean that the Sheridan branch will be a dumping ground for incorrigible thugs.

"This is a well built structure, but just another school cottage as far as I'm concerned," Ballard said of the steel and cement structure with its cell blocks, bulletproof observation posts, and escapeproof windows.

"We'll send here the boys that stricter supervision and closer study may straighten," he said. "For the boys who leave us, as those four did last Monday, there must be other treatment—Pontiac reformatory, or eventually Stateville. We cannot help them."

Threaten and Rob Watchman.

The four he mentioned, all 17 years old, were indicted yesterday by the Kane county grand jury on charges of robbery, assault with intent to kill and larceny. Extradition proceedings to return them from Clayton, Mo., where they were captured, were started.

They overpowered a watchman at the school, threatened his life with butcher knives taken from the pantry, and took his car and his wallet containing $50. They are William Langkals, John Fletcher, Joseph Rose, and Alex Biernacki.

'ENRICHED' BREAD CURES PELLAGRA, SCIENTISTS TOLD

The recently developed "enriched" white bread now on the market is a simple and inexpensive cure for pellagra, a skin disease common in the southeastern section of the United States, Prof. C. A. Elvehjem, vitamin expert, reported yesterday. Elvehjem, professor of biochemistry at the University of Wisconsin, spoke at the convention of the Central Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers in the Stevens hotel.

Enriched white bread contains vitamin B in the form of nicotinic acid. Previously this acid was available chiefly in meats, whole wheat bread, and some vegetables, Prof. Elvehjem said. He explained that 80 per cent of the nicotinic acid in whole wheat is lost in milling white flour, but that the deficiency is now being restored in the enriched bread.

The convention at its closing session today will hear James Hillier, staff member of the research laboratory of the R. C. A. Manufacturing company, Camden, N. J., speak on the spbject, "Into Unseen Worlds, the Electron Microscope."

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM

Save Our Republic

TWO EXPLANATIONS OF MR. ROOSEVELT.

Mr. Roosevelt has tossed another appropriation demand at congress. He wants another 7 billion dollars. The dazed and dumb house committee immediately went to work on the automatic controls which will give the executive what he wants. That executive acts as if in draining off the income and wealth of the nation he were dealing with the salt water of two oceans.

Since July of last year he has asked for authorization of more than 66 billion dollars in expenditures. No old time monarch ever put such a strain on the resources of a nation inherited by him. No new dictator ever had so little regard for the permanence of his subjects' economic structure.

Estimates of the current national income put it at about 90 billion dollars. In a little more than one year's program, in a long run of from three to ten years, Mr. Roosevelt asks for 66 billions of this. The latest estimate of the national wealth, including everything of property value in the country, puts that wealth at 308 billion dollars. Mr. Roosevelt in the beginning of his current campaign asks for a fifth of it.

How is such conduct to be explained? Mr. Roosevelt can be accounted for on one of two grounds, but no other. Either he has been affected over a period of years by the heightening excitement of his surroundings, or he is deliberately trying to destroy our way of life politically and economically.

The two explanations might at times appear to dovetail, but highly emotionalized conduct in hazardous times is hardly the behavior of an ingenious manipulator of revolutionary changes. It may be doubted that Mr. Roosevelt is stimulating his emotionalism in order to conceal his strokes at the American institutions his administration inherited and which his administration seems destined to wreck.

There is abundant evidence that Mr. Roosevelt extracts extreme satisfaction from the situations in which he involves himself and his unfortunate country. His fondness for sensational maneuvers has been fully disclosed.

From the moment of his first inauguration he has exercised powers which would go to the head of a man who was not determined strictly to discipline himself and to put the responsibilities of his office above his personal ambitions and gratifications. Mr. Roosevelt has never resisted the temptation to assume a dictatorial attitude in the emergencies confronting the country.

Except on one or two occasions the checks and balances supposed to control an overambitious man in our system of government have failed while Mr. Roosevelt has been chief executive. And it has been the further misfortune of the country that when Mr. Roosevelt was checked he was able to accomplish his purposes just the same.

The best remembered instance of this was the Supreme court bill. He demanded the right to control the court by packing it and the United States senate stopped him. Nevertheless, time gave him the opportunity to fill vacancies on the bench and he got what he wanted. Again when he endeavored greatly to increase the executive power and was stopped by congress, rapidly moving events, largely agitated by him, produced the results he desired.

The third term in itself was evidence of an ambitious wilfulness disregarding the best counsels in American history, and Mr. Roosevelt was able to have his way because he had already done what wise men had feared. He had built up a governmental organization with subsidies and special favors and was able to swing the necessary votes to break down the wisest tradition in the country.

His determination to be a world figure was revealed when he broke up the world economic conference by declaring for a monetary policy which dumfounded the peoples of many countries. Thoughtful Americans are forced to distrust a chief executive who demands a voice in all the affairs of the world, however remote from the interests of the United States. Mr. Roosevelt has conceived himself to be a world-minded man whose duty it was to exhort, advise, admonish, berate, and threaten the governments of other nations. In these excitements he has taken a great deal of personal delight. They would inevitably affect a man who, having thrown off all other restraints, was unable to discipline himself.

The sea rendezvous with Mr. Churchill was a stage piece which indicated that Mr. Roosevelt's dramatic concern with his own doings was the prevailing notion in his head. Mr. Churchill submitted to this because he expected to get something and did. Mr. Roosevelt continually finds his cue in the next turn of events and he applauds himself as he comes out on the stage to be something more than Hamlet in a mad world.

If these feverish and continually sought excitements are not to explain Mr. Roosevelt's indifference to the fate of his own country, if they are not to explain his destructive prodigality with the resources of the nation, if they are not to explain the rashness of his sacrifices of his own people's security and well being, then it must be assumed that the collectivist minded men about him are using him to destroy the American system of society.

These men are all on record as to their plans and as to their intentions. They may be using an excited man to create the conditions from which the consequence they desire will flow. He, however, has favored them and given them encouragement, and his admiration of the Stalin dictatorship might be regarded as an indication of ulterior purposes concealed by flutterings and ecstasies which seem to be in vain and purposeless.

There is no doubt as to the intentions of the people high in the confidence and the counsels of Mr. Roosevelt. Some of them are fools and some of them are reckless conspirators. They are contriving the ruin of the American republic but, whether they are nuts, cranks, or bolts, Mr. Roosevelt may be their tool or he may be their inspiration.

It may be that when he has used his prestige to accomplish their purposes they will put forward a Lenin to his Kerensky. That was the prophecy of Dr. Wirt, years ago, and as time passes evidence supports the wise Gary schoolmaster.

Apparently the salvation of his country, if it is to be saved, will be in the hands of a generation now in less than the teen age. When their elders have suffered and passed off the scene there may be a recovery of the American way of living, a relighting of the American flame, after the adults have properly suffered for the insane governmental conduct to which they have submitted.

THE BRITISH VIEWPOINT.

THE TRIBUNE is happy to have been able to publish Lord Kemsley's admirable presentation of the British case for an American declaration of war on Germany. A million readers of this newspaper, to say nothing of the readers of the newspapers which subscribe to our foreign news service, have reason to be grateful to him for his clear statement of his point of view.

It is too bad that so much of the British propaganda in this country has come from snobbish, alien-minded Americans. Relations between the two countries today would be on a much sounder basis if British statesmen and men of affairs had carried the ball themselves, instead of handing it to sycophants. The use of these Americans can be justified, of course, on grounds of expediency; a nation at war uses every weapon it can lay its hands on, including foreign fifth columnists.

Americans may, and very generally will, disagree with much that Lord Kemsley has put forward but they will not resent it as they resent the same points when made by one of our own people. When, for example, Lord Kemsley says he wants an American declaration of war not to gain American man power but rather for the moral effect upon Germany, the American reader is not persuaded but he is not enraged. Lord Kemsley may well be convinced that we could declare war and not send an expeditionary force but Americans ought to and do know better. We believe we can save England from defeat without sending our conscripts over seas but if we declare war we shall be intent not upon saving England but upon crushing Germany. For that task, our man power will be required on the continent and perhaps on all the continents of the eastern hemisphere. The moral effect of our declaration would be less than nothing if it were not followed, and followed promptly, with a huge army.

Neither, to choose another example, can we accept Lord Kemsley's account of the British origin of the bulk of our institutions, our art, our philosophy, and our literature. That we have inherited much goes without saying but to an extent which Britons seldom realize we have inherited from many lands and, of course, we have given to many lands. It is simply not true that Britain is our mother country in the sense that she is the mother country of some of the dominions. It is natural for a Briton to take the contrary view and express it; it is unnatural and degrading to hear the doctrine of dependence expressed by Americans who ought to know better.

At still another point Lord Kemsley blames us for the Versailles and post-Versailles fiasco. It was our 14 points and our "sudden and disastrous withdrawal from continental affairs after the most meddlesome and aggravating interference with them" which made the present war inevitable. It was our loans to Germany which put her in a position to rearm. These are attitudes which are perhaps natural in a Briton but which appear absurd to Americans. When we left Europe, Germany was defeated and disarmed. If the peace of Europe depended upon an impotent Germany, Britain and France were in a position to keep her impotent. They didn't for reasons of their own which may have been good or bad. Our loans to Germany were paralleled by corresponding loans from Britain, France, and every other country which had capital for export. Our loans were made with the whole hearted approval of our former allies. They were intended, among other things, to bolster the republican régime in Germany but unfortunately the acts of our former allies contributed to the disintegration of the republic.

Lord Kemsley has put his case well, but after reading him with care we are still far from persuaded that America should ruin herself and sacrifice her sons to assist the British in their conquest of Asia and Africa. It is not in our interest to starve the people of Europe. As we read the history of our country and of Europe we can see little to be gained from our participation in this war to compensate us for the huge and certain losses which we must suffer from it.

RED HODGSON.

Horace M. Hodgson was unknown to the great army of TRIBUNE readers. Nevertheless, we make no apology for this public expression of our loss in his death, for the loss is almost equally theirs. The newspaper they read has been made a better, more accurate, more readable newspaper by his work.

While his ability caused him in recent years to be given important executive duties, Red Hodgson was a copyreader during most of his life with THE TRIBUNE. His job was to edit and correct the stories written by reporters. He never handled a story without improving it.

Of his friendship, which so many of us enjoyed, we cannot speak today.

Editorial of the Day

PULLING NO PUNCHES.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

War, as Gen. Sherman observed, is no basket picnic. The adage, it is clear, will apply with especial aptness should Adolf's crew set out in their flat bottomed barges for Dover Beach or Land's End or the fuzzy Scottish moors.

When playing for keeps, England, a recent news item shows, means to pull no punches. Troops engaged the other day in maneuvers in the Midlands were told to resort to every weapon in their quiver. To harass the enemy, even acts of sabotage were advised. Accordingly, one soldier pillaged the "enemy" general's razor and notched its cutting edge. The officer, as a result, inflicted cuts on his jowls and became so enraged as to be unfit for command the rest of the day.

With the bars let down we are afraid the Nazis themselves, who are reputedly expert at the art of the rabbit punch or the knee in the groin, may counter in their own unpleasant way. They might, for instance, feel free under the circumstances to bash in the enemy's teapots, or even put knots in the old school ties. It is shocking to think of the spirit of frightfulness let loose in this way.

"The greatest developments in the art of camouflage in recent years have been made by Russian military experts," says an American war correspondent in Europe who forgets American beauty parlors.—Reno Evening Gazette.

They think the tax bill that is to follow this one will practically do away with having to draw your will.—Atlanta Constitution.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

MR. PEPYS ENDS A WEEK.

22d Nov.—Stayed home on Thanksgiving to improve a sudden cold in the head, but ate my turkey with relish and did my work at home, too, for in a daily scrivener's life holidays are not all beer and skittles. Have heard army men talk about orders to be "on alert," which are only given in critical times, but newspaper men are always "on alert" without orders.

Missed the reopening of the Great Northern playhouse, to which I was invited, but must go there soon, since I have an affection for the place and have seen many great things there. For a time I thought this theater had been torn down when the hotel beside it was destroyed, and no doubt most people think likewise because the entrances, and especially on Quincy street, seemed a part of the vanished building. But it survives and recalls such fine shows as "The Student Prince" and "Desert Song," and the marvelous actors from Moscow, and "The Blue Bird." Indeed, the first glimpse Chicago ever had of the Ballet Russe, now so famous and popular, was in this playhouse.

Today I will go to the last football game of the season at Northwestern and will cheer for my side like a synthetic alumnus, and will urge the boys to have no mercy for Mr. Zuppke of Illinois, who will be taking his last bow as a mastermind. Yet I fear Mr. Zuppke will have many tricks to pull out of his hat, and he, too, will have no mercy on our boys, and if he can make them sing the One Point Blues, as they did last Saturday, there will be great cheering from the friendly enemies on the east side of the field.

Lost a friend and colleague this week, a fine and able man who passed too young, and no more will Red Hodgson, who was always good-natured, and helpful, and wise, telephone me at night to tell me there is a little mistake in my column to be corrected. He will be long remembered among us.

BELOVED ENEMY.

(To Bob Zuppke.)

Bring back, bring back the afternoons
On Illinois Field,
When Stagg's tight band of fierce Maroons
Fought hard but had to yield.
Bring back the days when Fielding Yost
Thought victory was due,
When Grange, the feinting, fleeting ghost,
Ran wild thru Maize and Blue.
Bring back that famous fighting team,
Hal Pogue and Potsy Clark;
And still you'd need, to really scheme.
A Yost or Stagg to mark.
O, you've upset Ohio State,
Wisconsin and Purdue;
You've trounced the mighty and the great,
The Gophers and N. U.
All true Illini know you're best!
Forever uppermost!
But still we know, to keep your zest,
You need a Stagg or Yost!

Uncle Louie.

Opera as Breakfast Food.

We was eatin our usual sociable breakfast this morning when brother says to me, well, so you four live wires took in "La Traviata" last night. I wish you luck in your cultural efforts.

Thanks, I says, I wish you the same in your weekly visits to the prize fights. Prize fights is more true to life, he says. No, they ain't, I says, this opera was too true to suit me, with the woman gettin the worst of it like always, and the baritone doing the dirty work as usual with his soft soapin about how she'd do better somewhere else.

Maybe you're prejudiced, says Uncle Miles, because ever since that audition guy told you there's a big difference between clamor and glamor you ain't had no use for baritones.

Well, Ma says, you're not exactly a virtuoso yourself, as you found out when you caught your nose between the saw and the ham bone.

Not to change the subject, says brother, ain't there a tune in it called "Forceful Louie"? That might be kinda zippy.

There's no Louie in it, says Ma, and if there was he'd be just nervy, not forceful.

So then brother says come on, let's get over to the freight yard, I'm gettin outa my depth here.

Katie Crowe.

NOVEMBER WINDS ARE CRYING.

(With apologies to A. E. Housman.)

November winds are crying;
My heart is crying, too,
For laughing lads who loved me—
A jolly, boyish crew.

Some laugh today, as ever,
But by some other sea;
And some, no doubt, are grieving;
And some are still with me.

But not for them I sorrow,
But for the friends who made
My boyhood like an Eden,
And now lie in the shade.

November winds are crying,
And shall I not cry, too?
One cannot play at singing
Whose heart is dark with rue.

The Progressive Education of a Dog.

In contributions about my little wire-haired poodle, Choppy, I'm afraid he has been done an injustice. His name is not really Choppy. It is Chops. We called him Chops because he has mutton chop whiskers and is fond of lamb chops. The reason we now call him Choppy is that it is so much easier to use in calling him. We can call Chop-e-e-e-e-e in a high, quavering falsetto and it is very musical.

It really does not matter anyway because he never answers, but do not get the idea from this that he is not well trained. He is, but we decided to be different. We trained him not to answer.

MILK-LEG OR PHLEBITIS.

WE think of the blood as coursing merrily thru the arteries and veins. So long as the heart keeps beating in full vigor, we have reason to believe that there is no danger that the stream will stop and the fluid coagulate. Nevertheless, a condition known as "thrombophlebitis" does exist. It means that a clot has formed in a vein—perhaps because some type of inflammation has affected its walls.

But there are other causes, and many of them can be prevented with the adoption of simple precautions. When we lie quietly, particularly if the heart action is feeble, the return flow to the pump may become exceedingly sluggish. Such a situation may confront some of our elderly friends who spend much time on a couch.

We all have heard of "milk-leg," which may make its appearance subsequent to childbirth. One or both legs may become white, puffy, and painful. The same episode may follow an operation or an injury because the patient remains passive. In consequence, the pushing action which the muscles exert in forcing the vital fluid back to the central station is lost.

Furthermore, if the body has been deprived of water because of diarrhea or vomiting, the liquid within the vessels may become more viscid—glue-like. This retards the current and favors blocking. Then, too, bacteria may attack one of these conduits, bring on swelling, and thus narrow the caliber of the tube.

As a rule, the condition is not dangerous, altho a period of rest in bed will be required. Only when smaller [collateral] vessels take the job of transporting used up blood to the cardiac apparatus will the parts be restored to normal. If the obstruction extends for a long distance—several inches—recovery will be tedious as new channels must have time to form, learn how to collect the fluid and dispatch it on its way.

Usually the first symptom is pain in the groin, the inner side of the thigh, and the back of the knee. The nurse may recall that a few hours earlier, even the day before, the victim's pulse was more rapid and a slight fever was detected.

If the disturbance is mild and the bulging moderate, relief will come within approximately 10 days. If the episode is severe, however, and if it is accompanied by continued elevation of temperature and great discomfort, it may persist for weeks. In such circumstances the area may be long in resuming its normal contours. In fact, one limb may remain slightly larger than the other, even tho function is regained completely.

We all are interested in what can be done to avoid the disorder. When necessary surgery is performed the patient should be encouraged to move the legs as much as circumstances will permit. It is common practice to elevate the foot of the bed and thus invoke the aid of gravity. In addition, gentle massage may be practiced several times daily.

Again, physicians have learned that it is unwise to allow a sufferer to sit up straight for more than a brief interval. The reason is that the posture invites thrombosis because the large blood vessels in the groin may become kinked. A semireclining attitude is far safer, with the feet higher than the body. Another procedure is to make certain that the tissues are supplied plentifully with water.

Should stoppage develop, however, under skilled management the edema will begin to subside shortly. When this is observed, mild exercise of the part may be begun. As time goes on, with the application of a snug bandage from the groin to the knee, the victim may be permitted to walk about. But these steps cannot be hurried as a relapse may occur. A clot in a vein means—go ahead slowly.

KIDNEY GRAVEL.

J. H. writes: What causes kidney gravel?

REPLY.

Concretions may form in the collecting space within the kidneys because of irritation, infection, or some change in the character of the urine. The theory has been advanced that a lack of vitamin A in the diet is a possible factor. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on kidney stone.

WARNS WOULD-BE FARMERS.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—There is a new breed of "sucker" in existence today—and I don't refer at this time to the "suckers for dear old England." I am thinking of the many men who are purchasing farms, some near, some distant, some small, and some large.

Now farming is a specialized business. You must understand it, and before buying you should realize that the yield in good times is only 2 to 4 per cent on the investment. In poor times there are frequent deficits. Prices of crops fluctuate and prices of land fluctuate. Management presents many problems. Constant expenditures are irritations for the owner. Good tenants are hard to find.

So, Mr. City Man, take it easy. Investigate before buying that "dream farm." Don't fool yourself. Farm land will be affected just the same as anything else in case of inflation and it also will feel the effects of any depression which may follow. If you are a rich man a farm will make a nice hobby, a show place, and an expensive plaything. These are the facts and will bear investigation. P. M. M.

DOESN'T BLAME THE CLUB.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—The sincerity of Gene Latimer's criticism of the Illinois Athletic club is not questioned; but is he justified in condemning the entire membership and management of the organization for the apparent ignorance or overofficiousness of some underling—possibly a doorman or bellman?

It is regrettable that Mr. Latimer was prevented contact with one of the club's executives when on his mission of mercy, for without doubt he would have had their fullest coöperation for the relief of the injured lady, even to the extent of placing one of their guest rooms at her disposal.

The writer holds no club memberships but is acquainted with the members and personnel of many, and has never found them to be hesitant or reluctant to "help the other fellow" if in distress be it within or without their portals.

A TRIBUNITE.

TRIBUTE TO MR. THIELBAR.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 18.—I am impressed with the matter of fact manner of the notice of the death of Frederick J. Thielbar. There wrs a man around whom a sermon might have been written, whom any one could have emulated with pleasure and profit. He was a clean, Christian character who lived out his convictions in a big, broad way. He was always doing something kindly for others.

Among his many activities was that of some managerial capacity of the old Wesley hospital where, I believe, he died. He had more to do, perhaps, with planning and building the new Wesley hospital than any other person, save the one who furnished the money. It is sad, it is fate, that, perhaps, his greatest wish should have matured and opened and he had not the pleasure of seeing it in bloom. JAMES W. PARKER, M. D.

HEARS FROM "TALL MEN."

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 18.—May I thank you for publishing my letter about tall men in the Voice of the People, Nov. 13. I have already received many letters asking for advise or offering to coöperate in our study. F. B. RIGGS.

WOULD LET DOUGLAS LIE.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Instead of removing the tomb and monument of Stephen A. Douglas as contemplated by the Democrats of the Illinois legislature and reported in THE TRIBUNE a few days ago I think the money could be put to a better use if it were thrown from the top of the Wrigley tower down into the Chicago river. The taxpayers would at least know which way it went. Douglas, from what I have read of him, was a political artful dodger, about the only thing he ever genuinely did was to hold the hat and cane of Mr. Lincoln at the first inaugural. Of the Missouri compromise he once said "this line was canonized in the hearts of the American people as a thing which no ruthless hand would ever be reckless enough to disturb," then single handed he brought about its repeal by having passed the Kansas-Nebraska act opening up 485,000 square miles of territory to the slave holder.

In 1850 the city council of Chicago voted that the fugitive slave law was cruel, unjust and unconstitutional and that the city police should not be required to help arrest fugitive slaves. Douglas went to a massmeeting here and won a vote for repudiation of the action of the council. He couldn't take it either for on being razzed by a Chicago Saturday night crowd for his political carryings on at Washington he looked at his watch, shook his fist at the crowd and shouted "It is now Sunday morning, I'll go to church and you may go to hell!"

The above from Muzzey's and Clement Woods' American histories, Charnwood's Lincoln and Carl Sandburg's "The Prairie Years." THOMAS K. DAVEY.

10 PER CENT DON'T SMOKE.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Congratulations to you on your "Smokes for Yanks" program. Keep up the good work. I am thinking, however, of that 10 per cent of those fine fellows who do not smoke. How about THE TRIBUNE finishing the job and starting a campaign to furnish chocolate bars [or what have you] for the forgotten 10th? This is really something to think about as there is nothing thrilling about a cigaret to a fellow who doesn't smoke. IRA A. GAY, U. S. N., 1917.

CHEERS FOR THOSE STUDENTS.

Downers Grove, Ill., Nov. 14.—Three cheers for the students in Syracuse. They do not want to be sold as cannon fodder. There wouldn't be any war cries in Washington if the war mongers themselves, from top to bottom, had to risk their lives. They like to have the honor; the poor soldier may live in dirt and mud and risk his life. A CITIZEN.

MODEL, NOT CANNED, SERMON.

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 18.—Concerning the Rev. John Evans' front page "Rap at Canned Sermon Hailed by Worshipers," it is suggested that just two words be changed in the quoted "footnote" of Dr. Tittle:

"The minister of First Methodist church in Evanston does not intend to use the model [not canned] sermon which last week was sent to him and to thousands of other American clergymen from the office of Mayor La Guardia—a sermon on freedom with whose content he fully agrees but which he feels bound to regard and deplore as the first attempt ever made in this country to cement [not regiment] the churches of this country."

The sermon is not criticized and apparently was suggested in a truly religious spirit. If it had been accepted in the same spirit and read in all pulpits it is conceivable that much good would have resulted. It is presumed that some, perhaps many, pastors did read the sermon to their congregations without any feeling of regimentation. If there was any "foolish blunder," as suggested by a New York minister, it was surely on the part of those who do not want religious unity or any aid from outside the church.

REGIMENTING YOUNG WOMEN.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 18.—Why not warn the girls and women against joining this civilian defense which is simply regimenting the women of America as in Russia and Germany. They are even displaying uniforms to entice the young women. Is not this the very thing we deplore in dictator countries?

MARATHON CONTESTS.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Some time ago I believe there was a law passed which made it impossible for walkathon or marathon contests to operate in Chicago.

1. Is there still such a law or [2] whatever happened that permits a walkathon to be in progress here now? H. N.

1. Yes. Section 99-13 of the City Code reads as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to conduct, aid, participate in, or receive any receipts from a so-called marathon or endurance contest participated in by dancers or skaters, or by persons suspending themselves from great heights or in hazardous places except in the prosecution of building or repair work."

2. Ask the police.

1. Without looking at a calendar, tell me on what day of the week next New Year's day falls. Sunday Tuesday Thursday Saturday.
2. Which one of these would a housewife use for shortening? Salt Sugar Lard Baking Powder.
3. The current National Open golf champion of the United States is Bobby Jones Craig Wood Lawson Little Sam Snead.
4. At eight bells on shipboard, the time would be Midnight 5 A. M. 8 P. M. 10 P. M.
5. Our marine corps motto is "Semper Fidelis," which means In God We Trust Faithful Sword Brave Fighters Always Faithful.
6. Every good citizen should be familiar with the fundamental laws of the land, especially those regarding our entry into war. What must be the vote of congress before our nation can declare war?
   .....Majority of both houses?
   .....Two-thirds majority of either house?
   .....Two-thirds majority of the senate and majority in the house of representatives?
   .....Two-thirds majority of both houses?

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

Cornell Concert and Ball to Be Given Dec. 27

BY JUDITH CASS.

CORNELL alumni who might want to attend the Yale Dramatic club's presentation of "The Waterbury Tales" at the Civic theater on Saturday, Dec. 27, will have to forego that pleasure, for the Cornell University Musical clubs have sent word that they will give a concert and Christmas ball here the same night. And surely no good Cornell man would be caught at a Yale affair when there was a Cornell one at the same time! And vice versa, of course.

The Cornell concert and ball will be given in the grand ballroom of the Palmer House. Richard D. Vanderwarker is chairman of the Chicago committee that is making the arrangements. Clark J. Lawrence, Waldo F. Tobey, and Leonard H. Vaughan Jr. are working with him, and Mrs. Rollin D. Wood is chairman of the women who are assisting.

Entertainment to Combine Concert and Light Opera.

The entertainment, entitled "Red Rolling," combines a concert and a light opera. It takes its title from a football cheer used spontaneously by the undergraduates at the games. Numerous dinner parties are being planned to precede the program and ball.

The Eighth Street theater definitely has been chosen as the place in which the Princeton Triangle club will present "Ask Me Another" on Monday night, Dec. 29. Theodore S. Chapman, Laurence A. Carton, and Charles C. Fitzmorris Jr. are in charge of making arrangements for the show. This year it is a revue, a type never before tackled by the Trianglers. Among those who already have planned large parties for the performance are the Laurance H. Armours, who will have 24 guests; the junior Henry Faurots, who will entertain a party of 18, and Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, who has reserved 24 tickets.

Howard B. Peabodys to Give Supper-Dance for Daughter.

The debutantes and their beaux will not be staying at home on Christmas night, as their parents fondly hoped they would, for Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Peabody of Lake Forest have decided to give a supper-dance for their daughter, Joan. It will be at the Casino. Miss Peabody, a sophomore at Mills college in California, made her debut on June 27 at a tea at home.

Mrs. J. Beach Clow is giving a dinner party tonight at home in Lake Forest to celebrate Mr. Clow's birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Clow will give a cocktail party on Tuesday at the Racquet club preceding the annual dinner of the North Side Boys' club, of which Mr. Clow is president. The dinner will be at the club in West Elm street.

William B. Cudahys Giving Cocktail Party for Painter.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Cudahy will entertain at cocktails from 5 to 7 o'clock tomorrow for Igor Pantuhoff, young Russian portrait painter who is visiting in Chicago. At present Mr. Pantuhoff is the house guest of Mrs. Joseph C. Belden.

Mrs. Cudahy's stepfather, Howard W. Fenton, will miss the party, as he has gone west to see his daughter, Mrs. Fenton Morrill, settled in her new home in Pasadena, Cal. Mrs. Morrill and her children, Priscilla and Fenton, started for the coast about 10 days ago.

Mrs. Howard Linn left immediately after Thanksgiving dinner for several weeks of hunting in the country around Middleburg, Va.

Miss Margaret Thompson of Lake Forest arrived at home just in time for Thanksgiving turkey, accompanied by Mrs. Charles G. Cushing of New York. On Tuesday Mrs. Cushing will go to the Clarence Prentices' in the same north shore town for a few days' stay before returning to the east.

President and Mrs. Snyder to Entertain at Luncheon.

Northwestern's last football game of the season, to be played this afternoon against Illinois, will be preceded by a luncheon to be given by President and Mrs. Franklyn Bliss Snyder in the dining room under the stands. Among the guests at the luncheon who will sit in the president's box at the game are Gov. and Mrs. Dwight Green, President and Mrs. Arthur C. Willard of the University of Illinois, the James Clearys, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster, the Chester Tripps, Newton Farr, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Boynton, the Bentley McClouds, the Kenneth Burgesses, President Emeritus and Mrs. Walter Dill Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Wells, and Dr. Fred Fagg Jr.

Several senior members of the Northwestern football team will be inducted into naval aviation between halves, and a group of naval officers and their wives will be among the Snyders' luncheon guests.

Illini Club Will Hold Its Football Dinner Tonight.

The Illini Club of Chicago will hold its 40th annual football dinner tonight at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Gov. Green will be the principal speaker at the banquet, which will follow the Illinois-Northwestern game. Presidents Snyder of Northwestern university and Willard of the University of Illinois will be the special guests.

Thirty midshipmen from Abbott hall will be house guests in the homes of several Hinsdale families this weekend so that they may attend the Hinsdale Junior Infant Welfare Charity ball which will be given tonight in the Hinsdale Village club. Mrs. Russell F. Stephens is chairman of the ball.

Guests at the Key club tomorrow night will cast their votes for the winning recipe in the third of a series of recipe contests. The competition will be between Mrs. Samuel D. Rowe's canape margery, Mrs. Jarvis Hunt's onion soup, Mrs. Paget Cady's turkey Vanderbilt, and William J. Caveney's baked spareribs with sage and onion dressing. Loring D. Coleman won the first contest and Mrs. Carl G. Leigh the second.

Baltimore Debutante Visitor and Her Cousin

Miss Helen Stewart Brauns (left) and her cousin, Mrs. Paul Oliver. Miss Brauns, a Baltimore debutante, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Edwin P. Dewes, who gave a small dinner-dance last night at the Casino for Miss Brauns and Debutante Lana Jelke of Lake Forest. Miss Brauns and Miss Jelke, who is a cousin of Mrs. Dewes, will make their debut in Baltimore on Dec. 1 at the Bachelors' cotillion. Tonight Mrs. Oliver and her sister, Mrs. Richard Juergens, will give a small dinner and theater party for their cousin. Miss Brauns returns to her studies at Bennington college tomorrow.

Shiny Evening Jackets Ready for Gift Trade

BY REA SEEGER.

Dozens of new evening jackets have been unpacked, ready for the first gift shoppers and for the demands of the career girls. For these are the dress parade tops that complete some of the most unusual dinner and evening clothes. There are stunning black affairs sprinkled with hundreds of multicolored sequins, looking as tho a box of colored confetti had been poured over them. The white model splattered with the same colored spots is positively breathtaking.

Some smooth satin finds also glitter with multicolored beads and sequins and there are ice blue beauties with this glitter stuff. The new square cut neckline outlined with flashing rows of sequins are something to behold and worth every penny of the marked price. Beautiful shades of cerise, jade, and sapphire blue are liberally embroidered in braid, beads and designs worked in the glittering masses of sequins and paillettes.

Long fitted sleeves and the short lengths that reach just below the elbow and the very brief affairs are available in the velvet, crêpe, and jersey jackets.

Some very handsome all-black jackets are made of dull textured crêpe. One has short sleeves and the entire front covered with rows of two inch jet fringe. Another long sleeved affair glints with black paillettes and still others are trimmed down the front and over the chest sections with shimmering jet bead bands. Gold with black, silver with black, and black braid trimmed black jackets complete one of the best assortments of these dark tops.

Shimmering brocades in small patterns, satins, taffetas, and the net jackets with sequins, rhinestones, and braid designs come in pastels, brilliant colors, and in handsome copper, black, navy blue, and wine red.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Customer Training.

The Thanksgiving turkey has lost its plumpness and is down to "skin and bones." Shimmering Christmas trees bedeck the stores and Christmas buying has officially begun.

The girls ranged behind the counters have been trained as sellers. But alas, who trains the customers?

A vast army of women workers would have a merrier Christmas if the customers were as well instructed as the salesgirls. Here's what you can do to help them . . . and yourself:

Cut down on your lunch hour, if need be, and ask your employer to give you time off in the early morning to shop.

Have your shopping list in order before you start, be it short or long. Have correct sizes, colors, price limitations in mind before you begin.

Bear in mind that the salesgirl is not responsible for shortages or substitutes. She has no inexhaustible pack on her back like Santa Claus. She is behind the counter to sell merchandise.

Why Women Work.

Why do women work? Do they work to provide the trimmings, the furbelows of life? Or do they work for the same substantial reasons men work—to take care of themselves and their dependents?

A survey conducted by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs finds some interesting answers. Of 12,043 women polled—from 47 states, engaged in 84 different occupations—almost half of the number support some one else wholly or partly, and one in every six supports a household ranging anywhere from two to eight persons.

Definition.

Overheard at a soda fountain: "She is the kind of woman who has to have a window oper. in an air conditioned train."

Orchids to Her.

A young careerist had complained that she never had been given an orchid in her life! Came her birthday. Two-thirty ir the afternoon . . . an orchid from a swank florist shop, sent by a business associate. Three-thirty . . . another orchid, sent by a gay young couple of whom she is fond. Five-thirty . . . her husband came home with two orchids. Six-thirty . . . she went to a friend's home for dinner and by her place was . . . an orchid. She pinned them in her hair, on her shoulder, at her slim waist. "I was," she says descriptively, "a mess."

Office Motto.

A good motto for any office is Ambrose Bierce's observation that "the positive person is usually he who is being wrong at the top of his voice."

Meaning of a Contract.

"Women," says a prominent judge, speaking not for court record, "are woefully lacking in an understanding of the meaning of a contract and are, therefore, less valuable on juries in contract cases."

Employment, my lamb, is a contract, unwritten tho it may be. A charge account is a contract. A bank account is a contract. A mortgage is a contract. Insurance is a contract. There is an implied contract to pay for any goods or services which you accept and for which another person expects compensation.

Gov. Green Will Speak at Illini Football Dinner

Gov. Green will speak at the 40th annual football dinner sponsored by the Illini Club of Chicago this evening at the Edgewater Beach hotel. President Franklin B. Snyder of Northwestern university and President Arthur Cutts Willard of the University of Illinois will be guests.

'Carmen' Sung by Coe Glade and New Cast

"CARMEN."

Opera in four acts by Georges Bizet to a libretto by Henri Meilhac and Ludovic Halévy, based on the Prosper Merimée novel. Presented by the Chicago Opera company in the Civic Opera house Friday evening, Nov. 21.

THE CAST.

Carmen	Coe Glade
Micaela	Dorothy Kirsten
Don José	Sydney Rayner
Escamillo	Carlo Morelli
Frasquita	Annette Burford
Mercedes	Margery Mayer
Morales	Stefan Kozakevich
Zuniga	Douglas Beattie
Dancairo	Richard Wentworth
Remendado	Giuseppe Cavadore
The Littlefield Ballet.
Conductor	Carlo Peroni

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The resourceful Chicago Opera company was able to repeat "Carmen" last night with a cast completely different [as far as the principals were concerned] from that of the Nov. 10 performance.

Coe Glade, instead of Gladys Swarthout, sang the wayward cigaret girl who gives the opera its title and much of its zest. Far from understating, as Miss Swarthout did, Miss Glade went thru the opera like a whirlwind, relating every phase and every gesture to her own violent, vivid conception of the rôle.

Whether one likes the Glade Carmen or not, it is impossible not to be awed occasionally by the vitality that bubbles beneath it. And on the purely musical side, it must be admitted that the singer's complete and passionate identification with the character results in some terrifically effective phrasing and coloring.

Sydney Rayner was the José. He sang with a pleasant resonance and a nice dignity of style. He did not try to play literally the part of the rather naïve, love smitten young soldier and was content for the most part to be himself.

Dorothy Kirsten, essaying Micaela, her first big rôle here, handled the first act music very successfully. Her voice was clear, her delivery sure. Moreover, there were flashes of sudden intuition as a result of which her tone colorings would become genuinely radiant and her phrases fall into exquisite contours. In the third act aria her manner was a little stiff, and her singing did not achieve quite the glow it had had earlier.

Carlo Morelli, the Escamillo, sang the Toreador song in a suitably swashbuckling manner. Douglas Beattie was an arrogant and convincing Zuniga. Annette Burford did a very bright and pleasing Frasquita to the dark Mercedes of Margery Mayer.

Credit for much of the attractiveness of the performance went to Conductor Carlo Peroni, to the Littlefield ballet, to Kurt Herbert Adler [who had trained the chorus] and to Louis Raybaut [who directed the staging].

Rev. John J. Code to Talk on W-G-N's Church Hour

The Very Rev. Msgr. John J. Code, pastor of St. Edmund's Catholic church, Oak Park, will be the speaker on the New World broadcast of the Chicagoland Church hour on W-G-N at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Tomorrow's broadcast marks the third in a series of Catholic broadcasts under the auspicies of the Chicagoland Church hour. The Rev. Edward V. Dailey, editor and publisher of the New World, directs the New World series.

Front Views and Profiles

On Death and Cats.

The Chicago Opera company's performance of Aïda Wednesday night was as fulsomely terrible as its author intended it to be—perhaps more so. It long has been an established fact that the noisy Aida and her passionate Rhadames come to an entombed death in the final act. Taking this into consideration the anguished comment of a veteran operagoer to her husband is easily comprehensible. Grabbing his arm as the final curtain went up, she cried, "Let's go. Let's not wait to hear them die. Under the circumstances it would be too sadistic." . . . Anna Fitzu has found a new black kitten, Fortuna; she snatched it up as it crossed her path two nights before the current opera season opened. She found her first black kitten in Havana in 1923, her second in Nice after an unfortunate evening at roulette. "I took the kitten to my room, got $35 and went back to the table," she says. "Before the night was done the $35 had become $10,000." The only trouble with Fortuna is she thinks she is a pussy willow and insists on hiding in vases of flowers.

Whether to emulate
The gaunt Hepburn,
And diet,
Or cultivate the languor
Of Miss Hedy Lamarr.

Indian Summer at the Mayo Clinic.

". . . Today is a warm, blue, sunny day, and I saw a little man. He was wearing on his feet high yellow shoes encased in brown rubbers; on his head a tan fur cap, and in his blue eyes, to quote E. B. White, the unspeakably bright imploring look of the frustrated."

"Heard Melodies Are Sweet, but Those Unheard. . . ."

A ward patient in the new Wesley Memorial hospital will be able to lay his head on a small pillow and hear a concealed radio attuned for his ears alone.

The Line Is Thin, Doctor.

One of the examining psychiatrists at the veterans' hospital in Dwight attempted to plumb the sanity of a new inmate with, "What would you do if you saw a battleship coming down this corridor?" "Get out my submarine and sink it," the inmate retorted quickly. "Ah," the psychiatrist said in triumphant cunning, "but where would you get your submarine?" "The same place you got the battleship," came the patient reply.

When All the World Sang.

First nighters at Village Green Thanksgiving had rare delight when the curtain fell in the cozy little Great Northern theater. Jack Norworth, the genial Judge Peabody of the comedy, began a curtain talk, but instead, at the insistence of his audience, sang many of his songs which America has sung since the turn of the century. "I have written 2,000 popular songs," he said with a sly twinkle. "Seven of them were successful." Then, to the accompaniment of nostalgic sighs from the packed house and murmurs of "Still good, still good," he began, his voice still sweet and clear. . . . "Smarty, Smarty, Smarty." That was 1906, but many still joined in the refrain:

"Don't forget what the teacher taught
You'll be sorry if you get caught . . ."

And "It's Apple Blossom Time in Normandy," which he first sang at the old American music hall here. And "Fancy You Fancying Me"; he introduced this at the Garrick in 1917. Then a leap backward across the years to his first hit, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," and finally, with all the audience joining in, "Harvest Moon." It was a warm and beautiful evening, a tear in the eye, a song in the throat.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

From the notebook:

Know what promises to be among the most exciting of all the Christmas pretties this year? Sachets. More gorgeous than ever, they are too. You can be wildly extravagant, choosing elaborate sets in satin, lace trimmed, that will hold and scent practically a whole lingerie wardrobe. Or you can find one or two exquisite little pillows that don't cost a lot but are beautifully made and even more beautifully perfumed. Among fragrances carnation is reaching great heights in popularity.

The compacts this year are going to be good gifts too. Among some you'll be seeing are round, square, and oval ones in lucite etched in such a fashion that it looks for all the world like Lalique. They're lovely and the lucite GLOWS in darkness! Imagine how sensational this will be in the dimness of night clubs or opera box! It's a soft, pretty glow that the lucite takes on. You'll be hearing lots more about these, and about the cigaret cases of the same material, as Christmas draws closer.

More and more houses are offering bags, for day and evening, fitted with cosmetics. A wise man can't make a mistake in choosing one. Most of them contain lipstick, compact, comb, and a little vial of perfume and they're as important as costume accents as they are in their rôle of beauty aid.

Good Morning!

O Yankees have grit
And O, Yankees have dough
And that's why Johnny Bull
Tolerates Yankees so.

* * *

But a Yank flyer is a pretty crude article as compared with an RAF man. No regard for discipline . . . nondependable. . . . And when it comes to women—well—he's just a potential heel. "A woman is only a woman but a good cigar is a smoke" sort of fellow!

"He's everything that you AREN'T," says the American heroine to the Yank about the RAF squadron commander who, in his gentlemanly way, has beaten the Yank's time. . . . And in that remark you find this film's flavoring.

Well, I knew an Englishman once who wasn't perfect, and I'm getting darned sick of this toleration business myself.

Aside from all the "Thank God, we are not as you are" subtleties, "A Yank in the RAF" is a good picture. Well acted, exciting, and informative. . . . Especially thrilling are the aerial battles—"authentic . . . filmed over Germany, France, and England with the full coöperation of the British Air Ministry . . . " and episodes reproducing the evacuation of Dunkirk.

It is frankly "help Britain" propaganda. Tyrone Power, as you know, is of English descent. . . . John Sutton and Reginald Gardiner were well known on the English stage. Director Henry King is a Virginian.

See you tomorrow.

"Justice Deferred"

By William MacLeod Raine

INSTALMENT XII.

Jack's eyes did not lift for an instant from the ugly lupine face of his enemy. "You caused the message to be sent that brought my father to his death. At the time of the Longhorn fight you were in Santa Rita. Old Ab had bought you body and soul.

"If you weren't one of the killers who attacked Peter Waugh at the corral it was because your new boss was afraid you hadn't guts enough to do the job, that you would run away, as it turned out all of his brave warriors did, from a man dying on his feet but still fighting."

"That's a lie," Tracy blurted. "I've never been gun shy of any man alive."

"More likely he had you steal into the corral after the fight to sneak away the knapsack with the money. How much of it did he let you keep?"

"If I had a six-shooter with me——" Waugh cut into the impotent outbreak of rage. "If you had one you would shoot me, provided I didn't have a weapon within reach and it was dark enough so that you couldn't be recognized. You're a false alarm, Tracy. All these years you have got away with your bluff because it never has been called. Now you're thru—just a broken windbag."

"I'll show you about that," the foreman cried. Rage and humiliation choked up in his throat. In all the turbid years of his ascendency no man had ever dared to speak to him like this. "I'll never rest till I've stamped on your grave."

Parker said curtly, "Let's go, Warren."

"What's yore hurry?" the big man demanded angrily. "This bird can't send me down the road, not a foot of the way."

The gunman let his slaty eyes, contemptuously understanding, rest on his companion. He knew the man was trying to save face by boasting. "Okay with me," he answered, drawling the words slightly. "If you want to stay and whip this guy again I'll hop on the fence and take a ringside seat."

Tracy ripped out an oath and climbed stiffly into the car. "Get in, damn you," he ordered.

"Something you've forgotten," Parker said. He turned to Fallon. "Brad wants you to come back to the house with us. We'll take you in the car."

The line rider said "Sure." But his pinched face belied the brave word. Tiny beads of sweat broke on his forehead. The sun-faded eyes showed the fear in him. After so long a precarious safety, danger had flared up again. He still knew too much. What he had seen was a menace to at least three men still living.

"Tell Brad he can't come just now," Waugh said. "Tell him I'm having a little talk with Jim."

"You paying his wages?" Parker asked.

"Not yet. Just say to the big boss that I'm borrowing him."

Fallon said to Jack dully, "I reckon I better go."

The gray, drained face of the little man was easy to read. If he went, it would be with dragging feet and dread in his heart.

"No, you'll stay with me," Waugh ordered. He turned to Parker. "Don't let me keep you when you're ready to start," he said.

"I won't," the gunfighter replied coolly. He turned to Carey. "I'll take my gun, Carl."

Carey emptied the cartridges from the magazine and handed the weapon to its owner, who let his cold gaze rest on the face of the stranger.

"Be seeing you again, fellow," he promised quietly.

"Any time that suits you," Waugh agreed.

Parker got in the car and Tracy started the engine. The three men left at the cabin watched the automobile disappear into a draw. The first of them to speak was Jack.

"Looks as if somebody had started a war," he said with a laugh.

Fallon stared at him, awe and worry in the twisted, wrinkled face. "That's just what you've done, Mr. Waugh. There's gonna be trouble and nothing but. I know this outfit from old Ab down. They won't take this lying down. Right now I'll tell you that you can't finish what you've started. Take Tracy for one. You've done hurt his pride. He'll never rest till he has got even. I'd take Ike's advice and light out sudden if I were you."

"Good medicine," Carl assented. "Tracy looked as whipped out as a flop-eared hound after a bulldog had got thru chewing him up. Nobody needed more than he the lesson you gave him. Even at the A C they will be tickled that somebody gave him a walloping. But it won't do him any good. He'll be more poison mean than ever, and as Jim says, he'll figure he has to get you to save the reputation he has built up. Maybe you might handle him, but Brad and his bully boys will be on your neck, too."

"Jim is the one we have to worry about," Waugh said. "It won't be safe for him here now. Brad Clinton won't know how much he has told us and he won't dare to take chances. He'll never trust him again. If he is as tough an hombre as I've been told, he will have to try to shut up Jim."

"I'd ought to have gone with Tracy," Fallon said miserably. "I don't reckon I could talk myself outa this now. Course I'm not to blame But Brad won't care about that."

He puckered up his face into anxious thought. For 20 years he had been under the dominion of Tracy, an unhappy man who must forever keep a clamp on his tongue. He knew that a stronger man would have left the ranch and let the Clintons do their worst. But he had always been malleable and easily led, one destined to take the line of least resistance. Never had he dared to force the issue, and now after half a lifetime it had been forced for him.

"Nothing you could say to the Clintons would make them believe you now," Waugh said. "They will think you have told us all you know about the Longhorn killing."

"Sure enough." The little man stroked slowly his unshaven cheek. "I've done got my tail in a crack, looks like!"

The eyes of Carey met those of Waugh. "We'll have to do something about this. We got him into the jam. You're right. Jim won't be safe here. The only thing to do is to take him with us."

"He's going with me," Waugh announced. "I'll look after him."

"Going with you where?" the line rider wanted to know.

"I'll give you a job at my ranch. What Carl says is right. If you stay here you are likely to be shot down from the brush some night. My place is 500 miles from here. Over in Texas. You'll be all right there."

"Maybe if I explained to Tracy——"

"No. You wouldn't be believed under oath." Carl looked steadily at the little fellow. "Throw in with us and we'll protect you."

Fallon grinned without mirth and slid a whimsical look at Carey.

"And who'll protect you?" he wanted to know, adding an explanation: "The A C outfit is too big and too tough for you, boy. No, sirree. I reckon I'll light out for parts unknown."

That did not suit Waugh at all. He wanted the old fellow where he could put a finger on him when needed. But he did not want Fallon to think he was being coerced.

"I'm going to make it my business to look after you until I can take you to my ranch," he said. "Jobs aren't so easy to get nowadays. You had better take this one waiting for you, Jim."

"Sure. That's swell of you, Mr. Waugh. I've had 20 years of hell here and I'll be right glad to get away. The A C always have ridden herd on me like I was a slave."

"For no reason at all, except that you happened to see too much. Well I'm reading you the emancipation proclamation right now, old-timer. From this hour you are a free man standing on your own feet."

"I hope you're right," the line rider said doubtfully.

'Fickle' Has Difficulty Getting Man

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"I'm a girl in my early thirties. Ever since I was old enough I've had many dates, and have always toyed with the idea that some day I would marry happily. Now, however, I'm wondering if that time ever will come. What makes me think real hard about myself is that, in spite of my feelings about marrying some time, I feel sure I won't, unless some man uses modern cave man tactics and comes right out with the flat statement that 'You are going to marry me, young woman!' That's the man for me. I'm fickle and I know it!

"You see, I went with a man for almost two years. I firmly believe he was in love with me at the time, but because I wasn't sure of my feelings, he dropped me. Recently I heard he is married.

"The man with whom I'm now going has my heart now, because he was so dear and understanding about the way he thought I felt when I heard of my former love's marriage. Being the way I am, I was guilty of dramatizing the situation, so that he felt I was more upset than I really was. He tells me he cares for me, but insists I don't care for him. I do! If only he would say to me: 'You're going to marry me, young woman!'"

FICKLE.

You sign yourself well, Fickle! The trouble with you is that you are so in the habit of switching your affections that you can't settle them on any one man. Stop talking about other men in your life.

Be an adult, not a child. If you feel you love this man of the hour, say to yourself, as many a woman has said before: "You're going to marry me, my man!" Don't let him know you're after him, however, or he may be frightened away.

Universal day—A friendly day, but high powered. Keep poised.

December—For those in a two year this year, the coming month ought to be lively and gay—or at least much gayer than the year has been. It is a five month and so you can make small changes in your program, look for entertainment and fun, even romance, if you are at the age when you might normally expect it. Get the benefit of the more energetic vibrations by going places and doing things. Things don't come to you, you have to go seek them so don't blame it on the numbers if you remain dull and uninteresting sitting at home waiting for something to happen. You make it happen. Sharpen your wits and let your eyes sparkle with enthusiasm. Seek adventure and new experiences thru trips, the theater, publicity.

Meat prices are up, so it's more important than ever to keep a close check on the food budget. Many families are finding, to their dismay, that they must cut down on their consumption of meat or peel the budget in another place where it will hurt just as much.

Let me remind homemakers of this important fact: The lower priced cuts of meat are every bit as nutritious as are the higher priced cuts, which are more costly just because they are more in demand. Pot roasts and stews may be delicious, and they furnish the body with just as essential minerals, vitamins and high quality protein as do the expensive roasts and steaks.

The less demanded cuts often go further, too, since they may be incorporated into main dishes with potatoes, noodles, spaghetti, macaroni, or vegetables, and thus stretch to serve a greater number of persons.

Lamb loin chops are expensive meat, but lamb neck slices are not. And they can be very good.

Braised Lamb Neck Slices.
[Serves four.]
4 double lamb neck slices
2 tablespoons lard
2 tablespoons flour
Salt, pepper

Have double lamb neck slices cut ¾ to 1 inch thick. Dredge with flour, brown in hot lard, season with salt and pepper. Add 1 cup water. Cover and cook very slowly for 1½ hours.

Serve boiled rice or noodles with the neck slices. Canned or fresh green beans, apple and celery salad, baking powder biscuits and orange gelatin pudding will complete a low cost menu.

Beef brisket with beans is a "stretched" meat dish, but a savory one.

Brisket with Beans.
[Serves four.]
1 pound beef brisket
1 pound navy beans [2 cups]
1 or 2 onions
2 tablespoons brown sugar
Salt, pepper

Soak beans in water overnight. Drain and put into a heavy kettle. Add sugar, onion, salt, and pepper. Place meat on top. Cover with water. Cover kettle and bake in 350 degree oven, or simmer on top of stove, until meat is tender and beans are done. Add more water when necessary. Taste to determine the amount of salt and pepper. You'll need 2 teaspoons, anyway.

A good beef or lamb stew never comes amiss. If the meat is nicely browned first, the flavor will be wonderful.

Beef Stew.
[Serves six.]
2 pounds beef neck or shank
Flour, salt, and pepper
Lard or other fat for browning
6 small onions
6 small carrots
6 small potatoes

Have meat cut into inch cubes. Dredge with flour and brown in hot fat. Sprinkle liberally with salt and pepper [about 2 teaspoons salt]. Cover with hot water, place a lid on the kettle or skillet, and cook very slowly until meat is tender, adding vegetables 45 minutes before serving. Allow about 2½ hours for cooking. Dumplings may be dropped onto the stew 15 minutes before serving. Cover kettle and cook dumplings without removing lid.

Lovely Thoughts Lend Beauty to a Woman's Face

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

There's a lot to be said for beautiful thoughts. They do more to spread real beauty over the face than most women realize.

Women in love get that "starry-eyed" look, and seem more beautiful, even to their worst rivals. A twinkle in the eyes just does not belong to an uninteresting face. A smile that evokes a smile in return transforms one's countenance into momentary attractiveness it does not have when black thoughts rule the mind.

As a woman adds years to her age, the kind of thoughts she has been accustomed to thinking show in her face. If she has a resentful nature, an aggressiveness that antagonizes, an unhappy disposition, eventually her inward self is evidenced in the lines of her face and the expression of her eyes and mouth. She could have the most perfect features possible, but if she did not think beautiful thoughts all of her life, her facial beauty would be negligible.

So why not develop the habit of thinking right? Instead of feeling resentful when some one does something you don't like, try to reason that you will not be disturbed, but will counteract their act by doing what you feel is right. Then, once having made up your mind, forget the incident and think of more pleasant things. In anything you undertake to do, do it to the best of your ability, but pleasantly. Don't look for slights. Don't expect the impossible, or act like a spoiled child when you cannot have your own way.

LAST SATURDAY'S QUESTION.

Question 33: You are West, declarer, at a three no trump contract. The opponents made no bids. Your hand and dummy are as follows:

West [declarer]	East [dummy]
♠ K J 10	♠ 9 6 4 3
♥ K Q 4	♥ A 7 6
♦ K 6 3	♦ A 7 2
♣ A K 5 2	♣ 6 4 3

North opens a low heart. What are your plays to the first two tricks?

Answer: You must win with king or queen of hearts and lay down a spade [preferably the king] from your own hand. An attempt to lead spades from dummy may cost you the game. For full explanation, see "Today's Hand." [No demerit for improper play, but take 15 points credit for correct play.]

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question 40: You are West, declarer at a seven no trump contract. The opponents made no bids. Your hand and dummy are as follows:

West [declarer]	East [dummy]
♠ A 5	♠ Q 6 4
♥ A K Q 4 2	♥ 5
♦ 7 5 4 3 2	♦ A 8
♣ 3	♣ A K Q J 10 8 5

North opens the diamond queen. What must be your play at the second trick? This is the last question of the 1941 Examination.

TODAY'S HAND.

Rubber bridge.
West, declarer.
Neither side vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ Q 8 5
♥ J 9 8 3 2
♦ 9 5 4
♣ Q 10

WEST
♠ K J 10
♥ K Q 4
♦ K 6 3

EAST
♠ 9 6 4 3
♥ A 7 6
♦ A 7 2
♣ 6 4 3

SOUTH
♠ A 7 2
♥ 10 5
♦ Q J 10 8
♣ J 9 8 7

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 club	Pass	1 diamond	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	3 no trump	[final bid]

This hand formed the basis of question 33.

North opens the heart three. If declarer [West] assumes that he must play for the spade queen on side, which means that he must lead spades from dummy, he will be defeated. Suppose he wins the first trick with the heart ace and leads a spade. South ducks and the ten loses to the queen. Now North, who can see that the heart suit is hopeless, shifts to a diamond. Declarer wins with the king in order to preserve dummy's entry, but soon finds that that entry cannot be held. He leads the spade king; South wins with the ace and returns a diamond. Dummy's only entry is driven out while declarer still blocks the spade suit with his jack. Dummy's spade nine never can be brought home.

If declarer merely counts winners after dummy is put down, he can see nine sure tricks by conceding two spade tricks while retaining an entry to dummy. Hence it is foolish and dangerous to risk being blocked in the spade suit, and the correct play is to start spades from the closed hand. The king is the right play because the queen may possibly be blank.

It is equally foolish, because unnecessary, to play for three tricks in clubs.

An Original Recipe for a Fruit Cake Is Today's Winner

An original fruit cake recipe wins today's $5 recipe contest prize. Mrs. Emma Weber, 2226 South Grove avenue, Berwyn, Ill., has made this cake for the last 10 years, always with good results.

It's a light colored, "cakey" fruit cake, and the contest editors found that men as well as women were enthusiastic about the results of a test made with the recipe.

Prize Recipe

CHRISTMAS FRUIT CAKE.
[Six pounds, baked.]
Fruit part.
½ pound chopped candied fruit mixture
¼ pound whole candied cherries
¼ pound candied pineapple hearts
½ pound figs
1 cup dark raisins
1 cup bleached raisins
1 cup currants
1 cup nuts [pecans and walnuts]
2 pineapple rings [red and green] for trimming cake
A few extra nuts for garnish.

Use fruits and nuts whole. [Cooking editor's note: We cut up the figs.] Roll in a little flour to keep from sticking or settling down into the bottom of the cake.

Cake part.
1 pound sugar
½ pound butter
6 eggs, separated
1 pound flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ cup milk
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup grape wine or brandy

Cream sugar and butter well. Add beaten egg yolks. Then add mixed dry ingredients and milk [sift flour and baking powder together twice]. Add next wine and vanilla. Add well beaten egg whites, then fruit mixture. Mix all well together. Pour into a paper lined, spring form tube pan, 10 inches across. Use heavy brown paper to line pan and allow it to extend up over top of pan an inch. Do not grease paper. Bake for two and one-half hours at 275 degrees. Let this cake get cold before putting it into a tightly covered cake box. It will keep for a year or longer.

Send your favorite recipe to Recipe Contest, CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Perhaps it will win one of the daily prizes.

Don't Cause a Child to Be Mother-Deaf

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

It's easy to talk too much. Of course, a great deal of conversation is inevitable, I suppose, in order to teach our children what we want them to do, and how to do it, but it is futile to run on and on over trifles.

It isn't a little child's interest whether or not he has on his best or his worst coat when he's supposed to be able to amuse himself in a play space. It's up to his mother to see that he wears the proper clothes for the occasion.

In a busy household, when the day begins at about 6:30 or 7 o'clock in the morning, and much has to be accomplished, it's easy for a mother to become tired and irritable over carelessness and boisterousness and forgetfulness in her children. It's a waste of energy to scold and nag endlessly, however, and children become confused over the relative importance of their misdemeanors.

There are times when we need to impress things upon our children for their physical safety, their health, or for other reasons. Let us keep our heavy artillery for those times. Then we can capture their attention and bring home to them a sense of the importance of the matter at hand.

Don't blame your child when the fault lies elsewhere.

Do as little talking as possible to gain your point when he is to blame.

Don't make an issue of small matters, but if you do have to lay down the law, do so seriously, but as calmly as possible. He's much more likely to understand and follow your instructions.

And last, but not least, don't talk so much that your children, in self-protection, become mother-deaf.

How may a child be taught obedience? Should children be permitted freedom of the house? You will find answers to these and other problems in "You and Your Young Child," Mrs. Gladys Bevans' latest booklet, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 S. Dearborn streets and Tribune Tower. Price, 15 cents; postpaid, 18 cents.

DORIS BLAKE'S LETTER BOX

Have you a perplexing problem on which you need friendly counsel? Write to Doris Blake in care of the Chicago Tribune, Tribune Tower, Chicago, Ill. If you wish a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

No Love Confession.

"Dear Miss Blake: Altho he doesn't know it, I'm in love with him, and have been for a long time. He's in the navy now, and I don't see him for long periods of time. Should I tell him how I feel, or just keep writing to him on a friendly basis?

"SUGAR."

Better not "scare" him by a love confession, Sugar. Just write him sweet letters, but not too loving ones.

Keep Love a Secret.

"Dear Miss Blake: I like a girl. I think she likes me. Should I tell her I love her, or wait until I'm sure she's fond of me? WALLACE R."

Don't give your heart away until you decide to marry a girl. If you'd like to marry her, try harder to win her heart before you tell her how yours beats for her.

Beware Thin Ice.

"Dear Miss Blake: I'm 19 and so is my girl friend. We expect to become engaged by Christmas. Am I too young to become engaged?

"WALT."

Not if you're in a position to think seriously of marriage. Can you see any hope of being able to support a wife in the near future, Walt?

BY NANCY CABOT.

In making articles for the children's room it is a good idea to offer something utilitarian as well as decorative. In the Child's Prayer these purposes have been answered, by arranging the lines of the prayer in a manner to simplify memorizing. This 8 by 10 prayer is easy to create, and the pattern includes detailed instructions.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the Child's Prayer, No. 770, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Norse Benefit Concert Played by Storm Bull

BY CECIL SMITH.

The American-Norwegian Chicago Division of Norwegian Relief presented Storm Bull, Chicago pianist, in recital in Orchestra hall last evening. It would have been impossible to choose a more appropriate artist for a patriotic Norwegian occasion, since Mr. Bull's two grandfathers were both first cousins of Edvard Grieg, the celebrated composer, and nephews of Ole Bull, the famous Scandinavian violinist.

At the outset of his program Mr. Bull paid tribute to his Norse ancestry by presenting Grieg's suite, "From Holberg's Time," an agreeable and now half forgotten imitation of early 18th century music. The Chopin B minor sonata followed, and the second half of the program was devoted to short works by Ravel, Debussy, Guion, MacDowell, and Grainger. Immediately after the intermission an address was delivered by Wilhelm Morgenstierne, royal Norwegian minister to the United States.

The candor and eagerness of the young pianist's appearance were reflected in his playing. No mannerisms or artifices mar his pianism, and he creates an attractive air of presenting his music on its own merits.

At its best his tone is round and resonant, without seeming to ask the impossible of the instrument. He has also attained more than adequate speed and dexterity, so that bravura passages do not terrify him.

And yet for all these excellent attributes of his playing fails to be important, and at times even lacks lucidity and intelligibility. His rhythm is often bad, in the sense that it does not have the proper accentuations to make rapid passages mean anything. When this rhythmic deficiency was coupled with a tendency to produce a monotonously unchanging volume over long passages, it was impossible to remain interested in his playing.

Mr. Bull has all the makings of a good pianist except an objective capacity to hear what his playing sounds like. When he develops this necessary capacity, he will find himself on the road to genuine and permanent success.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 21.—It has been my experience that practically everybody in the United States is a would-be songwriter. And now Samuel Goldwyn is finding out that, seemingly, every young male in the country thinks he can act the part of a ball player—and every female knows a guy who could play Lou Gehrig.

Goldwyn has a sure instinct for creating publicity, and when he announced a picture on Gehrig's life everybody hopped to it. Thousands got indignant at the thought of long, lean Gary Cooper impersonating big, square Lou. Others thought the idea okay. Coop won a movie magazine poll, with Ronald Reagan and John Wayne as runners-up. And Sam got mountains of letters.

"My husband," wrote a Colorado woman, "resembles the great Lou Gehrig and also plays a good first base position."

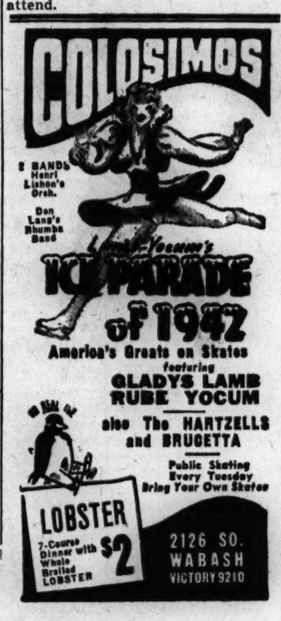
A New York lad implored: "My girl won't marry me until I pay off my debts. I owe $600. I am 6 feet tall and possess personality traits similar to those of Lou Gehrig. I have no desire to be an actor."

"Friends" suggested the following: A young fellow in Universal's makeup department who looks like Lou; a Chicagoan "because a gentleman who knew Gehrig remarked about the resemblance; a former Ohio State athlete living in Canton "because he's an experienced ball player and is extremely handsome [all the ladies think!]."

Many fans, of course, nominated their favorite actors, and there was a great write-in ballot for Eddie Albert. Best of the Albert letters was from a New Jersey girl, who said, "I'm killing two birds with one stone. Eddie Albert for Lou and me for Mrs. Gehrig." But she couldn't go into details about the latter part of her suggestion "because it's time for me to cook supper."

Many a fan voted for William Gargan—including Mrs. William Gargan of Beverly Hills.

Well, I don't think the matter of physical resemblance is as important as some people think. Cooper will probably land the job, and the success of the picture will not depend on his looking like Lou. It will depend, first, on how good a screen play Paul Gallico has written. If the story is believable and emotionally moving the picture will be a hit—just as "Sergeant York" is a hit . . . Cooper doesn't look like York. Jim Cagney won't look particularly like George M. Cohan in "Yankee Doodle Dandy"—but he'll feel like Cohan. He will be brash and energetic and showwise . . . and perfect.



Five Weddings Today to Hold Social Spotlight

Five weddings of interest in Chicago social circles are taking place today, but none is in Chicago. One is in Winnetka and another in Lake Forest, but the other three are far from here. The farthest away is taking place in Ancon, Canal Zone, where, at 4 o'clock, in the Cathedral of St. Luke, Miss Sally Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Newton Perry of Chicago, and Ensign Edward A. Limberg Jr., son of Mrs. Foster Limberg of St. Louis, will be married. Mrs. William B. Hanson of Manila will attend Miss Perry, who, in the absence of her father, will be given in marriage by Philip L. Reed of Boston, a former Chicagoan. Mr. Reed is in the Canal Zone because his son, Ensign Philip L. Reed Jr., was married in Balboa Heights on Nov. 15 to Miss Marie Elizabeth Reece of Boston.

Following the ceremony Mrs. Perry will give a wedding reception in the Hotel Tivoli, Ancon. Ensign and Mrs. Limberg will spend their honeymoon at La Venta, Panama, after which they will be at home in Ancon. Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Hanson are sailing on the Sixoala tomorrow to return to the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meeker are in Utica, N. Y., today for the marriage of their grandson, Ambrose C. Cramer III., and Miss Elizabeth Norris. The wedding will take place at 12:30 o'clock in the home of the bride's father, Edward Norris. Only members of the family will be present at the ceremony, which is to be followed by a larger wedding breakfast.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Francis V. Lloyd, has gone east from California for the wedding. Others at the ceremony will include young Mr. Cramer's aunt, Mrs. Donald M. Ryerson, and his cousins, Miss Joan Gray and Miss Elspeth McClure. Nevill M. Cramer will be his brother's best man. After the ceremony Mr. Cramer, who is a son of Ambrose C. Cramer Jr. of Lake Shore drive, will take his bride to Mexico for three weeks before they settle down in Hollywood, Cal.

Because the navy gives short notice of leave to its officers who are planning to be married, Mr. and Mrs. T. Kenneth Boyd didn't have much time to arrange their trip this week-end to New York, where their son, Ensign Thomas Tracy Boyd, and Miss Sally Elizabeth Wright are being married today. The Boyds and their younger son, William, left yesterday for the east. William, a senior at the North Shore Country Day school, will be his brother's best man. Also in New York for the wedding are the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wright of St. Louis, Mo.

The informal ceremony will take place at 5:30 o'clock in a church in New York. Later the two families will have dinner together. Ensign Boyd and his bride will live in Noroton, Conn., as long as he is stationed there with the navy.

Miss Courtney Cook and Ensign Beverly W. Pattishall, whose engagement was announced just this week, will be married at 4:30 o'clock today in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett R. Cook of Winnetka. The Rev. Samuel D. Harkness of the Winnetka Congregational church will perform the ceremony.

Ensign Edwin K. Beck has come from the naval air base at Pensacola, Fla., to be best man for the bridegroom, who serves on the U. S. S. Swanson. Immediately after the ceremony Ensign Pattishall and his bride will leave for the east, as he must report for duty on Monday. He will have a week's leave, however, before going back to his ship. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Jackson Pattishall of Barrington.

Miss Josephine Hancock Logan will pin a diamond brooch given to her by her grandmother, Mrs. Frank G. Logan, to her wedding dress for her marriage this afternoon to John L. Bermingham Jr. Miss Logan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Temple McFayden of Libertyville. Mr. Bermingham's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bermingham of Evanston.

The ceremony will take place at 3 o'clock in St. Mary's church in Lake Forest and will be followed by a reception at Loghaven, the McFaydens' home. After their return from a wedding trip to Tucson, Ariz., Mr. Bermingham and his bride will live in Evanston.

Miss Jane Bermingham, sister of the bridegroom, will be Miss Logan's maid of honor. Her bridesmaids will be Miss Sara Peck, Miss Joanne Rollins, Miss Mary Fordney, Miss Betty Rodman, Miss Eleanor Earle, and Miss Shirley Murrie.

Price Brown will be best man for Mr. Bermingham. Ralph Ensign, Francis Bermingham [a cousin of the bridegroom], Frederick Bainbridge, Peter Scurto, Allin Yarwood, and Edward Fliss will be the ushers.

Benefit Aid

MISS ELIZABETH STENSON.

Miss Elizabeth Stenson will assist at the card party to be given this afternoon in the Grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel to benefit the Cenacle convent. The chapel guild, of which Mrs. Hempstead Washburne is president, is giving the party. Mrs. Henry C. Murphy, Mrs. Harry L. Drake, Mrs. Gerald Hollins, Mrs. Edward H. Ball III., Mrs. Louis H. G. Bouscaren, Mrs. George A. McLaughlin, Mrs. Bolton Sullivan, Mrs. James Delaney, Mrs. John L. Kellogg, and Mrs. Thomas A. Connors are among the many who have assisted with arrangements for the benefit.

Chicago Woman's Club Pays State, U. S. Tax Liens

Contributions and underwritings totaling $9,573 from members of the Chicago Woman's club have enabled the club to lift state and federal tax liens totaling $11,308, Mrs. Clayton D. Eulette, club president, announced yesterday. The liens were for state unemployment insurance and federal old age benefit taxes since 1938.

Mrs. Eulette explained that the club had been advised it was exempt from the taxes as a philanthropic institution.

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 21.—Notre Dame tonight is on the eve of its most successful football season since the death of Knute Rockne. Only Southern California stands between the Irish and an undefeated record.

Frank Leahy.

Coach Frank Leahy, who in his first year as Notre Dame's head coach has seen his team whip Arizona, Georgia Tech, Indiana, Illinois, Carnegie Tech, Navy, and Northwestern and play a scoreless tie with Army, is taking nothing for granted, however, in the season's finale.

56,000 to See Game.

If Southern California, which is just beginning to gain the form expected of the team last September, whips the Irish tomorrow, it will not be the first time it has crowded Notre Dame from the ranks of the nation's undefeated elevens. The Trojans' first visit to South Bend in 1931 ended a three year span of Notre Dame success. Johnny Baker's field goal in the last minute gave the Pacific coast boys a 16 to 14 decision. Again in 1938 the Irish came up to the U. S. C. contest undefeated only to fall by a score of 13 to 0.

Midwest fans think so well of the Trojans' chances tomorrow that a capacity crowd of 56,000 will see the game. All tickets were sold two weeks ago, the earliest sellout for a home event in Notre Dame's history. This will be the fourth straight capacity crowd the Irish have attracted. The Army, Navy, and Northwestern games were sold out far in advance.

U. S. C. Is Dangerous.

While Southern California hasn't set the Pacific coast on fire this fall, it was strong enough to defeat both Oregon State and Washington State, the two teams that have whipped Stanford. Sam Barry, who took charge of the Trojans after the death of Howard Jones last summer, has been plagued by injuries, ineligibilities and withdrawals from school, but for the first time this fall he can present his strongest available talent tomorrow.

Capt. Bob De Lauer, whose early season injury weakened the Trojan line, will be back at right tackle. Mickey Anderson, national collegiate sprint champion, is ready to start at full back for the first time this year.

Tomorrow's game will be the last in Notre Dame uniform for six regulars whose brilliant work has helped to make Frank Leahy's first season as coach of the Irish a grand success. They are Steve Juzwik, right half back, who is only two points behind Dippy Evans for team scoring honors; Capt. Paul Lillis, right tackle; Jim Brutz, left tackle; Bernie Crimmins and Bob Maddock, guards, and John Kovatch, right end.

Plan Tribute to Jones.

A special tribute to the memory of Howard Jones will be paid between halves. Jones' Southern California teams won six, lost eight, and tied one in the series with Notre Dame, which is the oldest continuous rivalry between the Pacific coast and middle west. Jones coached the Yale team that beat the Irish in 1914 and the Iowa eleven that won an historic 10 to 7 victory from Notre Dame at Iowa City in 1921.

Hank Greenberg Will Wait a Bit for Release

Fort Custer, Mich., Nov. 21 (AP).—Sergt. Henry Greenberg, former outfielder of the Detroit Tigers, won't be released from the army next Monday, as previously announced. Officers at 5th division headquarters said today Greenberg's release would be delayed at least a week because some 50 other draftees were due for discharges before him and he would have to wait his turn.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Nov. 21.—University of Southern California's football team, which will meet Notre Dame tomorrow, has had a disappointing season as seasons go with the Trojans, but it has lost none of its pulling power. . . . Notre Dame's stadium is sold out. The Trojans played before 86,305 spectators, the largest crowd of the collegiate season, in their game with Stanford at Los Angeles a few weeks ago. . . . According to Al Wesson, Southern California's widely known publicity director, 44,518 tickets were sold at the gate the day of the Stanford contest. . . . It was the biggest sale on the day of any event in the history of the Los Angeles Coliseum, which has housed such important attractions as the Olympic games. . . . Sam Barry, the Trojans' new gridiron leader, will be back in this neighborhood next month with the U. S. C. basketball team for a game with De Paul in Chicago. . . . His cage squads have won three Pacific Coast conference championships and have been runners-up three times in his 12 years as coach. . . . He thinks he has another title contender this season. . . . Southern California is planning a memorial for its famous football coach, Howard Jones, who died of a heart attack last summer, but the form of the memorial has not been decided. . . . A fieldhouse has been proposed, but the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce probably would object on the grounds that a fieldhouse isn't needed in that balmy climate. . . .

Stanford's defeat by Washington State last Saturday has complicated the Rose bowl situation no end. . . . There is a strong probability that Stanford, Oregon State, and Washington will wind up their conference schedules with two defeats apiece. . . . The western representative in the Rose bowl is picked by a secret vote of the 10 Pacific Coast conference members and it is likely that politics will rear its ugly head. . . . Washington may be counted out, because it has been defeated by the teams tied with it—Stanford and Oregon State. . . . The Huskies also have the defeat by Minnesota against them. . . . Oregon State will contend that it deserves the bid because it defeated Stanford. . . . The Stanfords are mad at one and all because they were hard hit by the rulings of Commissioner Edwin Atherton last spring which cost them eight freshmen. . . . Stanford is in the middle, as they say in What Cheer, Ia., because it carried the torch for the Atherton plan when it was adopted and has screamed the loudest when it hurt them. . . .

Not that it makes any difference, but this department feels that the sooner the rest of the collegiate athletic world gets around to the Atherton plan, the sooner amateurism will be restored to intercollegiate sport.

I Would Not Have You Back.

I would not have you back for all my tears
To walk again these pathways we have trod,
Knowing the consummation of the years
Has led your footsteps to the throne of God;
What matter now the burden and the heat
Of the long toilsome days that you have spent
Since you are gathered at the Master's feet
And know at last the sweetness of content,

I would not have you back with me again
To know the hardships of this thorny way,
To feel within your heart the pang of pain
That harasses the wayfarer each day;
But wait for me out there beyond the blue,
And when life's shadows fall I'll come to you. —T. E. B.

The Kick Was NOT Good.

While listening to a broadcast of the Notre Dame-Northwestern game last Saturday I learned that Erdlitz missed the point after touchdown. The description went like this:

"And Graham has just gone over for a touchdown and the score is Notre Dame, 7; Northwestern, 6. And here comes Erdlitz to try for that all-important point. The two teams are crouching; it is placed, and the kick—It—Is—NOT good. It is NOT good. The kick is not GOOD. Erdlitz missed that kick. It was blocked by Wright of Notre Dame and—the kick is NOT good. Notre Dame still leads as Erdlitz did NOT convert. The kick was blocked. It does NOT count. Notre Dame BLOCKED that try for point and the point does NOT count."

Consequently, I knew the kick was not good, but I thought you'd like to have Wake readers know about it, too.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 21.—All the folks up this way knew until shortly before noon today that there would be 26 men on the field tomorrow afternoon when the Universities of Minnesota and Wisconsin will meet for the 51st football year before an anticipated assemblage of 51,000 in Memorial stadium. That total derived from the scheduled appearance of 11 Gophers, 11 Badgers, and 4 officials.

The happy Minnesotans, however, did not reckon with the possibility of a 27th member in the morrow's cast. That would be Weatherly W. Winter, a frigid gent who this afternoon was reported by astute local meteorologists to be brewing an old-fashioned blizzard up there in Canada. And Old Mr. Winter isn't going to just stop at the conclusion of his concoction, they say. He aims to serve it late tonight, and he might still be ladling it out in snow and freezing temperatures come 1:30 o'clock tomorrow.

A Coach Has to Worry.

The imminence of Mr. W., who has shunned these old haunts of his of late, is quite disturbing to several citizens, notably Coach Bernie Bierman and his great Gophers. Here they are, all set to clinch not only their seventh Western conference championship in nine years but also a sharply defined order for the national title. For 15 of these kids from the northland it will be an opportunity to finish a second straight year without defeat. It will sustain, if they win, a Minnesota winning streak of 17 in a row.

Mr. Bierman is not feeling too, too certain of the outcome. There was that 1932 game, Bernie's first season here, and the last time that Wisconsin was able to beat the Gophers. More important in Bierman's mind, however, was the following year. The Minnesotans went into the game overwhelming favorites. So what happened? A typically spirited Wisconsin eleven came out for the second half with a long field goal by Nello Pacetti back of them. They clung to that three point advantage until a goal line error by the Badgers enabled the Gophers to score a touchdown and win, 6 to 3.

Two Stars May Not Start.

The Gophers' back field is not expected to include either Capt. Bruce Smith or Herman Frickey at the kickoff, but both are certain to be around before the afternoon is over. Smith, still ailing from a knee injury, doubtless will appear at left half ere the final gun. Frickey, a sophomore, will work either left or right half—and he can handle both chores, but 147 pound Bud Higgins, hero of the hard earned Northwestern victory, will start at left, and Bob Sweiger at right.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher reported his lads in good shape, both physically and mentally. They are out to destroy another Minnesota dynasty, and the man the Gophers have at the top of their list is on the right hand bottom of the starting lineup. That's Marlin [Pat] Harder, the Wisconsin full back, who is leading the conference in points scored and ground gained.

Illini, Old and New, Honor Retiring Chief

Three men who played under Coach Bob Zuppke (right) at the University of Illinois in the days when the Illini were a team to be feared by all opponents, drop in for a chat with him at the Edgewater Beach hotel last night. They are (left to right): Harold Pogue, who won letters at half back in 1913, '14, and '15; Albert (Butch) Nowack, All-America tackle in 1928, and Emil Schultz, a star back in 1922, '23, and '24. Nowack now is coaching La Salle-Peru High school, Schultz has a similar post at Evanston High, and Pogue is in business in Decatur. [TRIBUNE Photos.]

85,757 Await Today's Battle Between Buckeyes, Wolverines

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 21.—Thirty-six Ohio State football players, the vanguard of the greatest Buckeye invasion of Ann Arbor in the 38 years of the rivalry, marked time tonight in nearby Dearborn, Mich., waiting to march on Michigan's stadium. Tomorrow afternoon, before a capacity throng of 85,757, Ohio State and Michigan definitely will settle possession of second place in the 1941 Western conference race. With aid from Wisconsin, which must defeat Minnesota for wishes to come true, tomorrow's victor will share the Big Nine crown with the Gophers.

Ohio State's followers have supplied much of the demand for tickets, which is almost unprecedented. The Michigan-Minnesota game four weeks ago also was a sellout. According to Michigan officials, however, the number of fans who refuse to believe that all tickets have been purchased apparently is far larger. Tickets between the goal lines command almost any price despite the forecast of snow tomorrow afternoon and the prospect of freezing weather.

Buckeyes Can Score.

From the scoring records of the rivals, each of whom has won three conference games and lost one, it would seem that the Buckeyes' superior attack faces a superior defense. While Ohio State does not lead the Big Nine in scoring, the Buckeyes have rung up 81 points.

Michigan's defense has been consistently efficient. Only Minnesota and Northwestern have crossed the Wolverines' goal line in conference play. The total for seven games is 21 points, since Michigan State scored in the opening game.

Wolverines Lack Punch.

Despite Michigan's conference record, the Wolverine attack may be overrated. Michigan defeated Iowa, 6 to 0, and lost the decision in the

FENGER MEETS TILDEN TODAY FOR CITY TITLE

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

Fenger and Tilden Tech, kingpins of the 1941 Public High School league campaign, this afternoon will meet in Soldiers' field in the opening of a two day football circus which over the week-end will determine the principals in Mayor Kelly's All-City charity game next Saturday.

The husky, hard charging linemen and the fleet, shifty ball carriers glanced at the weather man's reports, added fur mittens to their equipment, and are ready to produce the best exhibition of their prep careers. There are several products of Chicago's schools performing in the Western conference as sophomores this season. The privilege of watching them costs $3.30. The members of the four squads in the two games, who hope to be in collegiate football's spotlight within two years, will attract spectators at 55 cents a copy.

Fenger in Again.

Fenger's appearance in the final round will not be strange to Chicago's prep football followers, the far south side eleven having participated in the title playoff for the last three years. The defending city co-cham-

ILLINI HOPE TO GIVE ZUPPKE A FINAL VICTORY

Game time—1:30 p. m.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Northwestern Wildcats, slightly domesticated after treatments by the Wolverines, the Gophers, and Notre Dame, will assemble with the Illini in Dyche stadium at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon to do their bit in the pulling down of the curtain on the Big Nine football spectacle.

They have met before, 34 times in fact, but this occasion will be a bit different from the others. When the final pistol shot reports the show is over, it also will signalize the end of Bop Zuppke's 29-year reign as gridiron boss at Illinois.

Around 4 o'clock he'll get up off the bench to be on his way, probably reminding himself as he saunters across the field that a lot of things have happened since the day in 1913 that he bowed into the conference with a 37 to 0 victory over the Wildcats, then billed as the Purple or Methodists.

The Illini Will Fight.

The Illini will come out fighting. They have pledged themselves to that. They want to make a success of the little fellow's going away party and will turn loose all the fancy dope does by which the inventor thereof, Mr. Zuppke, climbed to fame. But the Wildcats will have in mind a going away party of their own. Twenty of them, 15 of whom rate as regulars, will be having their final fling in collegiate circles and they may aim to make the most of it.

Some of the fight the Illini hope to offer as material for Zup's closing chapter may not be available. Their ace back, Don Griffin, is not counted on to start because of jolts received last week in the combat with Ohio State, altho this might turn out to be only another of Zup's little fooleries. The Illini, however, will have Dick Good in there to do the pitching and the Wildcats well remember him as the lad who heaved a touchdown pass against them a year ago.

Veteran Backs To Start.

The Wildcats will start with a back field made up of Bill De Correvont, Tuffy Chambers, Dick Erdlitz, and Don Clawson. They'll be there for the last time. It will be the same for George Benson, Don Kruger, Ike Kepford, Jim Furlong, and Sanford Skor in the back field department. The 11 other losses will be in the line. But the flashy Otto Graham will be around for a couple more years, and that's something.

Before today's kickoff Zup will be presented with a reminder that his job is near completion. He'll be handed a plaque by Kenneth L. Wilson, Northwestern athletic director, and Burt Ingewersen, Purple line coach, both of whom are former pupils of the little guy. The token will be inscribed:

"To Robert Zuppke: In recognition of his 29 years of distinguished services as football coach at the University of Illinois. For his inspiring adherence to the high ideals of sportsmanship. For his many noteworthy and lasting contributions to the game of football. And for his untiring and devoted loyalty to college athletics, which will serve as an enduring example to the youths of America."—Northwestern university.

OVERLIN POUNDS HOSTAK TO WIN GARDEN BATTLE

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—Ken Overlin all but jabbed the ears and nose off Al Hostak in Madison Square Garden tonight in a 10 round battle of former middleweight champions. With the decision he climbed to the forefront among light heavyweight title challengers. Overlin weighed 163½, Hostak 162.

Despite scattered cries of "draw, draw," from the cozy gathering of 7,969 customers, there was no question as to the winner. The Associated Press score card gave Overlin eight rounds and Hostak two. The gross gate was $18,920.

Young Kid McCoy, Detroit welterweight, led all the way in handing Mike Kaplan of Boston a beating in a 10 round preliminary. McCoy weighed 147½ pounds to 147¼ for Kaplan.

MALONEY WINS ON FOUL IN FIRST IN MADISON ARENA

Verdict in Amateur Bout Is Booed.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Pat Maloney, skilful Maywood boxer, last night defeated Eddie Gilmore on a foul in the first round of a scheduled three round bout in Madison arena on the west side. The decision was booed by the more than 1,000 spectators. The outcome retained for the 19 year old Irish lad his position as welterweight color bearer of the Madison Athletic club in the Chicagoland Amateur Boxing league.

Maloney, who scored one of his team's three points in the opening league match against the Catholic Youth Organization a week ago, never received a chance to get started in the nonleague contest against Gilmore. Shortly after the first round opened Gilmore scored with a right to the groin and Pat doubled up in apparent pain, but didn't go down.

Pat Willing to Go On.

However, Referee Jimmy Lavelle ruled the Austin High school senior had been struck an unintentional low blow. He said he had no alternative but to award Maloney the verdict on a foul despite Pat's willingness to continue. The time was 55 seconds.

Promoter Alexander Baim quieted disgruntled fans by offering an emergency contest between James Calhoun and Milton Little, featherweight novice fighters. After a slugging match, somewhat on the humorous side, Little was given a split decision.

Results:

Don Wallace, Savoy A. C., beat Zano Gailus [3], 160; Vince Ortiz knocked out Eddie Thompson [2], 135; Stanley Berg, I. A. C., knocked out Dennis Du Pont, Savoy A. C. [2], 126. William Jordan, Savoy A. C., beat Ralph Balbernie, I. A. C. [3], 135; Pat Maloney, Madison A. C., won on foul from Eddie Gilmore [1]; Milton Little beat James Calhoun, Savoy A. C., [3], 126; Fred Peeler, Savoy A. C., beat Pete Blour [3].

The Madison team will make its next league appearance against Fort Sheridan at Fort Sheridan on Wednesday night. Madison's next home match is scheduled Dec. 5 against the Illinois Athletic club.

Berg, Wallace, Jordan Win.

Other contestants on last night's program included Stanley Berg, IAC featherweight, and Don Wallace, middleweight, and William Jordan, lightweight, of the Savoy Athletic club. Berg scored a second round knockout over Dennis Du Pont of the Savoy club, while Wallace defeated Zano Gailus and Jordan beat Ralph Balbernie, IAC standard bearer.

The Savoy A. C. squad will meet Ashland A. C. in Social Turner hall Wednesday, but IAC boxers will not compete in league competition until Dec. 3 when they face Fort Sheridan at Fort Sheridan. The Madison A. C. lineup against Fort Sheridan probably will be:

John Mezzano, 118; Jim De Falco, Vince Pellegrini, and Joe De Orio, all lightweights; Jimmy Baratta, 140; Pat Maloney and Lenny Marino, welterweights; Matt Slobodnick, middleweight.

Ohio Marches on Michigan Before 85,757

statistics. Michigan whipped Northwestern, 14 to 7, after the Wildcats tossed away three scoring chances in the third quarter. Michigan lost to Minnesota, 7 to 0, and then let Illinois off with a 20 to 0 defeat.

Against Northwestern, Michigan was able to make only two first downs in the second, third, and fourth periods. Despite the running ability of Tom Kuzma and the plunges by Capt. Bob Westfall, the Wolverines had to score by forward passes, one of them on fourth down. This would seem to point to an air attack.

Don't Forget Fisher.

Little has been written of Ohio State's Dick Fisher, who has the best total offense record in the Big Nine. In four conference games, Fisher has established an average gain of 124 yards by running and passing. These figures also seem to belie the superiority of Michigan's attack. In any event the final decision will be reached in the battle between the lines.

In the last analysis tomorrow's battle stacks up as one of the best of the Big Nine season. Defeated three years in succession, Ohio State now may have the power and skill to end the supremacy manifest since Fritz Crisler took charge in Ann Arbor.

The rival squads completed preparations this afternoon. After their workout, the Wolverines' first and second teams retired to the Barton Hills Country club. Ohio State's squad is at the Dearborn Inn.

Peter Campbell Elected Toronto Baseball Chief

TORONTO, Ontario, Nov. 21 (AP).—Peter Campbell, Toronto sportsman, today was named president of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International Baseball league to succeed Sen. Salter Hayden, resigned. It was reported after his appointment that reorganization plans for 1942 include severing connections with the Philadelphia Athletics of the American league and hiring a new manager. Lena Blackburne was manager last season when the Leafs finished in last place.

California Roller Team Leads Chicago, 244-242

Chicagoland's roller derby team slipped from the lead in its series of races with California's squad when it lost, 11 to 7, in the Coliseum last night. The Pacific coast squad now leads, 244 to 242. The final events in the derby will be held tonight and tomorrow.

pions, however, find themselves in the unfamiliar position of not being heavy favorites, altho they again have piled up tremendous scores. With the exception of a few games, adding machines were oiled up and used to tabulate the final results in the south section, the Titans scoring 271 points in nine contests.

There are several reasons for Fenger's failure to achieve its annual high rating. There was a close victory over Bowen early in the season. There was the last quarter triumph over Senn last Saturday in the semi-finals, a battle in which Fenger showed no signs of the old time striking power which carried the far south side eleven thru 37 games without defeat until it met Miami, Fla., last winter.

Catholic Final Tomorrow.

The champions parade into the lake front arena without the prestige of possessing the season's individual star. That honor belongs to Leo High, which has Henry [Babe] Baranowski, and meets Fenwick of Oak Park tomorrow for the Catholic league title. Fenger, which in previous seasons developed Don Griffin and Ray Florek, has four capable ball carriers who have alternated in crossing enemy goal lines, among them Bob Grueter and Al Baffo.

Three Good Carriers.

Tilden Tech, which in the minds of the experts rates an even chance with the co-champions because of its easy victory over Crane Tech last Saturday, has its back field performers, too, who took turns revealing individual brilliance.

Eddie Uvodich led the squad to several victories against central division opponents, but on a muddy field Full Back Ray Schumacher brought the Yellow Jackets the sectional title with a 7 to 0 triumph over Phillips. Last Saturday Half Back Len Mazzaco scored two touchdowns as Crane was routed, 21 to 0.

Baranowski, the prep player of the year, who has scored 111 points in nine games, will join his Leo High teammates in the stands to watch the Public School league contest. The Lions have a very unhappy memory of the 1940 All-City game, which they lost to Fenger, 18 to 0. They hope to dispose of the crippled Fenwick Friars tomorrow afternoon, and make their fifth appearance in the charity spectacle, which may be played before 100,000.

It's Big Day for Prep Stars

Bob Grueter is one of the Fenger ball carriers who may cause Tilden Tech considerable trouble in the Public School league championship game in Soldiers' field this afternoon.

The big campaign in the central section this season developed Eddie Uvodich, Tilden Tech half back, who has shown talented ability to lead a team to the Public School league championship.

Hawks, Leafs Will Play for League Lead

The Blackhawks and the Maple Leafs will engage one another in two consecutive games tonight and tomorrow with first place in the National Hockey league at stake. Tonight's encounter will take place in Toronto, after which the two teams will come to Chicago to renew the battle tomorrow night in the Stadium.

The Hawks, who have skated thru their first five games with four victories and a tie, are only one point behind the Leafs, who have scored 10 points by winning five games. If the Hawks can take both games or if they win one and tie one, they will go into the lead.

The Toronto team has practically the same personnel as it did last year, when it won one more game than Boston, which topped the league. The Bruins got their first place margin on the points scored in ties. The Leafs' goalie, Turk Broda, holds the Vezina trophy, which is awarded annually to the goal tender who lets the least number of sh

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 21.—It's a sellout for the Indiana-Purdue football match here tomorrow afternoon, this despite depressing calculations that the weather man will shut off the gorgeous weather that prevailed here today. The fellow says it may rain or snow or both, but you'd never think it to look outdoors right now so maybe everything will be all right.

The Indiana contingent, holder of the Old Oaken Bucket by virtue of a 3 to 0 victory over the Boilermakers last year on a place kick by Gene White with 13 seconds to go, is certain Purdue will show up for tomorrow's game, even tho Billy Hillenbrand and the rest of the Hoosiers are in tiptop shape as a result of an off day last Saturday. They are not so sure about the advertised arrival of Miss Lana Turner of the cinema.

Just a Blanket Queen.

Indiana students recently elected Miss Turner, not as the lady with whom they would most like to be marooned or behold adorned in a sweater, as you might suppose. She was named blanket queen of the blanket hop. Practically everybody said they'd rather have Miss Turner wrapped in a blanket than any one they could thing of, that being the basis of the balloting. But what are we saying? After all, we're down here to cover a football game.

This will be the fourteenth Old Oaken Bucket contest we have seen out of the last 15 played. There have been 16 games since the bucket was made the trophy, tho tomorrow's meeting will be the 44th between Indiana and Purdue. In pregame comments before these thirteen games it has been our pleasure to observe, we rarely have stuck out our neck. Year after year we have administered the old tossup pregame treatment. We give you that now, with the reservation that we think the purely defensively minded Boilermakers will do well to never relax their vaunted defense on Hillenbrand. The Evansville stylist has repeatedly shown himself a challenge to more successful teams than the 1941 Purdues, who seem to be dedicated to the sole purpose of holding down their opposition.

They May Have An Offense.

The Boilermakers have been so defensive on occasion it is said they have bored the customers practically to tears. But they may have thought up an offense for tomorrow, the Old Oaken Bucket being the coveted receptacle it is.

The Boilermakers will reach here tomorrow just in time to change to their work clothes and rush out for the kickoff.

It is reported reliably that Purdue will have to do without Peter Timperman, its veteran right tackle. Timperman is suffering from a sinus infection.

OREGON INVADES WASHINGTON FOR ANNUAL BATTLE

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 21 (AP).—One of the closest feuds in Pacific Coast conference football rivalry will be resumed tomorrow when the University of Oregon eleven invades Seattle for its annual game with the University of Washington. The Huskies rate as slight favorites. Washington still nurses slim Rose bowl hopes, but needs victory over Oregon and Southern California to retain its claims.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 21 [Special].—Iowa's Hawkeyes, trying to bring their season's percentage to an even .500, battle a Nebraska eleven, beaten five straight times in tomorrow's renewal of the cornland series. The contest likely will be played in freezing weather, the mercury being scheduled to drop to 5 above tonight with even colder weather forecast for Saturday.

The Cornhuskers are in the best physical condition since Indiana came here Oct. 18. Herb Von Goetz is back at a starting guard position, his first appearance since the Hoosier contest and Allen Zikmund, fleet wing back, is back in action after missing the Pittsburgh game.

Meier, Francis Return.

Fred Meier, who has been playing guard, is back at center. Viscount Francis, having cleared the scholastic hurdle that kept him benched in both the Minnesota and Pittsburgh games, is not listed as a starter but is certain to play.

Iowa came as far as Omaha today, but did not work out there, Coach Eddie Anderson ordering only a brisk walk. Gene Curran, Hawkeye starting guard, was left behind in a hospital in Iowa City as the result of an attack of boils. Del Dickerhoof was scheduled to replace him. Bill Green, Iowa full back, bothered by a bruised hip early in the week, apparently has fully recovered.

Iowa hasn't won a game from the Huskers since Burt Ingwersen's 1930 Hawkeye eleven took a 12 to 7 decision.

Hawkeyes Have Slight Edge.

Altho the game is considered a toss up, respective showing of Iowa and Nebraska against a common foe, Indiana, would give the Hawkeyes an edge. Bill Hillenbrand and Charles Jacoby ran the Husker ends all afternoon to win, 21 to 13. Iowa, coming back after an indifferent first half, took a clear cut and well earned 13 to 7 victory over the Hoosiers. From a standpoint of weight, the teams are practically equal, Nebraska having a one pound pull with an average of 192 against Iowa's 191.

Both Iowa and Nebraska played Minnesota, the Hawkeyes falling 34 to 13, while the Huskers managed to hold the Gophers to a touchdown and field goal. But, Bruce Smith, the Gophers' fleet back, was available against Iowa and did not play against Nebraska.

ALUMNI HONOR ILLINI TONIGHT; GREEN TO SPEAK

Gov. Dwight H. Green will be the principal speaker at the 40th annual banquet for the University of Illinois football team to be tendered by the Illini Club of Chicago at 6:30 o'clock tonight in the Grand ballroom of the Edgewater Beach hotel.

George E. Woods, past president of the club, will serve as toastmaster. Other speakers will include Arthur Cutts Willard, president of the university; Douglas R. Mills, director of athletics, and Kenneth L. [Tug] Wilson, Northwestern's athletic director, a former Illini end.

Whether Coach Bob Zuppke, completing his 29 years of service at Illinois, will attend was still a moot question last night. In announcing his resignation on Monday, Zuppke said that he would not attend the banquet. Later he changed and rechanged his mind.

NEW LETTER MAY ALTER FELLER'S STATUS IN DRAFT

Cleveland, O., Nov. 21 (AP).—Mrs. William Feller, mother of the Cleveland Indian pitching star, has written a letter to Bob Feller's selective service board which may affect the 1-A draft classification of her son.

John E. Morley, chairman of board No. 20 where Feller registered, tonight said he could not speak for the board but expressed doubt that the situation warranted new action. Bob, at his home in Van Meter, Ia., said the letter in no way was a plea for deferment but contained information not included in the questionnaire on file concerning the physical condition of his father, William, and the financial support he gives his family, which includes a 'teen aged sister and his parents.

20,000 TO WATCH MARQUETTE AND OKLAHOMA TODAY

Norman, Okla., Nov. 21 [Special].—Marquette will face the University of Oklahoma eleven here tomorrow before a crowd of 20,000.

Interest is attached to the game because it will mark the return to the scene of his earlier triumphs of Tom Stidham, the Marquette coach, who resigned at Oklahoma last winter after four years as athletic director and coach.

Marquette will present in Left Half Back Jimmy Richardson a great passer who has thrown 77 times for 51 completions, 508 yards and eight touchdowns, with only two interceptions.

Oklahoma, however, has Jack Jacobs, left half, who has tossed 50 times for 29 completions, 301 yards and three touchdowns, with three interceptions.

PICK CHICAGO'S TABLE TENNIS TEAM TOMORROW

The makeup for Chicago's table tennis team, which will compete in the 11th annual national intercity table tennis tournament in the Sherman hotel Dec. 27 and 28, will be determined tomorrow. This was announced yesterday by Dougall A. Kittermaster, chairman of the tournament committee.

Billy Holzrichter, 1941 western champion, has already been selected as the team's No. 1 man. Four other places will be chosen from the list of nine candidates who will battle for a place in an elimination tourney tomorrow at the Northtown Table Tennis club, 804 Wilson avenue.

Players who will compete in the eliminations include Robert Anderson, 1940 western champion, and Eddie Ray, both members of Chicago's 1940 tournament team; Dan Kreer, a Winnetka youth who starred for Chicago in 1937, and Don MacCrossen, for several years Wisconsin's No. 1 player.

Ralph Bast, Berne Abelew, Dick Morgan, Bill Ablin, and William Dumez complete the list of candidates.

Morton High Wins, 52-19, in Basketball Opener

Bears Pack Blizzard Togs for Detroit Game Tomorrow

BY EDWARD PRELL.

Blizzard warnings for the week-end caused extra preparation yesterday as the Chicago Bears readied themselves for today's invasion of Detroit, where tomorrow afternoon they will play the Lions in Briggs stadium.

Included in the National Football league champions' equipment will be basketball shoes for every player. Trainers Andy Lotshaw and Homer Cole packed away heavy blankets to help ward off the freezing blasts which may be encountered.

Basketball shoes have been a must for the Bears ever since that afternoon in 1934 in New York when the Giants, hopelessly behind at the half, used this type of footwear to go places on an icy gridiron in the second half. The prize was the league title, and the Giants won.

Bears Need a Victory.

The comfortable margin by which the Bears figure to win tomorrow will be decreased if the game is played during a snowstorm. In fact, it is on these days when anything can happen, and the Bears certainly don't relish being victims of an upset. They have to win this one and succeeding games with the Eagles and Cardinals to assure themselves of a playoff for the western championship with the Packers.

"The Lions don't figure to be as easy as when we beat them, 49 to 0, early this season," said Owner-Coach George Halas yesterday. "I do think, tho, that we're getting some of our spark back. In other words, we're slowly recovering from that 16 to 14 defeat by Green Bay."

The Lions have won two out of their last three games and the improvement is due mainly to new players. Coach Bill Edwards sent away several veterans a few weeks ago, including Chuck Hanneman and Fred Vanzo. One of the new Detroit stars is Steve Belichick, who quit cleaning uniforms to wear one when the Lions played the Bears in Chicago. The former clubhouse attendant is leading the team in ball carrying effectiveness, having averaged five yards in twenty-one attempts. Augie Lio, member of the 1941 College All-Stars, is playing a strong game backing up the line, having intercepted several passes.

Packers Face Steelers.

The Green Bay Packers passed thru Chicago last night on their way to Pittsburgh, where they will meet the Steelers tomorrow. The Packers will move into New York Monday, which will be their headquarters until Friday afternoon when they will go to Washington for their final game of the season the following Sunday against the Redskins. The Steelers have tied and won in their last two games under their third coach of the season, Walt Kiesling.

Chicago's other team, the Cardinals, will go to Cleveland today and help the downtrodden Rams close their 1941 season tomorrow. The Cards, tho victorious over the eastern leader, New York, and Brooklyn, have yet to beat a western rival this season. They have lost twice to the Packers, once each to the Bears and Rams, and have tied the Lions.

Penn State Endeavors to Break Pitt Jinx Today

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 21 (AP).—A crowd of 25,000 will see the Pittsburgh Panthers play Penn State in Pitt stadium tomorrow. The Lions went thru a final workout today at Shadyside academy, polishing the plays with which they hope to break the jinx which has dogged them every time they have played on the Panthers' field since 1919.

Penn and Cornell Alumni to Get Reports of Game

Members of the Pennsylvania and Cornell clubs will gather at 12 o'clock today in the Old Town Room of the Sherman hotel. Radio and gridgraph reports of the Penn-Cornell football game will be presented.

Harvard Isn't Too Sure About Beating Yale

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 21 (AP).—Practically every one except those actively concerned has conceded that Harvard's football forces, unbeaten in their last five starts, will massacre six times beaten Yale when the Big Three rivals meet in their 60th football clash tomorrow before an expected crowd of 55,000.

It is likely that Yale will open as a 5 to 1 underdog but such odds do not comfort the Harvard coaching staff. They recall Yale's last visit to the stadium, two years ago, when another lightly regarded Blue team soared out of the football depths with a terrific aerial attack to win, 20 to 7. Lineups:

HARVARD.		YALE.
MacKinney	L. E.	Bartholemy
Miller	L. T.	Kemp
Peabody	L. G.	Ruebel

CORNELL FACES PENN.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 21 (AP).—Tradition and the prospect of another nip-and-tuck battle such as last year's 22 to 20 affair will attract a sell-out crowd of nearly 74,000 to Franklin field tomorrow for the 48th meeting of Pennsylvania's once-beaten eleven and Cornell's Big Red team.

Regardless of the outcome of tomorrow's game Coach Carl Snavely's job is secure. Cornell officials announced in Ithaca tonight that Snavely had been given a new contract for 1942. His entire staff will remain with him.

NAVY MEETS PRINCETON.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 21 (AP).—Gold braid will be almost as common as chrysanthemums tomorrow at Palmer stadium's big show of the year, the 29th meeting of the football elevens from Princeton and Navy.

Navy's coach, Swede Larson, has had to overcome two handicaps, the old bugbear of overconfidence and the fact that the Middies are pointing for their all-important duel with Army in Philadelphia next week. Injuries to two regulars also have bothered Larson. Guard Arthur Knox and Righ Half Back Sammy Boothe will not be able to start.

ARMY VS. WEST VIRGINIA.

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 21 [Special].—Army had only light work today in final preparations for West Virginia tomorrow. It will be the last home game of the season. A crowd of 20,000 is expected. Army is in excellent physical condition.

TROPICAL PARK'S STOCK ATTACHED; $200,000 WORTH!

Miami, Fla., Nov. 21 (AP).—The United States marshal today seized $200,000 of stock in the Gables Racing association, operators of Tropical Park, to satisfy an income tax lien against William V. Dwyer, former track official.

Deputy Marshal Jack F. Peeples attached 1,950 shares of common stock and 520 of preferred stock held in escrow in the First National bank in the name of William J. Kelly, Dwyer's son-in-law.

The government claims it represents 13 per cent of the track's stock and was allotted to Dwyer in a recent reorganization.

Internal revenue agents recently filed a $326,134 lien against any Dwyer property in Dade county. The income tax judgment was handed down in New York in 1939.

ARMY ROPES IN AN ENTERPRISING YOUNG ATHLETE

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 21 [Special].—If Allen Lindow, senior half back of Washington university's football team, could turn an end as neatly as he turns a proverb, he would be an unanimous all-American choice this year.

Lindow last week went to Washington, D. C., to seek draft deferment on the ground that his services were essential in the development of a hemp plantation in Guatemala. The hemp is used for naval rope.

Evidently Lindow figured if he could give the navy enough rope, they'd hang a deferment on him. It didn't work out that way.

In his absence a federal warrant was issued charging him with failure to report for induction at Jefferson barracks last Monday. Lindow pleaded innocent today before United States Commissioner John A Burke and was released on $1,000 bond.

If Lindow is willing to be inducted, and the army would accept him, the warrant would be withdrawn, it was announced.

GEORGIA FACES DARTMOUTH IN BID FOR BOWL

Athens, Ga., Nov. 21 (AP).—The University of Georgia's crippled Bulldogs, once beaten and once tied, will go after their seventh victory of the season tomorrow against Dartmouth—and an Orange bowl scout will be sitting in the stands. What he'll see depends on how Frankie Sinkwich and company operate against the Big Green. Dartmouth is the next to last hurdle toward the most successful Georgia season since 1927. A homecoming crowd of 20,000 is expected.

OPERA 'CARMEN' TO GO ON W-G-N THEATER TONIGHT

Star Music and Dramatic Cast Chosen.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The grand opera "Carmen" has been compressed into radio operetta form for presentation on the Chicago Theater of the Air from 8 to 9 o'clock tonight over W-G-N, WGN, and the Mutual Broadcasting system.

Jan Peerce.

Marion Claire, Jan Peerce, Bruce Foote, and Virginia Haskins are to sing the leading rôles in the production.

William A. Bacher, chief of W-G-N programs and production, is in charge of the task of cutting nearly two hours out of the opera and redrafting it into a form keeping all the musical highlights and still telling a dramatic story.

Miss Claire in Title Rôle.

Miss Claire will sing the title rôle, Peerce that of Don José, and Foote the toreador, Escamillo.

Miss Haskins, young star of the Chicago opera company, will sing the part of Micaela. Miss Haskins will be heard again Monday evening at 10 over W-G-N, WGN, and Mutual, when part of the Chicago Opera's production of "Falstaff" is to be aired.

Betty Winkler, who will appear in the dramatic cast of tonight's "Carmen" on W-G-N.

All-Star Dramatic Cast.

An all-star dramatic cast will be used in the production tonight. Betty Winkler will take the speaking part of Carmen; Bret Morrison, that of Don José; Marvin Mueller that of Escamillo, and Joan Kay that of Micaela.

Others in the cast are Art Kohl, Bob Jellison, Ella Braca, Rita Ascot, and Marilou Neumayer.

The musical setting will be provided by the W-G-N Symphony orchestra and ensemble under the direction of Henry Weber. Robert Trendler is the ensemble coach, Lewis James the vocal coach.

FIRST OF 6 SUB CHASERS TAKES TO WATER TODAY

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., Nov. 21 (AP).—The submarine chaser PC496, first of a sizable fleet of war vessels building in Wisconsin shipyards, will slide off the ways tomorrow.

The 165 foot steel twin screw carrier, which has a 24 foot beam, draws 10 feet of water and displaces 350 tons, was constructed by the Leatham D. Smith Coal and Shipbuilding company. The cost was $600,000, but will be about doubled by installation of Diesel engines and batteries of three inch guns.

The sidewise launching is scheduled for 2 p. m., with Mrs. Leatham D. Smith performing the christening ceremony.

Among the guests invited are Adm. John Downes, commandant of the Great Lakes, Ill., naval training station, and Adm. John Evers, U. S. N. R., Chicago.

The vessel will remain here several weeks for fitting out and then will go down to tidewater by way of the Mississippi river. She will tie up at the navy yard in New Orleans.

Immediately after launching, Smith workmen will lay the keel of the PC588, one of six sister ships of the PC496 for which the company has contracted.

TWO HUSBANDS SET FREE AFTER HOLIDAY IN JAIL

Two husbands who spent Thanksgiving day in adjoining cells at the Sheffield avenue police station faced Judge Edward Luczak in Town Hall court yesterday on disorderly conduct charges. Judge Luczak freed both.

Barton Hazzard, 32 years old, 2402 North Clark street, was placed on six months' probation when his wife, Betty, lived up to advance notices. Altho she had him arrested for the second time in a week, Hazzard had told police: "I have a swell wife. She never stays sore long." Yesterday she asked that he be placed on probation.

The other husband, Richard Moore, 41, who was arrested when police found him trying to kick down his own back door at 2956 Pine Grove avenue, explained to Judge Luczak that his troubles began when he tried to tell his bride, Nanette, how to prepare the turkey dressing and she chased him from the house. On his promise to stay out of the kitchen, Judge Luczak dismissed the charge against him.

ROBBED OF $65 AND VALUABLES.

Dr. Vincent A. O'Rourke of Tomahawk, Wis., a physician, was robbed of $65, a $750 ring, and a $65 watch early yesterday at Harrison street and Wabash avenue.

PAROLEE TRYING TO FLEE IS SLAIN BY STATE POLICE

Allegan, Mich., Nov. 21 (AP).—Clarence Shulters, 35 year old parolee from southern Michigan state prison, was shot and killed today by state police who had trailed him to his brothers' farm house here. Shulters disregarded three warning shots in his effort to escape, police said, and was killed as he tried to climb a wire fence.

State police had a warrant for Shulters' arrest on a charge of holding up an Otsego, Mich., gasoline station Oct. 15. They said they were told of his whereabouts by a 17 year old farm girl who told them she had been ejected from Shulters' automobile near Kalamazoo at 4:15 a. m.

Shulters was sentenced in 1935 on an armed robbery charge at Allegan, and paroled last Dec. 24.

Road Deaths Total 235 in Illinois for October

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 21 (AP).—Traffic fatalities on Illinois highways totaled 235 in October, an increase of 13 per cent over the corresponding month last year, the state highway division reported today. Traffic volume was estimated to have increased 10 per cent. For the first 10 months of 1941, highway accident deaths reached 2,054, an increase of 11 per cent over the comparative period last year.

Today's Features

ON W-G-N.
[Central standard time.]

W-G-N's football broadcast for today will be a play-by-play account of the Northwestern-Illinois game. Originating from Dyche stadium in Evanston, the game will be reported by Bob Elson starting at 1:15 p. m. A highlight of the broadcast will be presented at halftime when three of Northwestern's stars—Ike Kepford, George Benson, and Buss Heagy—will be inducted into the United States naval aviation cadets corps. They will be sworn in by Capt. W. F. Amsden, director of the United States naval reserve for the 9th naval district. Kenneth L. [Tug] Wilson, athletic director of Northwestern, will act as master of ceremonies.

A description of the launching of the U. S. S. Indiana, newest battleship, will be aired over W-G-N at 11 a. m. The program will be presented from Newport News, Va.

Radio's Voice, the interview show presented by Guy Savage from the outer lobby of the Chicago theater, is scheduled at noon. Guy also will be heard on the Musical Scoreboard immediately following the football game.

The orchestra which, according to latest coast-to-coast tabulations, made the recording that outsold all others this week, will be featured on the Spotlight Band program at 9:15 p. m.

LOYALTY CALLED H. M. HODGSON'S CARDINAL TRAIT

Funeral of News Editor of Tribune Held.

The funeral of Horace M. [Red] Hodgson, news editor of THE TRIBUNE, was conducted yesterday afternoon in Flossmoor Community church. Mr. Hodgson, a member of the staff for 18 years, died Wednesday in the Ingalls Memorial hospital, Harvey, after a month's illness. He was 41 years old.

The Rev. John Evans, religion editor of THE TRIBUNE, conducted the services, assisted by the Rev. Henry F. Maxwell, pastor of the church. The Rev. Mr. Evans spoke of loyalty as the keynote of Mr. Hodgson's character—loyalty to his family, his employer, and his colleagues, but above all loyalty to the news.

A Story of Verbs, Not Adjectives.

Choosing the symbolism of the newspaper vocabulary, the Rev. Mr. Evans said the mourners had gathered to place "30"—printers' symbol for finis—at the end of a superbly written news story. It was, he said, a story which did not depend upon clumsy adjectives, but upon active verbs to tell the facts of vibrant creativity.

Mrs. Kendall Shankland of Flossmoor played a program of organ music. George Woodrich of Flossmoor sang, "In the Time of Roses," and Mrs. Robert H. Morel of Clifton, Ill., concluded the service by singing, "The End of a Perfect Day."

U. of I. Representatives Attend.

Among those who were present at the services were Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of THE TRIBUNE; Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works; A. J. Janata, assistant to the president of the University of Illinois, and Herbert O. Rice of the Illini Publishing company, with which Mr. Hodgson began his newspaper work while an undergraduate in the University of Illinois.

1 KILLED, 2 HURT IN AUTO CRASH ON N. WEST SIDE

One man was killed and two persons were injured seriously in a two car crash last night at Harlem and Lawrence avenues. The dead man was William C. Chisholm, 31 years old, 421 South Ridgeland avenue, Oak Park, a salesman. Those injured are John Francisco Jr., 21, also a salesman, and his wife, Hazel, 19. They were taken to the Edgewater hospital.

Maurice Drubeck, 39, of 69 East Cedar street, an engineer in the city water department, was killed Thursday night when his automobile collided head-on with a car containing four soldiers near Lebanon, Mo. Drubeck's wife was injured. Two of the soldiers were killed. The Drubecks were on the way to a dude ranch in Arizona.

Marvin Zoumah, 12, colored, of 2212 South Dearborn street, died in Mercy hospital of injuries suffered when he was struck by a truck at 26th and State streets. Alex Wagner, 22, of 2807 Normal avenue, was the driver.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 844 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 588 were killed in Chicago, where 23,381 were injured in the same period.

APPROVE FINAL ACCOUNTING OF SWIFT ESTATE

The final accounting of the estate of Louis F. Swift, one of the founders of Swift & Co., was approved yesterday by Judge John F. O'Connell of Probate court.

During the probating of the estate, valued at between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 under an inventory filed after Swift's death on May 12, 1937, the court approved 10 claims totaling $4,652,082.

The final accounting called for distribution to trustees of $799,933 and real estate in Lake Forest and Santa Barbara, Cal., for payment to the beneficiaries. The principal beneficiaries are a son, Louis F. Swift Jr. of Wheaton; a daughter, Mrs. Ida May Swift Minotto of Pheonix, Ariz., and the widow and three children of another son, Alden B. Swift.

BRUBAK

SEAWAY PLAN GETS APPROVAL OF HOUSE GROUP

But Minority Fights It as Waste.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—A minority report of the house rivers and harbors committee today assailed construction of the proposed St. Lawrence seaway and power project after a majority of the committee approved it as part of a billion dollar waterway program under administration sponsorship.

The omnibus waterway bill would authorize a total of 236 projects including the highly controversial St. Lawrence project, for which 200 millions would be authorized now; the 197 million dollar Florida ship canal, twice killed in the senate by the opposition of Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.]; the 60 million dollar Alabama-Coosa waterway; the 66 million dollar Tennessee-Tombigbee waterway; a 15 million dollar Trinity river, Tex., project; the 48 million dollar Beaver-Mahoning canal in Ohio and Pennsylvania; the 49 million dollar Umatilla dam in Oregon and Washington, and a 28 million dollar reservoir near Augusta, Ga.

Dangle Pork Barrel Projects.

It was these pork barrel projects which were dangled before the eyes of recalcitrant Democrats last week to bring them into line for passage of the neutrality act revisions.

While the majority report contended that complete development of the waterways would prove a valuable asset to the nation, the minority report of seven committee members charged that the St. Lawrence project particularly would be a waste of money. The minority declared that instead of costing $429,475,000, as proponents claim, the total cost of the St. Lawrence scheme would be more than a billion dollars after necessary harbor improvements had been made at Great Lakes ports.

The project is not immediately vital to the national security, and power projects envisioned in it would be useless because the peak of the rearmament effort would be passed by the time they are installed, it was argued.

Could Produce Better by Steam.

"Power must be obtained when and where it is needed, and there is a great volume of testimony in the record that it could be produced more speedily and economically by steam plant production," the minority said. The report declared that all sections of the waterway would be vulnerable to air attack.

The minority argued that the waterway would be of relatively little value in developing the shipbuilding facilities of the Great Lakes because the 27 foot waterway would restrict Great Lakes building to ships of 10,000 tons and less.

"Great Lakes yards could contribute no more to national defense than they are now contributing in the construction of submarines, mine sweepers, and trawlers," it said.

The minority report against the St. Lawrence project was submitted by Rep. Alfred F. Beiter [D., N. Y.] and signed by the following additional members of the committee: Robert L. Rodgers [R., Pa.], Leonard W. Hall [R., N. Y.], George H. Bender [R., Ohio], Hugh Peterson [D., Ga.], Frank C. Osmers Jr. [R., N. J.], and William T. Schulte [D., Ind.].

Eight Sign General Opposition.

Eight minority members, including Beiter, Schulte, Osmers, Hall, Rodgers, Representatives C. Jasper Bell [D., Mo.], George A. Dondero [R., Mich.], and Albert E. Carter [R., Cal.] also signed an overall report opposing the entire omnibus bill without mentioning specific projects, on the grounds that the expenditures in money and energy could be better used on the rearmament program.

In submitting the majority report, Rep. Joseph J. Mansfield [D., Tex.], committee chairman, said he did not expect to request immediate consideration of the bill, and the house probably would not consider it before Jan. 1.

Steel Making Cut Further by Coal Strike

With five more blast furnaces closed yesterday in the Pennsylvania-Ohio area, the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, chief steel making subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, was expected to reduce its production rate 20 per cent in that district as a result of the coal strike.

The banking of the furnaces raised the total closed by the company to 11, nine in the east and one each at the South Chicago and Gary, Ind., works. The latest shutdowns affected two at Clairton, Pa., and one each at Youngstown, O.; Rankin, Pa., and Duquesne, Pa.

Coke Ovens Need Coal.

The curtailment was forced by the shortage of coal to maintain full operations at the company's Clairton coke oven plant which furnishes most of the coke for blast furnaces in that area.

Officials were reported planning to reduce operating employés' working hours as pig iron output of the blast furnaces diminished and open hearth furnaces, which convert the pig iron into steel ingot, were shut down.

Altho Carnegie-Illinois executives earlier had indicated that one battery of 70 coke ovens at Joliet would have to be closed, additional coal was received to continue all the 280 ovens there in full operation. However, they said the coal supply was not sufficient for sustained operations and ovens would have to be closed if the strike continued.

Chicago Operations Drop.

The company has 21 blast furnaces going in the Chicago area, 10 at South Chicago and 11 at Gary. Ingot operations of the company's plants in this district were estimated to have dropped from 98 per cent of theoretical capacity to 88 per cent.

If the strike is prolonged and spreads further into commercial mines, other mills in the Chicago district may have to curtail operations, steel men said.

CIO ASKS UNION VOTE IN MILLS OF CARNEGIE STEEL

A petition asking exclusive bargaining rights for 33,000 workers of the Carnegie Illinois Steel corporation was filed yesterday with the National Labor Relations board by the Steel Workers Organizing committee [CIO]. The petition involves the sheet and tin mills and the Gary works of the corporation.

Robert C. Williams, NLRB trial examiner, called an informal hearing on the petition for Tuesday morning with officials of the company, the SWOC, and an American Federation of Labor union which also has members in the plant.

Signs Cuban Bill Accepting U. S. Loan of 25 Millions

HAVANA, Cuba, Nov. 21.—President Fulgencia Batista tonight signed the bill authorizing contracting a loan of 25 million dollars from the United States Export-Import bank. The money will be used for public works, agricultural development, and other projects.

ALL OF SWIFT HOURLY WORKERS TO BE GIVEN FULL OVERTIME RATES

Swift & Co. announced yesterday it will pay all hourly paid meat plant employés time and a half for overtime, disregarding a recent court interpretation of the wage and hour law which permits employés "handling, slaughtering, or dressing live stock" to work in excess of 40 hours at straight time during 14 weeks of the year.

John Holmes.

The company also will make back wage payments to all hourly paid meat plant employés, bringing their overtime pay to double time for the period since the wage hour law went into effect in 1938.

Company officials estimated 30,000 employés are affected by yesterday's announcement.

John Holmes, president of the meat packing company, explained that paying only straight time for overtime work to part of the employés, as permitted under the decision, would "establish a discriminatory overtime policy."

ARMY FURLOUGH PLAN CHANGED TO HELP RAILS

The war department has made changes in its customary holiday furlough program in an attempt to help the railroads with their problem of moving an indicated record volume of Christmas-New Year passenger traffic, a spokesman for the carriers announced yesterday.

Hugh W. Siddall, chairman of the railroads' interterritorial military committee, said the most important of the adjustments made by the army were: Staggering of furloughs so that not more than half of the soldiers will be away from army quarters at one time; granting of longer leaves where necessary to aid transportation, and starting the furloughs several days earlier than usual.

Siddall said the problem which the roads laid before the war department was this: Civilian passenger traffic so far this year has been running an average of 26 per cent larger than in 1940. In addition, the roads face the usual holiday student rush. About 1½ million men are in the army and the bulk of these will require round trip transportation over the holidays.

He said the navy and the marine corps, while not having so many men to move as the army, likewise are cooperating in the program.

Refuse to Exempt Felt Slippers from Label Act

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 [Special].—The Federal Trade commission today denied the plea of felt slipper manufacturers to exempt their products from labeling requirements of the wool products act. The FTC held that despite producer claims, felt slippers are not of insignificant or inconsequential textile content, but generally are products which come within the scope of the act.

Rail Pay Fight Tossed Back to Roosevelt

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Negotiations between representatives of railroad management and labor broke down tonight, tossing the threat of a railroad strike back into the hands of President Roosevelt.

A special night conference of parties to the dispute adjourned abruptly. According to A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, further conferences were believed useless when the carrier representatives declared they would stand by the recommendations of the President's fact finding board in the dispute. The board had recommended wage increases less than those demanded by the brotherhoods.

Declares Strike Order Stands.

Whitney said the strike called for Dec. 7 by the five operating brotherhoods stands. The disputants had agreed to resume negotiations only upon the express request of Mr. Roosevelt. They held a conference this afternoon, but little or no progress was reported then.

F. G. Gurley, chairman of the negotiators for the railroads, reported that the afternoon conferees listened to what both sides had to say, but no specific proposals were discussed.

Prior to that conference, President Roosevelt discussed the dispute with representatives of the five railroad operating brotherhoods.

"It is agreed," said Whitney upon leaving the White House, "that both parties will undertake to work out a settlement of the differences and we are meeting with the railroads for that purpose. I think the President's approach to the problem is very fine and I know that labor does not want to embarrass the President or the President's national defense program."

Pelley Confers with Roosevelt.

Later John J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, also conferred with Mr. Roosevelt.

A strike has definitely been called for Dec. 7 by the five operating brotherhoods, involving 350,000 employés. The 14 nonoperating brotherhoods, covering 800,000 employés, haven't set a strike date, but have rejected the recommendations of the special Presidential fact-finding board for pay increases. The railroad workers requested a 30 per cent pay boost, but the board recommended a 7½ per cent increase for the operating employés and 13½ per cent for the nonoperating employés.

HARVESTER FIRM ADOPTS PAID UP INSURANCE PLAN

The International Harvester company announced yesterday it had adopted a group life insurance plan under which employés receive paid up insurance which belongs to them individually, regardless of whether they remain in the service of the company.

Approved by 80 per cent of the employés, the plan will go into force Jan. 1, providing approximately 100 million dollars' worth of life insurance for 65,000 employés. The company estimated the cost of the new plan, plus additional sickness, accident and hospital protection, at $760,000 a year.

Another group plan, under which term life insurance will remain in force during employment by the company, will be continued.

Vega Votes for Merger; Lockheed Ballot Delayed

Burbank, Cal., Nov. 21 [Special].—Stockholders of the Vega Airplane company approved today a plan for the merger of that company into the Lockheed Aircraft corporation, but the vote of Lockheed share holders was postponed to Nov. 27 pending receipts of additional proxies.

NEW SUBSIDIES OFFERED TO AID FLOUR EXPORTS

U. S. Owned Wheat Will Be Used.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—A new export subsidy plan for wheat and flour, expected to stimulate trade with countries to the south, was announced today by the department of agriculture.

Government stocks of wheat, acquired under price supporting loans, will be sold to wheat and flour exporters at less than domestic wheat prices.

The exact discounts or subsidies were not made public, on the ground that this information would give other wheat exporting areas a competitive advantage. They said the prices would be low enough to allow United States exporters to compete with wheat from Canada, Argentina, and other sources.

Includes Philippine Islands.

The subsidies or reduced prices will be available on exports of wheat and flour to the northern tier of countries in South America, all of Central America, islands in the Caribbean and Pacific, the Philippines, and the Virgin Islands.

The department announcement said that the export sales would be permitted "to Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador and to any country or place north of such countries in the Americas and the adjacent islands, and to islands east of the Americas lying on or west of 40 degrees west longitude."

Department spokesmen said this designation would not include Iceland or any of the Japanese mandated islands in the Pacific and that the plan did not include Puerto Rico, Alaska or the Canal Zone.

174 Million Bushels Available.

The Commodity Credit corporation, government agency which makes crop loans, reported about 174 million bushels of wheat from 1939 and 1940 crops available for the export program. It said much of this wheat had been moved to ports and other terminals to make storage space available for 1941 loan wheat.

Because congress ordered higher price supporting loans on this year's wheat crop, Commodity Credit spokesman said that the 1939 and 1940 stocks could be moved into export trade at less than prevailing prices, without resulting in losses to the government.

The Surplus Marketing administration will purchase the wheat from Commodity Credit under the export plan. The identical wheat or the equivalent quantity may be exported under sales approved by the Surplus Marketing administration.

Added to Present Subsidy.

The new plan will operate until July 1, 1942 and detailed regulations have been sent to regional offices in Chicago, Kansas City, Mo., Minneapolis, and Portland, Ore.

The new program is in addition to an export subsidy on flour offered by the Surplus Marketing administration in recent years.

ARGENTINA REPORTED WILLING TO BAN AXIS TRADE, SELL TO U. S.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Nov. 21.—Progress was reported today in negotiation of an agreement whereby the United States would undertake to buy all of Argentina's unexported surpluses of certain classes of goods.

A decisive step forward has apparently been taken in consequence of Argentina's decision to accede to the United States' request that in exchange for the certainty of finding a market for all of its production of certain commodities, Argentina should give assurances that for a period of three years it will not sell to the axis powers any goods that may help them in carrying on the war.

It is understood the United States has offered to buy all of Argentina's surplus linseed, various metals, hides, wool, dairy products, and other similar goods.

[The Argentine ministry of agriculture reported yesterday that wool exports to the United States this year were expected at least to equal the 120,000 metric tons sent in 1940-'41. Last year Argentina exported a total of 192,000 metric tons. She consumed 30,000 and carried over 33,000. If this year's crop conforms to forecasts it will approximate 200,000 tons, making the total stock 233,000. The percentage available for the United States is expected to be larger in view of the disappearance of many overseas markets.]

More Price Freezing Sought; Ceiling Put on Paraffin Wax

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Price Administrator Leon Henderson today asked 1,200 manufacturers of mattresses, bed springs, studio couches, and pillows to hold their prices down to recent levels, and made the same request to manufacturers of railroad cars, locomotives, and equipment. He also ordered establishment of a price ceiling on paraffin wax.

Henderson sent letters to companies in the bedding industry asking them not to boost prices above the level of Nov. 1. He said their products played an important part in controling prices of household goods generally.

Henderson asked the manufacturers of railroad rolling stock, signal equipment and maintenance materials not to increase prices above the level of Oct. 1.

Locomotive builders and specialty manufacturers were invited to come to Washington Tuesday for a meeting similar to a recent conference with railroad car and signal equipment manufacturers.

Henderson announced also that restrictions on further price increases on heating and refrigerating coils would be studied at a meeting of 22 manufacturers and wholesalers in Washington Monday. Affected by the proposed price ceiling will be water heaters, radiators, unit heaters, coolers, and air conditioners.

The paraffin wax schedules, effective Dec. 1, provide for a maximum on base grades of 4.25 cents a pound for crude scale wax and 5.20 cents for refined wax. The ceilings vary according to grade and melting point, but the level on refined wax is approximately the same as prices currently quoted and the ceiling on crude scale wax is below prevailing prices.

Paraffin wax is used in the manufacture of waxed, waterproofed, and photographic papers, lubricating and electrical insulating composition, waterproofing, explosives, floor and furniture polishes, candles, and in coating paper cartons for various materials.

TEACHERS ASK PRICE CURB.

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP).—The national education association, urging a curb on rising commodity prices, wrote Price Administrator Leon Henderson today that "thousands of teachers" have left their jobs for better paid work in arms industries and that a serious shortage of teachers was reported. The letter described how teachers' salaries are now worth less "in paying the grocery bill and other costs of living."

Extra Dividend of $4.50 Voted by Gun Maker

Dividend declarations by companies yesterday included many more extras or increases over preceding payments, and several resumptions of payments after lapses of as long as 10 years.

George A. Ranney announces Peoples Gas dividend of $1.

Directors of the Colt's Patent Fire Arms Manufacturing company, Hartford, Conn., declared an extra dividend of $4.50 and a dividend of $1.50 on the common shares bringing the year's total to $8.50 a share, compared with $6 in 1940. A 50 cent payment was made in September.

Morrell Votes 75 Cents Extra.

Other extras in addition to regular payments were authorized by the following companies: John Morrell, Ottumwa, Ia., meat packer, 75 cents; James Talcott, Inc., New York, a finance company, 10 cents, bringing the year's total to 60 cents against 40 cents in 1940; Viking Pump company, Cedar Falls, Ia., $1 special; Yellow Truck and Coach Manufacturing company, Pontiac, Mich., 50 cents on the class B shares; Scott Paper company, Chester, Pa., 20 cents; National Casualty Company of Detroit, 33⅓ per cent stock dividend; General Box company, Chicago, 8 cents.

The Crucible Steel Company of America declared a $1 dividend, the first since $1.25 was paid on the old $100 par common shares in January, 1931. Alles & Fisher, Boston, Mass., cigar maker, authorized a 12½ cent payment against a preceding payment of 10 cents in April, 1935.

Gas Company Votes $1.

Directors of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, Chicago, declared a quarterly dividend of $1, bringing the year's total to $6, compared with $3 in 1940, George A. Ranney, chairman, announced. This is the second $1 payment authorized since the quarterly rate was increased Aug. 23 from the preceding payment of 75 cents.

Swift & Co., and Marshall Field & Co., both of Chicago, authorized regular quarterly payments.

Companies which increased dividends over preceding payments, or brought the year's total above last year's, included: American Car and Foundry company, quarterly payment of $1.75 on the preferred shares bringing the year's total to $9.04 against no payments in 1940; Johns-Manville corporation, New York, 75 cents making $3 this year against $2.75 in 1940; Boss Manufacturing company, Kewanee, Ill., maker of working gloves, brought payments this year to $11 against $10 in 1940.

[For record and payment dates of these and other dividends see page 23.]

Predict Big Rise in Crude Oil Needs for December

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—The bureau of mines today forecast the December market demand for domestic crude oil at 128,310,000 barrels, or 4,139,000 barrels daily. This was 69,000 barrels higher than the estimated daily demand for November and 756,000 barrels daily above the actual demand for December, 1940.

WORK ON PLAN TO BILL CAR OWNERS FOR NEW FEDERAL $5 USE LEVY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Tentative treasury plans for collection of the new $5 a year federal automobile use tax called today for the mailing of bills to an estimated 35 million automobile owners by a commercial publishing concern.

Altho no final signatures have been affixed, the contract has been drawn up for R. L. Polk and company, for about $400,000, to compile the list of automobile owners from state registration lists and mail out bills.

Under the law recently enacted, automobile owners would be required to pay $2.09 for a sticker good from Feb. 1 until July 1 of next year. Then a sticker would be required at a cost of $5 for the following year.

MODIFIES SLASH IN PRODUCTION OF TRUCK PARTS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Limitations imposed on the output of repair and replacement parts for automobiles and light trucks were modified today by Priorities Director Donald M. Nelson.

The original order provided that spare parts makers could produce, from Sept. 15 to the end of the year, 60 per cent of the number of parts sold by them in the first six months of the year. This worked a hardship on many producers who have their heaviest output in the latter part of the year, Nelson said.

The new amendment provides that a producer may select either the first six months of this year or the last six months of 1940 as the base period.

Auto Assemblies Dip.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 21 (AP).—Car and truck production this week, according to Ward's Reports, Inc., will total 76,820 units, declining because of the Thanksgiving day holiday. The total compares with 92,990 last week and 104,440 this week a year ago.

SCRAP DEALERS WARNED TO OBEY OPM ALLOCATION

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—The Office of Production Management priorities division advised iron and steel scrap dealers today that they were expected to "comply fully and immediately" with OPM scrap allocation orders.

The OPM currently is making many allocations daily, because of the current scrap shortage, to assist operations of steel mills with armament orders. Even a short delay in compliance with an allocation may interfere with mill production, the priorities division asserted.

Under general preference orders covering scrap distribution, violators of the orders can be prohibited from making or receiving deliveries of scrap. Undue delay in making allocated deliveries can be classed as a violation, the division said.

Investment Association Indorses Tramway Plan

The Dominion Mortgage and Investments association said yesterday that the plan for reorganizing the bond structure of the Montreal Tramways company "merits the support of all classes of security holders." The plan, announced a few weeks ago, was proposed by the company, which owns the street railway system of that city.

PRICE CONTROL GETS RIGHT OF WAY IN HOUSE

Permit Considering of Wage Rule.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Long awaited price control legislation was given right-of-way to the house floor today after members of the rules committee said they had obtained assurances from the Democratic leadership that measures to curb strikes in armament industries would be next in line.

Rep. E. E. Cox explains procedure.

The rules committee voted for procedure under which the "selective" price control bill recommended by the house banking committee will be open to all germane amendments. Rep. E. E. Cox [D., Ga.] explained that this would permit all provisions of the over-all price control measure sponsored by Rep. Albert Gore [D., Tenn.], except one dealing with recapture of excess armament profits, to be offered as a substitute. Thus, the house will have a chance to vote on whether to regulate wages as well as prices.

One Would Freeze Wages.

The banking committee bill would empower a price administrator to place "ceilings" on prices which threatened to get out of line. It would not permit regulation of wages. The Gore bill, on the other hand, would "freeze" all prices, wages, and rents of a selected date and permit adjustments up or down as the necessity arose.

Majority Leader John W. McCormack [D., Mass.] said the price bill would be called up for two days of debate starting Monday. Rules committeemen, assuming that it could be disposed of in the same week, expressed belief that the labor issue would be tackled the following Monday.

One committeeman said "a very early announcement" would be forthcoming on the labor question, presumably from the administration when the house meets Monday.

Baruch Urges Controls.

Bernard M. Baruch, World war head of the war industries board, told the committee that unless congress acts immediately to control prices the nation will be in "a situation acutely dangerous." He renewed his advocacy of "over-all" price control legislation rather than the "selective" type recommended by the administration.

The rules committee, making an unusual exception to its usual custom of hearing only members of congress, asked Baruch to appear in person.

"Due to the depth of my conviction that we should protect our people against inflation, a characteristic of all wars," Baruch said, "I believe protection should be established, not here and there, but everywhere. To me that means the over-all bill."

HOLIDAY UPSWING IN RETAIL SALES REPORTED BY DUN

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—The usual holiday upswing in sales appeared in retail stores this week, aided substantially by preparations for Thanksgiving, fall clearances and early Christmas shopping, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today.

"Shoppers' greater emphasis on wearing apparel and other soft goods," the agency review said, "indicated a definite shift from the durable type of merchandise which was most in demand during the buying spree of August and September.

"The wholesale market was kept fairly busy during the week with retailers' recorders but again there was little additional purchasing for inventory increase. Manufacturers also reported a comparative lull in new orders."

For the country as a whole the agency estimated retail turnover at 15 to 22 per cent above a year ago.

DU PONT

E. I. DU PONT DE NEMOURS & COMPANY

WILMINGTON, DELAWARE: November 17, 1941

The Board of Directors has declared this day a dividend of $1.12½ a share on the outstanding Preferred Stock, payable January 24, 1942, to stockholders of record at the close of business on January 9, 1942; also $1.75 a share, as the "year-end" dividend for 1941, on the outstanding Common Stock, payable December 13, 1941, to stockholders of record at the close of business on November 24, 1941.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC RISES AGAINST NORMAL TREND

In contrast with the normal seasonal downward trend, revenue freight loadings by railroads during the week ended Nov. 15 increased 10,284 cars, or 1.2 per cent over the preceding week, to a total of 883,839 cars, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday.

Last week's total showed an increase of 138,544 cars, or 18.6 per cent, over the corresponding 1940 week.

Loadings of the various commodities compare as follows:

Seek to Expand Production of 'Foods England Needs'

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (AP).—Two moves to expand production of foods needed by England were announced by the agriculture department today. Canners and growers of the four major canned vegetable crops—tomatoes, green beans, corn, and peas—were called here for a conference Nov. 27 and 28 with officials of the surplus marketing administration on means of expanding these crops. At the same time SMA officials asked an increase in production of dry skim milk to meet England's request for 200 million pounds.

News of Securities Issues

West Texas Utilities corporation, an indirect operating subsidiary of Middle West corporation, was reported yesterday to be considering the refunding of its 18 million dollars of series A first mortgage 3¾ per cent bonds due May 1, 1969. The new bonds would carry a lower coupon rate, it was indicated.

Joy Manufacturing company, mining equipment maker, called a special meeting of stockholders for Jan. 19 at Franklin, Pa., to vote on creation of 35,000 shares of $100 par value convertible preferred stock and an increase in the common stock from 500,000 shares to 750,000. The company proposes to offer publicly 25,000 shares of preferred to raise funds to pay bank loans and provide long term capital. The company said it was the first time it has sought equity capital from the public.

Preferred holders of Neisner Brothers, Inc., approved a plan to refund 2 million dollars of 6 per cent bonds of Neisner Brothers Realty corporation, a subsidiary. The old bonds will be called at 110 and a new issue of $2,200,000 of debentures will be sold to the State Mutual Life Insurance company of Worcester, Mass., and the Massachusetts Life Insurance company.

Superior Oil company of California has called for redemption on Dec. 22 at 103 and accrued interest all of its outstanding 3¼ per cent debentures due April 1, 1950.

The Hastings [Mich.] Manufacturing company, maker of piston rings and expanders, filed a registration statement at the Cleveland regional office of the Securities and Exchange commission for 140,400 shares of common stock, $2 par value. Of the total 23,100 unissued shares are to be offered for the account of the company and 117,300 outstanding shares are to be offered for the account of selling stockholders. The public offering price is $9.50 a share.

The Ruud Manufacturing company announced in Pittsburgh that its stockholders had authorized the board of directors to use "excess cash" to purchase up to 20 per cent of the outstanding common stock owned by each stockholder of the concern at $12 a share. The gas water heater manufacturing company said it would purchase 24,494 shares of the 122,471 shares outstanding if each stockholder sold 20 per cent of his holdings.

The sanitary district will meet Tuesday to accept and award bids for the sale of 3 million dollars of refunding bonds, it was announced yesterday. Proceeds from the sale of the bonds will be used to take up bonds with optional maturity dates and which are to be called Jan. 1.

RAILS SET PACE OF LATE RUN-UP IN STOCK PRICES

Market Is Logy at Times After Holiday.

New York, Nov. 21 (AP).—The stock market seemed a bit logy at times today after its Thanksgiving holiday, but it revived in the final hour to post gains of fractions to a point or so for favorites.

Rails were in front thruout, apparently reflecting a contra-seasonal increase in last week's freight loadings and growing belief the carrier wage dispute was due for quick settlement.

Altho many leaders refused to do much in the way of extending Wednesday's recovery shift and minus signs were plentiful at the last, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks ended with a net advance of .2 of a point at 40.

Tax Selling Lifts Volume.

Large blocks of low-priced issues, apparently liquidated for tax purposes, helped lift the volume to 853,840 shares compared with 800,960 in Wednesday's session.

The spreading coal strike, especially its threat to steel production, remained a market handicap but United States Steel and Bethlehem managed to emerge with gains after stumbling in the forenoon.

CHICAGO LISTS STRONG.

Prices tended higher on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, with 47 issues up, 27 down, and 49 unchanged at the close. Transactions totaled 32,000 shares.

Volume leaders were Chicago corporation, 5,250 shares, unchanged at ⅝, and Commonwealth Edison, 2,450 shares, up ⅛ to 22¼.

In the last half hour, after the New York close, Borg-Warner and United States Rubber each advanced ⅛, and Swift International ¼, while Republic Steel declined ⅛.

DRAFT ACT CUTS U. OF C. REVENUE AS COSTS CLIMB

Controler Daines Warns of Precarious Future.

The University of Chicago, which like other privately endowed institutions, still is struggling with the problem of low interest yields on investments, is facing a new and major squeeze, the annual report of Controler Harvey C. Daines said yesterday. The report was for the 51st fiscal year ended June 30, 1941.

The new "squeeze," Daines said, has resulted from a reduction in student revenues since July 1 thru the operation of the selective service act and from rising wages, salaries and other operating costs, including supplies.

"That an enhancement of dividends on stock holdings will counterbalance the effect of this double squeeze is dubious, because of restrictions on corporate earnings thru governmental price control and high income and excess profits taxes," Daines wrote.

Calls Future Precarious.

"This added pressure on a budget which has been highly compressed for more than a decade suggests a most precarious future. Events, past and pending, clearly indicate the growing insecurity of the financial structure of endowed and privately controled institutions.

"The University of Chicago, as well as many others, is still struggling with major readjustments necessitated by a declining return from endowment investments."

The rate of return on the average balances of the university's endowment funds for the 1940-'41 year was slightly higher than in the preceding fiscal year at 4.24 per cent against 4.17, but was far below the 6.2 per cent rate of return for 1929-'30.

Income Falls 32 Per Cent.

"This reduction of 1.96 per cent from the 1929-'30 leve' is equivalent to a decline of 32 per cent in rate of return or $1,435,819 in annual income if applied to the present endowment," Daines said. "Or, since endowment is of value only for the income produced, the reduction in capital productivity is, tantamount to a loss of 32 per cent in endowment principal."

Gross operating income of the university was $10,929,256 for the year, against $10,760,170 in the preceding year. Total expenditures rose to $10,826,767, from $10,749,609. Student fees were $2,533,460, against $2,522,408. Because the report covered the period ended June 30, it did not reflect the later decrease in enrollment.

"Beginning with July 1, 1941, a decline in registration has occurred, largely the result of the draft and other defense activities," Daines said.

Endowments Up Slightly.

Endowment income was $3,087,123, against $3,031,195 in the preceding year. The book value of the principal of the endowment funds as of last June 30 was $73,256,057, up $753,881 for the year. The total market value [including appraisals for real estate] of all investments owned by the university as of June 30 was $73,895,616, and was $3,036,560, or 3.9 per cent less than the book value of $76,932,176.

Real estate taxes on investment property paid directly by the university or indirectly by lessees amounted to $867,884, an increase of $34,498 over the preceding year.

Two Chicago Manufacturing Firms Plan Plant Expansion

BY AL CHASE.

Two Chicago manufacturing concerns outlined plans yesterday for large plant expansions. One will erect an entirely new building in a new location; the other will erect a large addition to its present plant if building materials can be obtained next spring.

Wire Sales company, now at 4712 Roosevelt road, wire fabricators, with 80 per cent of its business in armament program contracts, has bought a 352 by 130 foot site at 4640 West 54th street from Arthur E. Nelson, trustee for the Nels Nelson estate.

Work Already Started.

Work has been started on a one story plant to contain 17,000 square feet of floor space. The cost of land, building, and equipment will be $65,000. Nelson, the seller, has the general contract. The plans are by Buss & DeKreet.

Wire Sales company was organized in 1928 by C. J. Muntwyler, its president, and his wife, Bess O. Muntwyler, on a capital of $185—their combined savings. Its annual gross sales are now $300,000, Frederick C. Muntwyler, vice president and treasurer, said.

Steel Firm Plans Expansion.

The John Wood Manufacturing Co., Inc., maker of steel tanks, 4435 South Western avenue, yesterday bought 60 by 450 feet adjoining its plant on the north, from the Lehon company, for $30,000. Preliminary plans for a plant 400 feet long and 40 feet wide have been drawn by Alfred S. Alschuler and R. N. Friedman, with the expectation of building in the spring. It will cost about $100,000.

The concern has a half million dollars worth of government armament contracts for steel tanks for both the army and navy. It also will make powder boxes. It now employes 200 persons.

GRAIN TRADERS STAND ASIDE SO FUTURES DRIFT

Uncertainty over the future of price control legislation in congress caused a majority of large grain operators to stay on the side lines yesterday and trading in futures on the Chicago Board of Trade was unusually light.

Wheat, corn, oats and rye prices held within a range of about ⅝ cent a bushel, with wheat closing ¼ cent lower to ⅛ cent higher with December at $1.14¼. Final price changes in other grains were also narrow. Soy bean futures moved lower due to hedging pressure and on expectation that the cold wave would speed up harvesting. The close was at losses of ⅝ to ⅞ cent with December at $1.61½.

Cash grain handlers reported the best general demand for grain in the spot market for several weeks, all interests being fairly active buyers. Wet weather continued to delay harvesting in parts of the corn and soy bean sections of the central west, but reports from central Illinois indicated a resumption of bean combining in the drier areas.

STREET CAR SECURITIES.

I have noticed that Chicago Railways company bonds are selling on the stock exchanges at very low prices. Are they a good investment at these prices? What does the future hold for this company?—R. B.

Answer: Securities of the various units of the Chicago Surface [street car] Lines are in an unusual investment position. The companies—there are five of them including the Chicago Railways company—are financially independent corporations but operate in a unified system which has been in receivership for several years.

The franchise for use of Chicago streets expired a number of years ago, but it has been extended from time to time on a temporary basis.

Due to the uncertainty of eventual reorganizations under receiverships, and the question of the type of franchise which may be negotiated, securities of all the companies must be regarded as highly speculative.

Plans for reorganization now under consideration include consolidation of the Surface Lines with the company that operates the elevated system in Chicago and ultimately with the company holding the franchise for operation of buses in Chicago.

Investor's Guide does not attempt to predict the future market value of these or any securities. The future for these securities depends on the outcome of the receivership in federal court. It is uncertain when the final decision will be made and what will be the effect of the settlement on the various classes of securities outstanding.

A/B AND A/S.

Recently in this column you explained the meaning of the letters "A. G." used after the names of German corporations. Will you please tell me the meaning of the following letters I have found after the names of some Scandinavian companies: A/B and A/S.—C. P. B.

Answer: A/B after the name of a Norwegian company stands for aktie bolaget which means "limited company." A/S sometimes appears after the names of Swedish companies and stands for aktie selskabet which also means "limited company."

SAVED-BY-MARRIAGE-$750.

I acted as best man at a wedding Thanksgiving and am to be married myself during the Christmas holidays. Will our marriages reduce the amount of income tax my friend and I must pay?—G. L.

Answer: You and your friend may deduct $1,500 from your gross income if your gross income is less than $3,000 annually and you choose the new optional tax form for reporting your income. If you use the standard form, you may deduct only the prorated cl B, 50c extra.....Dec 23 Dec 9

BANKS' EXCESS RESERVES RISE MORE THIS WEEK

Chicago District Boosts Business Loans.

The amount of idle lendable funds piled up in banks increased 150 million dollars in the week ended Wednesday, the federal reserve board reported yesterday. The total, as represented by excess reserves, was 3 billion 690 million dollars, against 3 billion 540 millions a week earlier.

Member banks of the system in Chicago reported an increase of 5 million dollars in their commercial, industrial, and agricultural loans. A drop of 3 million dollars was reported by New York banks.

Details of the board's report follow:
